A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.
We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, thereby taking up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as
A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK
at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" " London, 7 sh. 6 d. (£0 10.
" " Frankfort, 87 fkr. 30 krtrs., "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT, in every respect perfectly sure, and in some respects, even Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at
96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.
Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

Morning Chronicle.

Out on the Plains.

A Kansas correspondent of the Chicago Post writes,—

I write you from Sheridan, the present inglorious end of the Kansas Pacific railroad, which, getting out of breath here, connects with all the principal cow-paths of the surrounding country; the strong points of the latter being, as far as I can learn, rattlesnakes, rheumatism, and revolvers! The sensation of seeing this end of the great railroad, lying like a severed artery in the desert, is akin to that of finding "a dead donkey," once in a life time, and something to be remembered.

To add to the interest of this "death in the desert," the trestle-work, upon which the road expires, just at the edge of the town, is used as an impromptu gallows by the "vigilants" of Sheridan, and since the place was located, several unfortunate gentlemen have been forwarded by this route, to a station at which the Kansas Pacific railroad does not yet stop.

Affairs are, however, not so bad after all, as I have been here three days, and during that time only one man killed. But this is a very low average; usually matters are a little more lively; and when operations are again commenced on the road, it is feared a good many will "die with their boots on," as it is significantly expressed here.

Exactly what the population of Sheridan is, would be hard to arrive at, as a census taken to-day would be all wrong to-morrow. Everything is temporary. The houses, like driftwood, only wait to float on, as soon as the K. P. R. R. can be galvanized along a little further.

To those restless spirits who feel that they can expand themselves by coming out here, I can only say—don't—proprietors of hand-organs, faro dealers, &c., expected. I always feel like doing the man who wrote "Fly to the Prairies," a bodily injury whenever I look out upon them; gully and bluff, bluff and gully—two hundred miles of barrenness. No houses, no farms, no place to go to, and no place to stay when you get there.

What possible objection the noble tribes of Catchanscalpem, who afflict these plains, can have to be driven off, is difficult to say. But certainly their objections in the matter make affairs unpleasant to the station and section men along the line between Sheridan and Fort Harker. A day or two at Wilson's Station, and the coal-mine near it, gave me a better idea of the Indian question, than the most voluminous report of the Commission could have done.

Every man you meet is a walking arsenal—watchful as a hawk, and always expecting a raid from the noble red man. Nothing could be more harrassing than this life. Working with one hand and fighting with the other; every indistinct object upon he prairie a possible Indian, who, thanks to a liberal Government, is armed a little better than his white "friend and brother."

Coming out here I was a firm believer in the "soft answer." But the state of affairs, together with the recent massacre upon the Saline, have effected a complete revolution in my sentiments. Now I sincerely regret the work of "civilization," or extermination, call it as you please, is going on so slowly. I can count seventy whites murdered in the county of Saline during the last three weeks, and, I am sorry to say, only two Indians.

The coal mine, of which I have spoken, is within five or six miles of the scene of the Saline massacre, and possibly the most dangerous locality upon the line of the road. While there, and out upon a geological expedition, in company with the scout of the station, Jim Mead, we were watched by a mounted Indian who, however, kept well out of range, evidently respecting our arms. At any other time I could have appreciated his horsemanship, but when he disappeared over a bluff, we were both much relieved, and sincerely hoped his next repast might result in his speedy departure to the happy hunting-ground, or to any other place from which he could not come back.

Herds of buffalo roam over this country in great numbers, but probably within a year or two will no longer be found, being driven still farther south, and it is to be hoped taking the "prairie barbers" with them. By an unusual vein of good luck, I managed to abolish while upon a scouting excursion, two seedy-looking buffaloes, which, so far from impressing me with their majesty, forcibly reminded me of a dilapidated hair-trunk I was once afflicted with when a schoolboy. A more disreputable pair of old scalawags have, I am certain, never moved in buffalo society. They seemed to creak as they went across the gullies, but managed to get along at a tremendous pace, so fast, indeed, that my pony, going at his best pace, could hardly bring me alongside of them.

It was poor fun, however, and after their transmigration was effected, I wished I had let them roam in their native dirt piles as I found them, mangy, gloomy and peculiar.

THE DURABILITY OF SHINGLES will be much increased by dipping them into tar and rosin boiled into a pitch, while boiling hot; they need not be dipped within six inches of the top. A good lively hand will do 2,000 per day, and boil the pitch. It expels all dampness and fills up all cracks and worm holes, and makes them next to slate. They have been on my house since 1856, lie very close, are sound, and to all appearance will last thirty years to come.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

☞ Supervisor John Logro of Rochester, has been recommissioned without reference to territory.

ISAAC HILL, of the New Hampshire Patriot, was in his day one of the leading men of New Hampshire, and filled most of the public offices. He was third Controller of the Treasury; afterwards Senator, an able one, too, and a good worker. While his reputation as a political writer was almost equal to that of the venerable Thomas Ritchie, of Richmond; yet his oratory was, like himself, very lame, which detracted from the force and effect of his read speeches. Fierce debates excited the Senate on banks and finance. The giants of that day — Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Benton, id est genus omne—had had their say. Mr. Hill did not rank and size with these in popular estimation, yet he was an able essayist.

To paper he resorted, and prepared an elaborate argument, which he was patiently reading to an impatient Senate and more impatient gallery (for then, as now, a great many persons "spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear, some new thing"), when his progress was arrested by failure to "make the connection." He "backed and filled" several times to no purpose, without solution of the difficulty.

At this juncture, his perplexity was relieved "from above." Mrs. Hill, being present in the gallery, listening to the parliamentary effort of her lord, startled the propriety of the place by exclaiming, "Mr. Hill, you've turned over two pages!" Thus relieved from embarrassment, the orator, somewhat damped in ardor by this faux pas, and his effort shorn of effect, plodded on to the end.

The Philadelphia Printers' Circular tells the above, in mentioning Mr. Hill as a member of the Washington Typographical Society; but the Circular does not allude to the other adventure of Br. Hill, when he appeared before that Society, (of all the world) to fulfill his agreement of delivering the annual address, and laying down a roll of manuscript on the desk, commenced thus: "Coming before you as I do, unexpectedly and unprepared," &c.

The Chronicle.

RAILROADS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE have made promising advancement since the late Albert Baker so speciously led the controlling and "fierce Democracie" of the State in opposition to the iron horse, that the retired veteran war-horse of the party, Isaac Hill, again went into harness and restored the Democracy to the progressive track by committing it in favor of granting the right of way for any feasible railway enterprise. Now, all the great valleys running lengthwise of the State are traversed daily by the locomotive; and that these public improvements have developed the same business utility and general benefit here as elsewhere, may readily be observed by the thousands of passengers in transit at this season of the year between the seaboard and the mountains.

We notice that the people of the central and lower portions of New Hampshire are now considerably agitated by projects for rival lines of road which shall ultimately be carried across the State, from the Connecticut river to the Piscataqua. One scheme is for a track from Concord to Rochester, which, in connection with the Concord & Claremont Railroad, will make a nearly straight line across the body of the State, and a direct link in the route from Portland to the West.

The other project is for a road from Nashua to Rochester, a distance of forty-five miles, in furtherance of which, as we learn from the Nashua Telegraph, an enthusiastic meeting was held in Lee on Tuesday afternoon. Hon. Jacob H. Ela of Rochester, Representative in Congress for the Rockingham District, made a telling speech, in which he said the Nashua & Rochester road was sure to be a pecuniary success, as it would have a large through business in addition to its local traffic. It would open a new route to the White Mountains from New York, the South and West, and be the shortest by twenty miles to Alton, Conway and the White Mountains. He stated that all the railroads of New Hampshire are paying a handsome dividend on their actual cost.

It is also claimed that this route is the shortest from Rochester to Boston by six miles, and that it is a natural highway for Maine, New York and the West. As there is a track already from Nashua to Wilton, the building of a few additional miles would connect this road with the Chesire and Connecticut River roads. On a diagonal line, a few miles of new track would connect the Concord & Claremont with the New Hampshire Central road running to Manchester, and thence to Lawrence, Mass. When all these improvements shall be completed, the territory of New Hampshire will be as well accommodated by railroads as any section of the country.—Boston Transcript.

The Transcript should have included the Portsmouth & Dover and the Lake Shore Railroads.

TO THE LOVERS OF HORSES.—If horses could speak, and thus give utterance to the joy they feel when, after a long drive on a hot and dusty day, they are reined up to a watering-trough provided by some thoughtful man to quench the thirst of his neighbor's beast, what words of thankfulness and grateful praise would they say in honor of their benefactors! But though they cannot speak, actions are often plainer than words, and he who has done this for them needs only to see the eagerness with which they quaff, and newness of life they obtain for his providence, to be repaid an hundred-fold. For the past five years a good portion of my time has been spent upon the road, and more times than I could tell has my blessing gone forth for the man who regardeth the life of God's creatures.

One very warm day this summer I was riding along, and for miles no water was provided by the road-side for horses; at last I spied some and so did my horse, and I assure you he did not need to be guided to it. I unchecked him, and while he was drinking I wrote upon the trough, "God bless the man who hath provided water for the dumb beasts," and I am sure my horse said "Amen."

Friend of the Horse, the Cow, the Dog, are you among those who have never thought in this regard? If so, in the name of your neighbor—and regard your neighbor in the broad sense in which the Samaritan did when "A certain man fell among thieves"—I ask you to provide this comfort for all who may chance to pass your way.—Country Gentleman.

—A Missouri paper says it knows of a girl there who, one night last summer attended a ball, danced all night, went home in the morning, got breakfast, dinner and supper for ten harvest hands, did a two weeks washing and the milking, made a calico dress, practised her music lesson, walked to town in the evening to attend a concert, and walked home again before bedtime."

—Last year's raisin crop, at Malaga, was the greatest ever raised, amounting to very near two million boxes. It will be a third smaller this year. If this is all the diminution, there will be an ample supply.

READ THIS.
A SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. As it was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Oftentimes I had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhea, dysentery or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

☞ PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN-KILLER.—We clip the following from the Providence General Advertiser: At this season of the year, when cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery, and other kindred complaints are sure to prevail, everybody should be liberal'y supplied with the PAIN-KILLER. Persons leaving home whether it be for a day's excursion or a trip to Europe, should be in a condition to place their hands on it at a moments warning. Many diseases incident to the summer months which will prove fatal if not immediately checked, can be promptly cured by one or two doses of the Pain-Killer. On more than one occasion have we been relieved of intense suffering by the timely use of the above named preparation." Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Medicine Dealers. jy13 4w

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 3w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Mr. Daniel J. Calef, of Salisbury, went to his barn on the morning of Saturday, the 14th, and found a valuable horse dead in his stall, which was covered with blood. The animal, which was valued at $250, is supposed to have broken a blood vessel.

Annie W., daughter of A. G. Hurlbut, Esq., of Troy, was recently crossing the bridge near the blanket mill. She stopped to drop stones in the water, got too near the edge of the bridge, and accidently dropped herself into the water, falling twelve feet. A gentleman dived after her and brought her out in safety.

We learn from the Telegraph that an Irishman named Sullivan left Wilton on the morning of Sunday, the 15th, with his family, leaving unpaid bills to the amount of four or five hundred dollars. He had been an industrious man and was supposed to have accumulated about $4,000. He drew $1300 from one of the banks in Nashua a few days ago, and also quite a sum from the bank of Milford, and took it all with him. He is not likely to return in a hurry.

Jones, who has been employed by the Concord Railroad seventeen years, in various capacities,—a portion of that time as conductor,—has succeeded Mr. Biddle as Depot Master.

THE FEARNAUGHT HORSE STOCK, it would really seem, is rightly named, and has little to fear of being distanced by any other blood. Old Fearnaught himself, now ten or eleven years old, we believe, and a bright sorrel or light bay in color, is owned in Boston by Mr. Benj. S. Wright, who sets a mint of money by him, and is always ready to match him or his stock against any other trotting horses. Mr. Wright also owns Fearnaught Jr. a prime four year old trotting colt he bought a year or two since in Stratham; and there are others also in Boston, and elsewhere abroad, that are very highly esteemed by their owners and horse men generally.

The original Fearnaught was raised by Mr. Wm. G. Brown of Stratham, and was sired by Young Morrill,—the dam being an old and excellent family mare still belonging to Mr. Greenleaf C. Brown of that town. This mare, a bright bay in color, with black points, was driven to this city by Mr. Brown senior, Tuesday, and chanced to be hitched to a post at our office door. She has always been worked on the farm, and has long been known as a hard one to beat on the road; and although now upwards of 21 years old, is literally sound and smooth as a colt—but, though kind and gentle in all harness and for any work, yet such is her spirit, that she would make it warm work now, for any driver who should apply too much whip.

The Messrs. Brown have now quite a stock farm at Stratham. First and foremost, they think, of all Fearnaught stock, is the black stallion, Fearnaught Prince, now five years old, and upwards of 16 hands high, and which has been used for stock for the past two years or more. We saw him a week or two since, and he has grown much and filled out handsomely since last year. He has never been speeded under the watch, but the neighbors and those who know him, evidently have a high opinion of his way of going, and his rate of speed. The Prince is a son of old Fearnaught, from a Newmarket mare of fine blood, noted for game and speed; and he is a magnificent horse to look at, this year.

Mr. Brown also has another black stallion,—a little fellow only a year old, an own brother to Fearnaught, out of the old mare by Young Morrill, — to whom the mare is again in foal, we believe. This colt of course is very highly prized—$3000 being asked for him now, we think, and he is very naturally the object of great expectations, which we hope he may realize for his very gentlemanly owners.

Mr. Brown also has several other young animals, of this stock, including a game-looking four-year-old mare, black, and well worth a cool thousand to somebody, we venture to say. And the more he sees and tries the blood, the more fully is he convinced of its excellence. It is to be hoped that a full display of this, and all other good horse stock in this vicinity, will be made at the coming Piscataqua Fair.

And one great recommendation of the Morrill stock, including the Fearnaughts, and especially the Prince,—is their excellent good tempers and uniform docility.

☞ Adj. Gen. Head gives notice by circular, that although several thousands of the beautifully engraved Testimonials of Honor have already been issued to New Hampshire officers and soldiers, or their heirs, and notwithstanding his efforts to give the measure such a general publicity that none would be ignorant of it, he is aware that very many have as yet heard nothing of the existence of these Testimonials. They are issued to all officers and soldiers who served in New Hampshire organizations and received therefrom an honorable discharge, or to their heirs, if deceased; and to sailors, marines, and those who served in the regular army, or in the colored troops, from this State, during the late war, or to their heirs. Applications made by letter, or otherwise, giving Company and Regiment, will be promptly filled, free of postal or other expense.

Gen. Head also calls attention to the fact that his office at Concord is a registry for all original discharges, final statements, certificates of merit, brevets, or other original papers or documents belonging to or in any way affecting the military or naval record or claim for service of any officer, soldier or seaman of this State, who served during the late rebellion in the army or navy of the United States, which may be brought to him for that purpose; and all parties desiring to avail themselves of the benefits of the above can do so by forwarding such papers as are specified, which will be promptly recorded and returned. In the event of such original papers becoming lost, this record might be of inestimable value to the soldier or his heirs, in the future.

PRESIDENT OF THE BOSTON & MAINE R. R.—The following article we copy from the Dover Enquirer.

We learn that at a late meeting of the Directors of the Boston & Maine Railroad, Mr. Cogswell, the President, made known his purpose not to be again a candidate for the position which he has so ably and acceptably filled for many years. His retirement from the Presidency will be received with regret by very many who have known him so long as an experienced, courteous, thoroughly upright and faithful officer. We are glad to learn that though Mr. C. retires from the Presidency, he consents at the solicitation of his colleagues to remain in the Board of Directors.

Nath'l G. Waite, Esq., of Lawrence, is prominently mentioned as a successor to Mr. Cogswell, and his friends think with every assurance of success. Like Mr. Cogswell, Mr. White has had the experience of many years in the direction of the road. He is a gentleman of undoubted capacity and executive ability, an energetic and thoroughly posted business man. His election would be a strong guarantee to the stockholders of the continued good management and prosperity of the road.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

Now, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to recover it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and the answers which commend sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, a BLOOD PURIFIER, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflamatory. The roots and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spiritous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the body, it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from a public institution, which HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT and PILLS might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but combining all the properties of calomel, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous emetic is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this powerful remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative component has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the fairer sex are subject, Lozenge will prove infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ASIATIC CHOLERA.

The Strongest proof of Intrinsic Merit.

DEAR SIRS,—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The Cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the PAIN KILLER, using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, seen very varied in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to be out on their excursions without a supply of the PAIN KILLER. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be very indifferently received.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully Yours, J. M. JOHNSON.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

They remove all bad accumulations from the bowels, and purify and invigorate the system. All whose health is not perfect, owe it to themselves to take a few doses of Brandreth's Pills, because the seeds of decay are constantly eradicated by their use, and the principle of life confirmed, thus giving a vigor of body and mind to a period when we have been used to see the faltering step and the enfeebled intellect.

General Paez, the distinguished liberator of Venezuela, says he has used them as his only medicine for thirty years, with the most satisfactory results.

For Costiveness, Dyspepsia, and as a Family medicine they are unrivalled.

Daniel I. Tenney, Esq., Astor House, New York, cured by Brandreth's Pill of Dyspepsia and Costiveness, when all other means used had failed.

Doctors recommended cod liver oil, but he wasted away. At last he determined to use Brandreth's Pills. In two months they made him a sound man. 1y22

PAIN KILLER.

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has within our knowledge been successful in curing the various kinds of

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh, the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off in the form of a loosening, or when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use even with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleurisy, inflammation of the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring back a tone to the stomach, patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 228 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients which their lungs are sound, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing to his patrons and friends, the great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE FOR PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby rendering them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times in a day, extracting from 10 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and the encouraging and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial teeth,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

CAPT. BAKER'S BENEFIT.—The moonlight excursion this evening promises to be a pleasant one, and the little steamer Appledore should be crowded with the friends of the beneficiary. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnishes the music. Tickets for a gentleman and lady, for the trip, only $1. The boat leaves Pier Wharf at 8 o'clock.

☞ The Boston Journal's correspondent telegraphs that the encampment of the Salem Veterans, at the Sagamore grounds, has been postponed until the 16th of September.

The Winslow Lewis Commandery of Knights Templars at Salem will encamp for three days at the Sagamore, commencing on September 2d.

☞ Street Commissioner Haines set a gang of hands at work to repair Middle Street, near Richards Avenue, on Tuesday,—and they are making a good McAdamized job of it; the crumbling ledge material, which comes from the cellar of Mr. Foster on Wibird's Hill, being about as good as crushed granite.

PORTSMOUTH FISHING FLEET.—The vessels of Messrs. Harding & Doane, of Newcastle, this port, are getting good fares of mackerel and cod. The schooner Velocipede, Rogers, master, arrived on the 17th inst., from a two-weeks cruise, with 110 barrels mackerel.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

CENTRE HARBOR, N. H., Aug. 17.

Editors Chronicle;—DeWitt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar arrived at this place about 8 o'clock this evening, and marched immediately into camp situated on a beautiful hill at the head of the lake, overlooking a varied extent of lovely lake and mountain scenery. There are about two hundred men in camp to-night, and it is expected that the number will be augumented to-morrow to six hundred, under command of E. Commander H. O. Kent, the camp consists of about one hundred military tents. There are present five commanderies, and nearly all of the grand officers.

The grand commander of Knights Templar of the U. S. is expected in the morning, The camp is under strict military discipline, grand commander Kent having Supreme command. The Nashua Cornet Band furnishes the music to-night, two other bands are to be in attendance, to-morrow. The Encampment is to continue Friday night, to wind up with a moonlight excursion on the Lake, and a grand Hop at the Senter (or Centre)house. Everything looks favorable, and the Sir Knights seem to be enjoying the occasion to the utmost.

Yours in haste, ROCKWOOD.

NAVAL.—U. S. Steamer Albany (Contoocook) arrived at New York on Tuesday. The Albany is detained at the lower quarantine, Assistant Engineer Steele having died of yellow fever on the voyage from Key West. The officers report great mortality at Key West.

THE INTERNATIONAL BOAT RACE.—As the time for the Harvard—Oxford race draws near, the English papers betray more fear of the result and at the same time are growing more and more bombastic and offensive. Among the latest comments are the dispatches from London of Tuesday. They say that both crews practice every day and that the rowing of the Oxonians is "faultless past comment." Further that the Harvards are "improving" as they are rapidly "working into the English style."

The facts of the case are that the coming contest is to be a test of the relative merits of the different styles of rowing adopted by the English and American crews. The Harvards are firm believers in the rapid stroke which has heretofore carried them to victory, and the idea that they are to abandon it without a test, is simple absurd.

The dispatches close by saying that the pace of the Harvards against tide in their daily practice is rapid and they display great strength. "The question is generally asked, 'can they hold out at the terrific pace with which they start?'" As the betting is more favorable to the Harvards than it was three days ago we should judge that the English sporting men are growing fearful that it is probable that "yes" may be the answer to the as yet unanswered question.

It appears that the time made by Harvard on the Thames, Saturday, was within five seconds of the best ever made, viz: by Cambridge in 21 minutes 5 seconds, in 1846. The Oxford's fastest time is 21 minutes 28 seconds, in 1864, when they beat Cambridge 13 seconds.

The decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the case of H. D. Batchelder of Exeter, charged with dishonorable practices as an attorney, is understood to be substantially as follows: That Mr. B. has been guilty of fraud in various cases, and he is forever prohibited from practicing at the Rockingham bar; with the condition, that if he makes restitution of sums of money amounting to about $500, of which the Court finds he has defrauded the town of Exeter and several individuals, within one year, he may, at the expiration of that time, apply for re-admission to the bar.

The trustees of Dartmouth College and the committee of the alumni, chosen at the centennial celebration, met at Concord on Tuesday. The committee passed resolutions to the effect that they consider it essential to the prosperity of the college that a minority of the trustees should be appointed by nominations by the alumni; that the trustees should hold office for a limited period instead of for life; that the two vacancies now existing in the board should remain until filled in the manner contemplated; and that the restriction in the charter by which eight of the twelve trustees must be residents of New Hampshire ought to be removed.

STAR SPANGLED BANNER FISH.—A letter from Rye Beach to the Norwich Advertiser says that a wonderful fish was recently caught there. "It was shaped like a flat diamond, some three inches square. From two sides of the diamond floated glutinous streamers of the most delicate color, at least two feet in length. Between these were smaller streamers, gridironed by stripes of red, white and blue. When swimming in the water the fish resembled a crystalized American flag. Its sides were resplendent with all the gorgeous hues of the rainbow. It was far more beautiful than Barnum's angel-fish. All the old sailors gazed upon it with admiration, and declared that they had never seen its like before. When first seen it was skimming through the sea near the surface of the water; it was pursued by a small boat and captured in a scoop net. The fish has since died, but has been preserved in alcohol, and will be sent to Mr. Agassiz."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides more than THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London.....£7 s5. 10. "
" Frankfort..$7 fir. 50 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the bond, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Peterson's Magazine for August, in its fashion-plates, exhibits some tremendous dressing and undressing; and from all indications, it would seem that the decollete style is to prevail this fall and winter more than ever—that is, as Mr. Lincoln told his buxom wife, the ladies are to cut still more off the top end of their dresses, and hitch it on at the bottom—low corsages and long trains, with enormous panniers and back hair, are to be the order (say rather, disorder) of the day. Well, go ahead; if the dear creatures choose to carry their loads in that way, it is of no use for the men to criticise or complain, and we shall leave those who make too free a display of their charms, to the censorious pen of Miss Olive Logan, (who must be a scraggy old scold, we guess, but who evinces some good sense, nevertheless,) and who in a letter written of a recent party at Long Branch, N. J., contrasts the modesty of Mrs. Grant in this respect, with the bare-necked indecency, as she calls it, of many of the plump beauties about her. But many believe in the old song, "If you have a pretty foot, show it;" the thing is, to know when your foot is pretty, and not display it unless it is worth seeing.

Vick's Illustrated Catalogue of Hardy Bulbs, for Autumn Planting, 1869, is just issued; and as usual with all this famous florist's publications, is full of temptations and crammed with information. Copies sent free on application by mail. Vick's importations of Dutch Bulbs are of the choicest quality, regardless of cost or profit; and hence his customers are almost always successful and pleased. He will commence sending out Bulbs Sept. 25, and guarantees their arriving in good season and good condition. $5.00 or $10.00 (P. O. Order) sent to James Vick, Rochester, New York, will cause the winter of discontent, by and by, to bloom into glorious summer in the drawing-room or parlor, or will help to hasten winter away from the garden or door-yard in early spring. Vick's Floral Charm, 18x24 inches, for 1869, is also furnished postpaid for 75 cts., and the new one for 1870, at the same low price, is also now about ready. Verily, Vick's mission is to disseminate a love of the beautiful in nature. His great annual Catalogue for 1870 will be ready Jan. 1st.

Coal Tar for Woodchucks.—The woodchucks have troubled me more or less for quite a number of years, by eating the growing beans, cabbage, turnips,&c. I have tried various things to stop their depredations, such as trapping them, stopping up their holes, putting up scare-crows among the hoed crops, &c., still the "varmints" would succeed in doing considerable mischief. The present season they commenced again, and one piece of beans seemed threatened with entire destruction, and I thought "something must be done," (as the boy said when he got lost in the woods), so I concluded to try another experiment with them.

I took coal tar and spread it on some old newspapers and placed them in the holes where they lived and stopped them up. Now for the result: when before they might be seen almost every day, now not a chuck is to be seen where the tar has been applied; and I intend if one does show his head to make him "smell tar." One hole in particular, where as many as four at a time have been seen around—since the application of tar not one has been seen there. Will those that are troubled with woodchucks try the coal tar and report results?—Seth F. Lane, Raymond N. H., in Country Gentlemen.

Fall of a Venerable Tree.—The Concord papers state that the magnificent old elm which stood in front of the dwelling of the late Charles Hutchins, at the corner of Main and Thorndike streets, was felled to the ground on Sunday evening. On Friday and Saturday, men engaged in repairing the sidewalk on Thorndike street deprived the tree of some of its large roots, and on Sunday the tree was observed to lean towards the street in a manner that threatened the safety of passers by. In the evening men were ordered to chop the tree down, but only a few blows of the axe were given before it fell, and "great was the fall thereof." In its decent it stripped two maple trees, swept off two or three branches of another large elm, ruined an adjacent hedge and broke down the telegraph wire.

The tree measured six and a half feet in circumference at a height of six feet from the ground, and would probably have measured sixteen or seventeen feet at the base. It was almost entirely rotten, trunk and branch, the outer shell of living wood being only about two inches in thickness. The age of the tree is not positively known, but is estimated at not less than one hundred and fifty years. Tradition reports that it was brought across the river in a skiff by Mr. John Shute. The splendid row of elms, of which this was one, was set out as a protection to a garrison house, which stood near them one hundred and thirty years ago.

Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months I have been in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected app lications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office, EDWIN BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that single one is pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. The Chronicle.

GEN. BUTLER AS A LAWYER.—The Washington Correspondent of the Rochester Chronicle closes a recent letter with the following story:

The intricacies of law are freshly illustrated by a new story of Gen. Butler, which I have just heard. The directors of a Boston bank, having their suspicions aroused, notified the cashier that an examination of the books and cash in his possession must be had. The cashier went to Butler and stated his case. He had misappropriated funds of the bank to the amount of $50,000. Part of this had been lost in stock speculation, and part was still invested in various speculative securities. He asked whether he had not better own up, restore what he could and let his bondsmen make up the deficit.

Butler, after some consideration, directed him to attend the meeting of the directors, deny that there was anything wrong, and if they desired, to surrender the keys and go home, leaving them in possession. He did as directed, gave up the keys, and the directors upon examining the books and cash in the vaults, found a deficit as they had anticipated of $20,000. They notified the cashier and his bondsmen, who in due time appeared, accompanied by Butler, who, acting as spokesman, inquired what the matter was.

The directors told of the fact, and added that they did not wish to make scandal, and if the cashier's bondsmen would make good the missing cash, no further proceeding would be had. Gen. Butler coolly replied that there must be some mistake. His client had surrendered the bank and funds, as required by his bond. If there was any deficit it must have occurred after the directors took possession. He would assure them that they could not take possession of the bank and its contents and come upon the bondsmen also. If they would accept the cashier's resignation and give him the usual certificate of good character, they would call it square and let the matter drop.

The directors now began to see the dilemma in which they were placed, and sent for a lawyer, only to find that they had made a false step,—that they had no proper evidence of the amount of cash in the bank when surrendered by the cashier, and that in taking possession they had lost their only remedy.

As it would not do to let the stockholders know they had been overreached, the directors had to go to work and make up the loss out of their own pockets. They gave the defaulting cashier the certification of character which he demanded, and he went to work in another bank, in the same city a few weeks afterward.

A CLERICAL ANECDOTE.—Some thirty-five or forty years ago, a Mr. Williams, a clergyman of the old school, somewhat eccentric, came to Salem from the country to exchange desks with one of his brethren in the ministry. During the Sabbath noon intermission he said to his daughter:

"I am going to lie down. If St. Paul himself comes, don't disturb me."

Mr. Bentley, who had preached in the East Church, who had been very intimate with Mr. Williams, but who had not seen him for several years, hearing that he was in town, hurried off, after dinner, to make his old friend a call.

"Where is Brother Williams?" he inquired, as he met the daughter.

"He can't be disturbed, sir, even if St. Paul should call."

"I must see him!" was the impatient rejoinder, in the inimitable manner peculiar to Mr. Bentley.

Resistance to such a must was out of the question. The room of the sleeper was invaded, and with no gentle shake and a corresponding voice, Mr. Williams was aroused. He was delighted to see his old friend Bentley, reiterating with fervency his gratification.

"I think Brother Williams, that you are a little inconsistent."

"How so, Brother Bentley?"

"Didn't you tell your daughter you were not to be disturbed even if St. Paul called? Yet you seem very glad to see me."

"No, no, brother; not inconsistent at all. I was—I am—glad to see you. The Apostle Paul! why, I hope to spend a blessed eternity with him; but you, Brother Bentley—I never expect to see you again."

CHARACTERISTIC.—A Portland schoolhouse caught fire the other day, and as the boys watched it, one in another school said, enthusiastically and honestly, to his companion, "Oh, Johnny! don't you wish it was our school-house?"

—The Chinese in California are very skillful in counterfeiting gold dust, and succeed selling a good deal of the article. This was once tried in Australia, but lynching stopped it.

—"Mama!" said a precious little boy, who, against his will, was made to rock the cradle of his baby brother, "If the Lord has any more babies to give away, don't you take 'em."

—You can always find a sheet of water on the bed of the ocean.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Dose Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

☞ PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN-KILLER.—We clip the following from the Providence Journal and Advertiser: At this season of the year, when cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery, and other kindred complaints are sure to prevail, everybody should be liberally supplied with the PAIN-KILLER. Persons leaving home whether it be for a day's excursion or a trip to Europe, should be in a condition to place their hands on it at a moments warning. Many diseases incident to the summer months which will prove fatal if not immediately checked, can be promptly cured by one or two doses of the Pain-Killer. On more than one occasion have we been relieved of intense suffering by the timely use of the above named preparation." Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Medicine Dealers. jy13 4w

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [le15 8w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NOYE.

The News.

The Lowells were beaten in their base ball match with the Trimountains at Boston, on Wednesday. The figures were 23 to 12.

A man named Knight confesses that he caused the fearful accident at Carris Rock, on the Erie Railroad, in April, 1868, by trying to fix a loose rail by putting a spike under it. He knew that if the first train that came along should be from the west that the rail would be broken, but it it should come from the east it would drive the spike in. It came from the west and a horrible accident ensued.

The schooner Mary Jane, bound from St. Domingo to Boston, has been found at sea with her helm lashed and drifting about. Her captain and two of the crew had died of yellow fever, and the remainder of the crew, two men, were in a dying condition and unable to throw overboard the bodies of their comrades, which were found on deck in a state of putrefaction. She was towed into New York.

A letter from Arizona says a wagon train belonging to Juan Gonzales was attacked by Indians on the Gila river, August 4th, and thirteen men killed.

The insurgents in Cuba are more than ever confident of ultimate success; the conscription ordered by the Spanish commander has had the effect of increasing the rebel numbers. The negroes have declared for freedom, and are arming to join the insurgents.

CHINESE EMIGRATION. — A reporter for the New York Herald has had the usual interview with Mr. Choy Chew, the Chinese merchant now in that city, and obtained his views on the emigration question. He thinks there is not the slightest necessity for any effort to increase the tide of emigration. The people all along the seaboard have heard of California, and will come over. A peculiarity of the Chinese people was noticed, that they go altogether according to first reports. The gold brought them to California, and all the hard treatment they have since received in that State has not been able to deter others from following, though the reports of the present condition of the Chinese in California are freely spread among them.

On the other hand, if the first news they receive from a place is unfavorable, no subsequent invitations can possibly induce them to go there. Choy Chew thinks that on this principle the early treatment of those laborers who are imported to work in the South will decide forever the question whether such labor can be made practicable. For his own part he looks with disfavor on the plan, feeling that there is for many years to come abundant work in the Pacific States for all who arrive, and not concealing his apprehension that the southern people may establish over the Chinese servants whom they employ, something analogous to negro slavery.

He does not wish the Chinese and the negroes brought into competition, and judges that the recompense of Chinese labor in the South would be very slight. After California has received a sufficient supply, Mr. Choy Chew thinks the Chinese will naturally overflow into Nevada, Colorado, Arizona and Montana, and will make of those places a garden. He thinks that mixing with Americans and then returning, as the Chinese all hope to do, to their native country, will have the very best effect on China, and will fill that land with the energy and progressive spirit which distinguish us.

He exonerates Americans from the charge of cruelty to the Chinese, but thinks we are guilty of legalized injustice towards them. He drew a very pleasant picture of what would occur if the Chinese came to stay, and grew up without being weighed down by the influence of many centuries of tradition. He thought the Chinese would be among the most orderly and industrious of citizens, and that they would by-and-by come to take an interest in politics, and perhaps one of them would become President. The returning stream of emigration he believes will always prevent the total of Chinese in this country from reaching an excessive figure. He was very severe on the demagogues who are trying to make political capital out of the prejudice against the Chinese.

☞ A Deputy State Constable notifies a dealer from whom the liquor was seized, by advertising in a Boston paper, to appear and show cause why "about 1-2 gallon of Whiskey, in 1 demijohn, 1 bottle; about 1 pint of Rum, in 1 bottle; about 1-2 gallon of Gin, in 1 jug, 1 bottle; and about 15 gallons of Ale, in 1 barrel," shall not be forfeited to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Jethro H. Goodwin, the owner of the liquor is required to appear for trial at the Municipal Court in September for having the liquor for sale.

☞ Cheap freightage over the New York Railroads does not last. The railroad war is over for the present.

☞ It is the general opinion that Judge Dent has made an ass of himself by his late letter to Secretary Boutwell.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

SALEM, MASS., 19th Aug.

Salem is a city between Portsmouth and Boston. It is rich in the institutions named below. It is rich also in a most unbounded hospitality, as also will be shown below. The American Association for the Advancement of Science is "wise in its generation" and likes such places for its annual meetings. This is its eighteenth; for, though organized 20th Sept., 1848, it missed some meetings during the war. Salem sent to Burlington in 1867 to invite the Association here. Chicago was too strong, and carried the day, i. e. the year. Salem sent to Chicago last year and was so urgent as to draw the Association out of the line of total eclipse, and here we are, except some who have not been able to reach this place from their points of observation, or are otherwise kept away. Here are TORREY, HUNTRY and AGASSIZ, and here are many lesser lights, and among the least your correspondent of 14 years, who was an old member of the Association then, but who has not grown much since.

Salem contains the following incorporations,—please note the Roman numerals:—

I. East India Marine Society, formed in 1799, incorporated 1801, consisting only of men who had doubled Cape Horn or Cape of Good Hope as Captain or Supercargo. Either the vessel or the officer must have belonged in Salem. The society will not lower this standard—will rather, in the decadence of Salem's East India trade, go down with flying colors. Owns No. 11, specified below.

II. Mariners' Society, with lower qualifications. Owns No. 4.

III. E. I. Marine Hall incorporation, built No. 2.

IV. Salem Athenæum, incorporated in 1810. Owns Nos. 1, 6.

V. Essex Institute, organized in 1848, incorporated in 1848. Owns Nos. 7, 14.

VI. Trustees of Peabody Fund of $140,000; a self-perpetuating body of nine, organized in 1867, incorporated as the Peabody Academy of Science. Owns Nos. 2, 13.

VII. "Editors" [Publishers] of the American Naturalist. Own No. 15.

VIII. Essex South District Medical Society. Owns No. 8.

IX. Essex County Agricultural Society. Owns No. 9.

X. Salem Lyceum. Owns No. 5.

XI. Charitable Mechanics' Association. Owns No. 10.

XII. Mechanics' Hall Corporation. Owns No. 3.

1. Plummer Hall, built in 1856, by a bequest of Miss Caroline Plummer, on the spot where the historian Prescott was born. Owned by IV. Contains Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, 14.

2. East India Hall, built by III in 1824; sold in 1867 to VI; contains Nos. 11, 12, 13, all arranged as one museum, in excellent order, densely and beautifully arranged.

3. Mechanic Hall, owned by XII; contains No. 10.

4. Franklin Building, owned by II.

5. Lyceum Hall, owned by X.

6. Athenæum library, 13,500 volumes, in No. 1, owned by IV.

7. Essex Institute library, 25,000 vols., in No. 1, owned by V.

8. Medical library, 1000 vols., in No. 1, owned by VIII.

9. Agricultural library, 1000 vols., in No. 1, owned by IX.

10. Mechanics' library, 4,000 vols., in No. 5, owned by X.

11. Museum of E. I. Marine Soc'y, in No. 2, owned by I, permanently lent to VI.

12. Museum of Institute, in No. 2, owned by V, permanently lent to VI.

13. Museum of Academy, in No. 2, owned by VI.

14. Historical Collection, in No. 1, owned by V.

15. American Naturalist, a monthly magazine, owned by VII, dependent on VI.

We state these things thus particularly because no one of our informants knew all these facts, and it seems impossible any one of the numerous reporters can have escaped stating some of them incorrectly.

Return we to our muttons. The Association met in Salem new Court House, Wednesday, 18th Aug., at 10 A. M., Col. J. W. Foster, the President chosen last year, in the chair. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. S. Strood of Salem. Dr. Wheatland, chairman of the local committee, introduced the Association to the Mayor, Gen. William Cogswell, late of the Mass. Volunteers, to whose address of welcome President Foster replied. Six vacancies in the standing committee were filled. New members were elected. The Association was organized into two sections: A, on physics and mathematics, with Prof. Silliman for chairman, and B, on natural history, with Prof. Agassiz as chairman.

In the afternoon, at the East India Marine Hall, (2) Dr. Wheatland, on behalf of the committee of the Trustees, (V) who had re-arranged these three museums into one, delivered the keys of the Hall to W. C. Endicott, Esq., President of the Academy, (VI) who in turn committed them to the director, Frederick W. Putnam, Esq. For the three neat speeches see the Boston and New York papers. The Chronicle has no adequate room for these and six that followed.

We next adjourned to the Tabernacle church, the second edifice known under that well-known designation, the first having been built in 1774,—this last, in 1851. It is a very plain, spacious building, with a very slight touch of Gothic, having galleries on three sides, without fresco or stained glass;—just the edifice that ought to be dedicated to the service of God in a sinful and suffering world. Here prayer was offered by Rev. C. R. Palmer, pastor of the Tabernacle, followed by an ode, miscalled a hymn, admirably sung to the "Missionary chant" by one of the best choirs of New England, aided by a good organ of moderate size. Next followed the address of the President of the Society, containing in beautiful language part of the facts we have laboriously obtained and set forth above. More singing. Address by Ex-Gov. Clifford of New Bedford, selected by Mr. Geo. Peabody, who is absent in Virginia in pursuit of health, to speak for him. Next came the Mayor; then Benj. Hodges Sillsbee, Esq., namesake, grandson and successor of Capt. Hodges, the first President of the E. I. Marine Soc'y, Dr. Wheatland as President of the Essex Institute, and lastly, Col. Foster as President of the Association. Then was the benediction pronounced by Rev. E. B. Willson.

These several addresses were able and exceedingly rich in historical matter. They needed not the pathos excited by the decadence of the greatest East India mart in the New World, whose obsolescent wharves remind one of ancient Tyre, or the ruins which are, on some future day, to be contemplated by the New Zealand traveller from a broken arch of London Bridge.

But Salem, if a ruin, is a very extraordinary one, with the thirteen institutions above named, owning six buildings, and five libraries of some 45,000 volumes, besides other institutions, their buildings and libraries, passed in silence because not to our present purpose.

And a warm soul beats in this body. Ingenuity seems exhausted in anticipating possible wants of the guests. But that subject must be reserved for another day.

The evening was given to a levee at the house of W. C. Endicott, Esq., President of the Peabody Academy of Science. The spacious mansion was almost uncomfortably crowded. So many of the best ladies of the Union have accompanied the members of the Association, that with the addition of "the flower of Essex County," the assembly was not so disproportioned in the numbers of the sexes as one would naturally have expected.

Portsmouth and Boston are not invited in to-night. The President's address is to be to-morrow (Friday) evening. It has been in past years a most interesting occasion. If it fall short this year, or if anything else fall short, present indications will have proved very deceitful. The Tabernacle will be filled to overflowing.

☞ Boston has received the first bale of new cotton from Georgia, and Memphis has received the first new bale from Alabama.

☞ The Boston Journal styles the late Prohibitory Convention, The Intemperate Convention.

WHY will not Pendleton be elected Gov. of Ohio? (Echo) Oh! why-oh?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to recover it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To preserve the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THREE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, A BLOOD DEPURENT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflamatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the purest and most potent essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, dyspepsia or nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot possibly procure its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from a public institution, which HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was well, healthy and vigorous. I weighed before from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen.— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have travelled a great deal with it, first in Iowa, in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with more success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer with the assistance of Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects, which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than Five thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Heartburn, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure Consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, and then throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the Tonic will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon healthy, the stools will show a healthy color, and do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will make the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they put a medicine to stop the cough, to dry the liver, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are diseased, and perhaps ulcerated, tubercles, or cheesy, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish the Lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NAVY YARD.—Business is brisk over the river now-a-days. The large gang of mechanics and laborers already employed there (about 1500) was increased by a force of 60 carpenters and a few joiners taken on in the Constructor's Department on Wednesday. The Steamer Wyoming was placed on the Ways from the Dry Dock by the powerful hydraulic engine on Saturday of last week, previous to undergoing thorough repairs. The first-class frigate California (Minnetonka) will probably go into the Dock on Saturday to be calked and coppered. The Steamer Albany (Contoocook) is daily expected from New York with sickness on board and will go into quarantine, after which she will be refitted for sea. All haste is being made at the yard on the other vessels in course of preparation for service, and Uncle Sam must soon be convinced, if not already, that this is no second-class station.

PLEASANT OCCASION.—It will be remembered that Rumford Lodge of Concord, some time since, presented Osgood Lodge of Odd Fellows, at Portsmouth, with an elegant picture of P. G. M. True Osgood. It seems that Osgood Lodge have ever since desired to free themselves from the friendly obligation they considered Rumford Lodge had laid them under. Accordingly, at the meeting of Rumford Lodge held last Monday evening, a delegations consisted of Past Grands Chas. W. Smith and John F. Leverton, and Bro. Robert Bates of Portsmouth were present, and, after the regular business of evening, presented Rumford Lodge, in behalf of Osgood Lodge, with two elegant gavels, suitably engraved, and an Odd Fellows' chart.

The gifts were handsomely received by the proper officer, and speeches were made by representatives of some half dozen Lodges, who chanced to be present. The gifts are beautiful ones, and were accepted with such speeches as must have been very gratifying to the Portsmouth brethren. Such an interchange of gifts and expressions of good will between Lodges cannot fail of a good effect. The occasion was one of rare interest.—Patriot.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

is a very superior regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thorough

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly drawn at the basis of the aromatic roots from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, costiveness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are, several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap sealed, and marked in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 257 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. Also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas.

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, "besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST" UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first morigage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $21,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, and each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 s5. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 flr. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

The Cat—A Study.

AFTER VICTOR HUGO.

The cat is the concrete symbol of a vacillating politician.

It is always on the fence.

It is the feline embodiment of one of the very profoundest human principles wrenched from the circumstances of the unknown and hurled into the bosom of consciousness.

Nine tailors make one man.

A cat has nine times the life of one man, for it has nine lives. Possession, also, is nine points of the law. Behold a legal possession of existence equal to the span of the lives of eighty-one clothiers!

Let us bow reverently before this august fact.

The wanderer by the moonlight seashore, when the moon—that argent cornucopia of heaven—is streaming forth her flowers and fruits of radiance, and the illimitable is illuminated by the ineffable, will have remarked the breakers seem to curve and snort like horses' necks with manes of lightning clad.

So, O man, when in the darkness of thine own chamber, thou passest thine hand along the furry spine of this phantom of the backyard, the electric sparks dart forth, and a flash of lightning fuses together fingers and fur.

Exquisite antithesis of nature! The firesides embraces the ocean. The hearth is paved with sea-shells. The monsters of the deep disport reflected in the glowing embers. The infinite Abroad is brought into amalgamation with the finite At Home.

The ocean roars.

The cat only purrs.

The billows rise and culminate and break.

The cat's back rises. The feline tide is up, and we have a permanent billow of fur and flesh.

O, impossible co-existence of uncontradictory contradictions.

The Duke of Wellington was pronounced the greatest captain of his age. Gen. Grant was pronounced the greatest of his.

The greatest captain of any age was the captain with his whiskers.

Let us not call this the tergiversation of nature.

The whiskers of the captain.

The whiskers of the cat.

The hirsute exponent of martial supremacy. The feline symbolism of the Bearded Lady crossing her claws before the family fire.

Jealousy has been called the green-eyed monster.

The cat is the green-eyed monster.

Bath lie in wait. Neither destroys its victim without toying with it. One is the fox, the other is the friend of the fireside. Either is to be met almost in any family. Each is of both sexes.

"Old Tom" gin in excess is one of man's bitterest bibulous foes, man is the bitterest bibulous foe of Tom-cats. The one puts the bricks into the hats of the second to be shied at the head of the third.

O, osculation between sky and earth! O, lips of the Seen touching the lips of the Unseen. O, wave of thought careering through the asymtotes of cloud-land, crystalizing into angelic foci the tangents of humanity!

The stars are out to-night.

So are cats.

ANECDOTE OF JUDGE FLETCHER.—An old friend of the late Judge Fletcher, related to the writer, many years ago, the following characteristic anecdote:

Mr. Fletcher, when a young man, boarded in the old Exchange Coffee House. Without much consideration, he had fallen in with the drinking fashion of the day, so far as to have a glass of spirit and water brought to his room every night, to be taken on going to bed, as "a nightcap." One night an unusual press of company prevented the bar-keeper from carrying up Mr. Fletcher's usual night dram. The Esquire didn't regard it as quite the thing for him to go to the bar and get his grog; and so he went to bed without his "night-cap." But to sleep, he could not; all night long he tumbled about for lack of his accustomed drink. And as he did so his active and discriminating mind worked diligently. The fruit of his reflections appeared next morning, when, on getting up, weary and worn by his hard and restless night, Mr. Fletcher went directly to the bar-keeper: "Mr. ——, you didn't bring up my brandy and water last night, and as a consequence I have slept little or none all night."

The bar-keeper was very sorry. This neglect should not occur again. "Not so," rejoined Mr. Fletcher. "Never bring me another drop of liquor unless I order it. If it has come to this, that I can't sleep without the help of a tumbler of toddy, it is high time that I stopped drinking, and broke up the dangerous habit."

From that day Mr. Fletcher became a thorough-going temperance man.

—A six-year-old boy was asked by his teacher to write a composition on the subject of water, and the following is the production: "Water is good to drink, to swim in, and to skate on while frozen. When I was a little baby, the nurse used to bathe me every morning in water. I have been told that the Injuns don't wash themselves but once in ten years. I wish I was an Injun?"

—A swarm of bees settled on the front of a locomotive on a Vermont railroad a few days ago, and the engineer not daring to disturb them, they got a free ride into Canada.

—To lay off a square acre of land—measure 209 feet for each side of your square, and it will contain an acre within an inch.

A LITTLE GIRL a hundred thousand miles or less distant from Hartford, was rebuked by her mother for her fondness of killing flies. The little one had acquired great dexterity in this employment, and was so much occupied in it that the parent found she was growing into a state of cruelty. Calling the child to her side one day, she said in a sad tone, 'Mary, dear, don't you know that God loves the little flies.' Mary seemed to hear the words as though they suggested a great many new ideas. She stood by her mother's side for some time in thoughtful sadness, and at length walked slowly up to the window where a bewildered fly was humming and buzzing about on the pane. She watched it lovingly for a long time and then, almost too full of grief to talk plainly, she began to utter caressing words. 'Doz ee fli know dat dod luves oo? Doz oo love dod?' here she extended her hand fondly towards the insect as if to stroke away the terror that she felt she had inspired.—'Doz oo want to zee dod?—well,' in a tone of intense love and pity; at the same time putting her finger on the fly and softly crushing it against the glass, 'Well oo shall.'—Hartford Post.

BONES, AND CLAM AND OYSTER SHELLS.—Clam and oyster shells are composed mostly of carbonate of lime, and are therefore valueless as fertilizing agents. Bones are composed of phosphate of lime, the phosphoric acid being the agent so useful to crops. Clam and oyster shells cannot be dissolved in caustic alkalies. They dissolve sulphuric acid, forming gypsum, or sulphate of lime. Clam and oyster shells are of no value to agriculture. They have no more effect upon crops than the dust or chips taken from the yard of the marble worker. Marble and shells are nearly identical in composition, and both are unworthy of consideration by farmers.

TO MANAGE A REARING HORSE.—Whenever you perceive a horse's inclination to rear, separate your reins and prepare for him. The instant he is about to rise slacken one hand and bend or twist his head with the other, keeping your hands low. This bending compels him to move a hind leg, and of necessity brings his fore feet down. Instantly twist him completely round two or three times, which will confuse him very much, and completely throw him off his guard. The moment you have finished twisting him round, place his head in the direction you wish to proceed, apply the spurs and he will not fail to go forward.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

OPORTO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lies in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers: PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also purchases a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TERRUNE, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuci Wine.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine eleven years, for all sorts of family sewing, from the coarsest, even carpet-binding, to the finest worn by women, and requiring No. 300 cotton. It gives me still entire satisfaction, and I can not too highly recommend it to others as a family comfort. Solely from my appreciation of your machine above all others, I have been the means of selling more than a hundred of them. DOVER, Del. MRS. C. SLAUGHTER.

—A want has been felt and expressed by physicians, for a safe and reliable purgative; such a want is now supplied in Parsons' Purgative Pills.

Officers and Soldiers who served in the Army, Physicians, Surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere, join in recommending "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment" to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

All the year round, "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" should be given to horses that are "off up." To horses and cattle that graze in summer, they should only be given in Winter and Spring.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected app lications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such manifest proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Chronicle.

THE CAUSE OF IT.—One of the most painful incidents we have ever been called upon to note, took place at the Station house, last evening. A mechanic at work in one of the manufacturing institutions in Milwaukee city, came into the station, with a good looking middle aged woman, his wife. The woman was in charge of an officer. The officer told Lieut. Kendrick that he had arrested the woman on complaint of her husband, who had taken out a warrant on the grounds of habitual drunkenness.

"It is true," said the mechanic. "My wife was one of the most industrious women in the city, until the last year. She has taken to drink, and gets intoxicated every day. She even sells the furniture out of the house to get liquor with, and our two children are not only neglected, but are treated very badly. I had to move last fall because the neighbors complained of her, and again this spring, and now I am ordered out again, because the landlord and neighbors complain. I have tried everything I could, but it doesn't do a bit of good, and now I feel as though I must have her locked up. It is pretty hard I tell you to do it, but if you only knew what I have had to put up with, you wouldn't blame me."

As he spoke, the tears ran down the cheeks of the man, and he sobbed as if in great misery. The wife stood by, eyeing her husband as he spoke, and occasionally looking from the policeman to the Lieutenant. She was not an indifferent spectator to the scene, nor oblivious to her husband's tears. As her husband ceased speaking, she said, "George, if you will forgive me this time I promise you I'll never drink again—I say I won't, and I mean it."

"I wish I could trust you, Mary," he said "but you have promised so many times, and always broken your promise, I cannot do it. It breaks my heart to see you locked up, but I must do it."

"You must send her to the House of Correction for a few weeks, and just as quick as I think I can trust her, I will go after her and take her out."

As the husband was about to leave the station, he turned and walked back, and throwing his arms about his wife's neck, kissed her several times. "It's all for the best, Mary," he said, as the tears flowed thick and fast. "You know you cannot stop drinking while you are where you can get liquor. Out there you cannot get it, and in a few days you will see that you are better without it. You go out quietly, and as soon as I think you can be trusted, I will come out and get you, and then our home will be like it used to be, and our little Mary and Johnny will have somebody to take care of them. Good-bye, Mary." He kissed her again and again, and then tearing himself away, left the station.

If this lesson and a few weeks at the House of Correction do not reform this woman, and make a human being of her, it were better she were dead.—The Wisconsin.

FOR THE BABIES.—Mothers who are not able to nurse their babies find it almost impossible to keep the milk they are compelled to use so perfectly sweet as not to injure their little ones. Ice, if it can be had, does not wholly answer, even if its excessive cold does not change the character of the milk. A few years since the writer of this, while in a Southern State, recommended the following plan to a mother:

Mix your babe's food, milk with its due proportion of sugar, and place the pitcher holding it in a deep plate—a soup plate or pie-dish will do—and fill the plate with cold water. Take a piece of thin muslin, large enough to cover the whole pitcher and reach down all sides into the water. Have no cover on the pitcher, wet the cloth and cover the pitcher with it; its ends in to the water, and set the whole in a place where a draught of air will pass over it.

The mother tried the plan, and during an exceedingly hot summer season, the milk never turned at all. The rationale of the thing is easy. The milk is not confined in a close vessel, or in danger of being tainted by nearness to other, perhaps not wholesome food: the thin gauze protects it, yet leaves it open; the draught of air keeps the temperature down by the constant evaporation, while the water is constantly sucked up by the cloth acting like a wick in a lamp to supply the moisture. N. Y. Tribune.

PRUNING STRAWBERRIES.—Mr. C. S. Weld, of Olamon, Penobscot county, Me., desired to know if he had better cut off the runners from strawberry plants set last fall and this spring, and if so, when? Dr. Trimble replied: "At once, and every five days." Mr. Cavanach: "As Paddy was advised when he went into the fight—whenever you discover a head, hit it—so I advise the questioner to sever each runner as soon as seen." Mr. Fuller: "There is one rule worth remembering, namely: If you want fruit, keep runners removed; if increase of plants, let runners run."—Hearth and home.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

☞ PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN-KILLER.—We clip the following from the Providence General Advertiser: At this season of the year, when cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery, and other kindred complaints are sure to prevail, everybody should be liberally supplied with the PAIN-KILLER. Many diseases incident to the summer months which will prove fatal if not immediately checked, can be promptly cured by one or two doses of the Pain-Killer. On more than one occasion have we been relieved of intense suffering by the timely use of the above named preparation." Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Medicine Dealers. jy13 4w

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND: I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [Jel5 8w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

The News.

Pendleton has accepted the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio.

Hon. J. Ross Browne, late Minister to China, has returned to San Francisco.

The Turcomans have been defeated in a pitched battle by the Persian troops.

Two insurgent victories, presaging important results, are reported from Cuba.

Montana, dispatch says that the Blackfeet Indians have been running off stock between Helena and Benton, and have killed Malcom Clark and badly wounded one of his sons at a ranch 25 miles from Helena. They threaten to make a raid on Gallatin Valley. There is much excitement among the settlers.

Terrible floods have occurred on the river Yantze, China, resulting in great destruction of crops and loss of life. Kiu Kiang and Chin Kiose were flooded.

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists held their annual session at Dover, on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 18 and 19. Sermons were preached, by Rev. Messrs. Goodrich, Adams and Miller:— The business of the Association, and conference and prayer meetings, occupied the remainder of the two days.—The Lord's supper was administered on Thursday afternoon.—On Wednesday and Thursday evenings there were Conferences, well attended and earnest, in which, Rev. Messrs. Hewitt and Brooks took part, as well as those above named, and several brothers of the laity. The whole impression of the meeting was favorable. Resolutions were passed after thorough discussion, — urging the importance of spiritual life, christian conversation, and earnest work;—and representing every indifferent, immoral or unworthy professor of the faith, as an obstacle in the way of progress and prosperity in the churches. The Universalist meeting-house in Dover has been renovated inside; its pulpit is now supplied by an able pastor, Rev. Elmer Hewitt; and with earnest work on the part of the people, the society may reasonably hope for a prosperous future.

State Temperance Convention at Boston.—We learn from our correspondent, who was present at Tremont Temple on Tuesday, that the body of that spacious hall was crowded. Animated debate arose on the character of some [one] of the Judges promoted by Gov. Claflin, and as to the character of the efforts of Maj. Jones, the State Constable, to enforce the law. Both officials came off well, and most of those present held the Major in higher esteem after the debate than before. On all other subjects there was unanimity, and on all the highest enthusiasm. It is intended to start a campaign daily, the Boston Tribune, to aid the cause. It is to be published by Hon. Mr. Usher, Cornhill.

☞ De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar arrived home from the Centre Harbor Encampment by the Concord train, Friday evening, looking as wise as owls, and as jolly as though they had spent their four days excursion in a Knightly and honorable manner. They were surprised on finding the stay-at-homes of the Commandery on hand with the Portsmouth Cornet Band to welcome them back. They were escorted about the city like perfect strangers—been gone so long, you know—and rested finally at their Armory. It is related that the good natured Sword Bearer has become thoroughly acquainted with "Rackety Jack" during his absence, and will sing that favorite song ere long to a discriminating public. The Captain-General arrived at home 24 hours in advance of his brother Knights, having found the food at Centre Harbor too rich for his continued good health, or to speak more plainly, he was afflicted with nostalgia.

A Big Price for a Potato.—Last spring Mr. I. N. Riddle of Bedford, N. H., sent to a seed dealer in New York city for a single potato of the variety was originated by Mr. Albert Breese, of Hubardston, Vt., called the "King of the Earlies." The variety was originated from a ball of the Garnet Chili. Mr. Breese last spring demanded $50 for a single potato of his species. Mr. Riddle made six hills from the one he procured. They grew well and he has gathered his crop. We saw a specimen of them yesterday. They are of good size, smooth and quite heavy. It is claimed that they are a week earlier than the Early Rose.—Manr Union.

Ignorance Not Always Bliss.—Mrs. Gifford, living in the northern part of Marion County, Iowa, died last Saturday from the effects of fright at the eclipse.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. I. F. Holton.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Continued.

Salem, (Friday) 20th Aug.

The opening exercises Thursday were of routine. It was arranged that this evening and after, section B shall divide into two sub-sections,—1, Natural History, 2, Archæology. Then in the two sections were read papers of which even the titles would be inedifying to the general reader. We shall aim to give some of the conclusions only.

Section A.—Prof. Norton of New Haven was chosen chairman for the day. Prof. P. H. VanderWeide of New York is the inventor of what he considers an improvement on Prof. Twining's method of manufacturing ice by steam-power. He remarked that it is well known that when heat is converted into motion, we get only from a seventh to a tenth of what theory teaches us to expect. But it is also known that when we reverse the process, and reduce motion to heat, we get nearly the whole, whatever the process we take. He had not seen it stated that the opposite process of producing cold by motion was equally successful, but so he had found it. Whatever the volatile substance used, ether or ammonia, the result had been the same. The professor uses the gas of petroleum wells, which is condensed into a liquid that boils at 30 deg. Farenheit. In large establishments in England ice is no longer used in cooling beer, etc., for it is found that a ton of coal in the steam engine is as efficient as 14 tons of ice. The economy is not so great in using power to freeze as to cool merely. Delmonico, in New York, no longer uses ice in his refrigerator, preferring dry cold. Prof. Twining had observed the same uniformity of results in producing cold by power. Another member stated that Prof. Twining's invention had been pirated from him to such an extent in England, that many English scientists are not even aware of the American origin of the valuable invention.

Prof. Gustavus Hinricks presented an ingenious classification of the chemical elements into about ten genera, the members of each being arranged horizontally, with those of equal atomic weights directly under each other. Thus arranged they can be divided by lines running in various directions, into groups, each of which has some important properties in common. Further, it is known that the atomic weights of elements bear quite simple relations to that of hydrogen, with exception of certain small fractions which are commonly considered errors of observation. He finds these so-called errors manifestly a law among themselves, so that he considers them due to a cause somewhat analagous to the perturbations in the motions of planets. He "would be laughed at" if he expressed his views fully at present. His exposition made quite an impression, and the best men in the section seemed to consider his novel views quite seriously.

Prof. Wurtz of New York has been examining a combustible mineral from Ritchie Co., West Virginia. It looks somewhat like pitch. He finds it a mineral sui generis and names it grahamite. It is found also in Colorado. Chloroform dissolves out of it an admirable varnish of rainbow hues. Grahamite is an excellent substitute for the best charcoal for gunpowder. It probably consists of hydrogen and carbon only.

Prof. Wurtz read a paper of speculations on the atmosphere and ocean of early and future geological periods. He maintains that life has exerted and will exert a controlling influence over air, ocean and earth. At the outset, all the oxygen of the globe existed in the form of water, carbonic acid, &c. Plants liberated it, animals consumed it. The ocean once contained much iron, little sodium. Shell-fish are making permanent withdrawals of carbon from our capital, depositing it irrecovorably in carbonate of lime. They will go on locking up the carbon. By burning the coal deposits we may be winding up the machine just now, but that must have an end. Geologically speaking we are near that end,—may be within a few millions of years of it. The only remedy will be that when the "elements melt with fervent heat" the limestone will be calcined, and things may start anew.

Mr. H. F. Walling does not accept the current doctrine of the conservation of force, nor admit that force is proved to be an entity that can be conserved.

Charles F. Seely of New York presented yet another classification of chemical elements, founded on atomicity and equivalent, arranging them in two vertical columns.

Prof. Horsford of Cambridge finds that chlorophyll, the green of plants, contains,—not iron as is generally believed, but phosphates of iron and potassa.

—Oshkosh has turned two women out of church for snickering.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Oporto Grape Culture.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers: Passaic, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also purchases a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, which is the finest which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. Terhune, M. D.

With Dyspeptics everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. Plantation Bitters will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

Facts for the Ladies.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine eleven years, for all sorts of family sewing, from the coarsest, even carpet-binding, to the finest worn by wearing No. 200 cotton, which it still gives me still entire satisfaction, and I can not too highly recommend it to others as a family comfort. Solely from my appreciation of your machine above all others, I began to buy for a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable purchases, and quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son,

Gentlemen— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from one to sixty daily. The cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission Office, has been used considerably in these cases during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India."

These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is Health; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to retrieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, A BLOOD DEPURENT, AND AN APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflamatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are the medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from a public institution, which HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT and PILLS, should it applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

To OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocuous; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs, and increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, and then he had seven without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not irritate those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M. Hinsdale, N. H.

"In 1836 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 135 pounds up to 185 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and so agreeable that the taste ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions which have proved dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this precious remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

☞ Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the Irregularities to which the fairer sex are more subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. Erasmus Winslow's Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drastic pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the cure of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration. For when the phlegm comes loose, the slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do. Mandrake is the very best known invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the pepsine, which is needed in the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heats, etc., and in so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks in death.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura abscision, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and ripening. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost the power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will cleanse the stomach and liver, and the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined—this is the purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

CAPTURE OF A HORSE THIEF.—"Do you want to see a horse thief," said City Marshal Johnson to us on Friday. We did. "Well, he is in the National House, and I'm going to allow him a half hour to get his dinner; then I'll have him." In a half an hour he "had him," sure enough. The alleged criminal is, we should judge, not far from 21 years of age. He came in town Thursday evening, with a nice team—a white horse and a buggy worth about $250.

The buggy he carried to H. F. Wendell's Auction Store, to be sold at auction. Officer Maloon saw it there, traced its ownership, and the City Marshall found the young man trying to sell his horse.

After his arrest he said his name was S. A. Parker and that he belonged in Wakefield. He booked his name at the Hotel, however, as "Geo. Wilson, Freedom, N. H." He says he hired the team of a stable keeper named William Richardson of Haverhill, Mass.

City Marshal Johnson informed the owner of the team by telegraph after the arrest, and received a telegram from Mr. Richardson, Friday evening, describing the turnout, which is now in the Marshal's possession.

The arrested party states that he stole a horse at Stonington, Mass., last Friday, and went to Lowell, where the officers got after him, and he left the team.

He seemed utterly broken down by the discovery of his theft, and after being put in a cell endeavored to commit suicide by tying his handkerchief round his neck, and pulling on it till he was nearly suffocated. Officer Maloon heard the noise he made while doing so, and going in found him nearly exhausted, being black in the face and nearly on the verge of strangulation. He untied the handkerchief, and removed everything which the prisoner might use to kill himself with. Later in the day "Parker" was feeling better physically, although weak from his attempt to shorten his life, but was mentally feeble, being inclined to bemoan his wretched situation.

☞ A rather strange pair of twin apples, of which one appears to be a pear—may be seen at Mr. Shores' Bookstore. On one twig grew, side by side, a Gravenstein apple of small size, and a small pear, or apple of exact pear shape. This freak of nature, or sort of jamais fruit, was taken from an apple tree in the garden of Mr. Thomas Brackett, in this city, where the limbs of an apple tree and a seckel pear are locked—though whether this close association of trees has anything to do with the result, is at least doubtful, or whether the pear is anything but an apple strangely maltormed and elongated.

THE EXCURSION by moonlight, on Thursday evening, in steamer Appledore, for Capt. Baker's benefit, was a success every way; the night being fine, the breeze light and cool, the sea very smooth, and the moon doing her level best for the occasion. The party (whose number must have made the affair pecuniarily gratifying to Capt. Baker,) was, as it should have been, if for no other reason than from good will towards the courteous and unassuming beneficiary, thoroughly good natured and orderly throughout, there being neither dispute, quarrel nor vulgarity to injure the harmony of the occasion or annoy any. Several "objectionable characters" who presented themselves as candidates for admission to the party, were respectfully but firmly declined by the managers, and the result of this judicious exclusion was an enjoyable trip for a large number of respectable people.

The start was made at 8 o'clock, the Portsmouth Cornet Band making the music till the lower fort was passed, after which the vocalists took it up, and nearly all hands joined their voices in harmonious concord, although truth compels me to state that each little group manifested a glorious independence of the time and tune of the rest,—"Home, sweet home," "John Brown," "Wish I was a baby," "Sherman's march," "Missionary hymn" and "A cottage by the sea" being the favorite pieces on the main deck, while a number of aspiring youths who were up stairs on the roof, were about equally divided between "A life on the ocean wave" and "We won't go home till morning." As all these songs were under way together, some little confusion might have been detected in the minor details, but the general effect was very grand. When the first lull occurred in the harmony, I thought I would treat the people to some music as was music, and immediately sang, in a beautiful solo voice, "I'm saddest when I sing;" and on closing, was complimented by a lady with the assurance that my singing "made all who heard it equally sad." I did not sing any more.

The only drawback to the pleasure of the trip was the fearful and wonderful tobacco which one of the gentlemen smoked, which turned the delicate complexions of several of the ladies to the color of smoked halibut. People who cannot get along without smoking in presence of ladies, should smoke cigars; but, if they must use tobacco, at least should use good tobacco.

Another thing which annoyed some of the excursionists was, that a big, bright lantern was hung up on a post, just where all the flirtation was going on, which somewhat interfered with that pastime. However, of course it did not interfere with me, as I am (theoretically) opposed to flirtation,—who wouldn't be, after seeing his sweetheart going out for a drive to Rye Beach with another fellow?

On the outward trip, many of the ladies seemed a little apprehensive about something or other, and lemons and sour apples were in demand; but on the return all fears had vanished, and fun and good humour prevailed till the steamer reached the wharf,—in season for all who didn't have anybody to "sit up with," to get snugly in bed before midnight. COW ASTRAY.

A DARK RED COW about 7 years old, with a little white on the end of her tail, a slit in the right ear, and straight horns—strayed or stolen from pasture in Portsmouth on Monday last. Whoever will return or give information concerning her, will be rewarded by JOSEPH W. AKERMAN or DANIEL H. SPINNEY.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thorough

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, dizziness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and signature printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, THEREBY MAKING THE INVESTMENT UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 39th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Land embraces some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pasture. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $25,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at up on of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $33 (gold) each half year.
" " London....£7 s6. 10. "
" " Frankfort..87 fl. 30 krtzrs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

A BACKWOODS STORY.

Nellie Benson was the belle of the settlement. She had never seen the city in her life—not even a village, unless the store at the cross-roads, and the blacksmith shop, and the log church, and the schoolhouse, which kept it company, might be called one.

She was a beauty and a blonde—not of that negative, albion type, alike characless and blondeless, but with life, and which seemed to have borrowed a tinge from her own wavy, luxuriant tresses; frizzled sunbeams Bill Elkins said they were, but you will make allowance for Bill when you come to know him better. Golden, you might have ventured to call them; but had you presumed to hint they were red, it would have taken at least a dozen preliminary fights to have decided to whom belonged the right, to say nothing of the honor, of chastising your insolence.

By the time Nellie was sixteen, every stripling in the settlement old enough to be trusted to go hunting by himself, either was, or had been in love with her. No, there was one exception. Bill Elkins had escaped the general contagion. His time was so fully taken up in making fun of the others that he had none left for anything serious on private account.

Which of all her admirers Nellie liked best was a secret which, if she knew it, she had never divulged, even to herself.

George Westbrook was the only son of a gentleman who had sought, with the remnant of his fortune, a home for himself and family on the Western frontier. Mr. Westbrook had lost his life in a desperate encounter between the settlers and the Indians, some years before the commencement of our story, leaving his wife and son no other provision than the tract of land he had purchased, most of which was still covered by the forest.

Left self-dependent at an age thus early, the natural energy of George's character seemed at once to spring into full development. With the aid of an occasional helping hand, and his mother's judicious counsel, he had been able not only to support himself and her, but to supply their humble home with many a simple comfort unknown to many of their wealthier neighbors. He had found time besides to consider the studies he had begun under his father's guidance, and made himself a better scholar, and was far better informed, than hundreds of those whose acquirements are vouched for in barbarous latin on college sheepskin.

We would do him injustice not to add that he was handsome enough to fill his mother's heart with pride, and to have caused those of his companions to burst with envy, had they suspected him of the slightest inclination for Nellie. But the two had been so reserved in each other's presence as to convey an impression that the feeling between them was one of indifference. This opinion Bill Elkins, who was a great friend of George, took pains, for some unaccountable reason, to strengthen—at the same time, in strict confidence, tipping himself a wink of inward satisfaction.

Nellie was a frequent visitor at Mrs. Westbrook's. The lady had been her dead mother's dearest friend, and to her, with something akin to filial trust, her craving heart had turned in the hour of sorrow, and had not been sent empty away. The motherless girl sought and received a mother's advice and sympathy from her mother's friend, and scarce a day passed but she found herself in need of one or the other.

George and Nellie, of course, saw much of each other. In their earliest years they played and read story-books together, and sometimes fell out, as children will. As they grew older they became less familiar; feeling, probably, a sort of brotherly and sisterly attachment the one for the other; but as neither had ever had a brother or sister, they were possibly not very well qualified to form an opinion. Brothers and sisters, as a general rule, are not bound to be distant, or to grow embarrassed in each other's presence, or to blush when observed by others. But may be these two were an exception.

What brought so elegant and refined a gentleman as Mr. Clarence Hastings—permit us to introduce him with our blandest bow,—so far beyond the pale of civilization, we haven't time just now to enquire. It wasn't to buy land,—he hadn't that sort of speculation in his eye. It was probably to kill a few buffalo, or scalp a few Indians, just for amusement. At all events he came armed and accoutred in a manner that amazed the oldest hunter, and filled Bill Elkins with amazement.

Bill took stock in the young stranger exclusively, and soon talked him a reputation which Daniel Boone himself would have found it difficult to sustain. It was wonderful, he said, how much a man could learn out of books. Why, Mr. Hastings knew all about game, even to the best methods of cooking it; and as for Indians, bless your soul, if he was a missionary in disguise, he couldn't know them better.

A handsome person and polished manners, set off by engaging conversational powers—advantages which Mr. Hastings was by no means backward in displaying—soon made him a general favorite with the forest fair. Your tastes, after all, my young boarding-school friend, are not very different from those of your backwoods sister. A nice young man will be admired, and perhaps as readily in a backwood cabin as in a Fifth Avenue mansion.

It was not till his fame had already been considerably noised about, that Bill Elkins found an opportunity of introducing his friend to "the belle." The acquaintance seemed mutually agreeable, and was afterwards followed up with a persistency on the part of the gentleman, that made George Westbrook, all things considered, feel a good deal more like a man than a brother.

Love may come by degrees, but its discovery is apt to be sudden. It was not till he saw its object the placid recipient of another's attentions, that George had the slightest suspicions of the state of his own heart. And then it was not a suspicion, it was certainly revealed as if by a flash.

Had he sought the first opportunity to make known his discovering to the person immediately concerned, ten to one it would have led to an equally sudden discovery to her. But he had had not sufficient tact or sufficient experience for that, and was, withal, too proud. He saw another, as he supposed, preferred to himself, and felt irritated besides, as he reflected how unfavorably his own awkward and disconcerted manner must have compared with the self-posession and graceful ease of the city fop, the first and only time they had met in Nellie's presence. Young Hastings had then been more that usually brilliant. He had talked nothings, it is true, but he had talked them well, so well that George was half convinced that that was where his strength lay, and once or twice had sought to turn the conversation in a different channel. Whether his efforts had been foiled by superior cleverness or cool impudence, was a question he found himself much perplexed to decide. He more than suspected he had been ridiculed to his face, and before hers. No wonder that the next meeting of George and Nellie ended in a bitter quarrel, and a parting without explanation.

The hunting excursion on which Bill Elkins had promised to take his new acquaintance was, by Bill's advice, deferred. He had lately seen signs of Indians in the forests, and, though he felt every confidence in his own and his friend's powers in anything like a fair fight, still such rascals won't fight fair; and if anything should happen, it would be certainly break somebody's heart, which would be very sad to think of. The hunt was definitely postponed, and Mr. Hastings became more particular than ever in his attentions to Nellie.

One night the young people of the settlement had assembled on one of those occasions which young people will always find of getting together. Nellie Benson and Clarence Hastings, as usual, were inseparable; and in more than one whispering group the question was discussed, when it was to be. Among so many disappointed aspirants, the stranger's success might have proved a dangerous triumph, but each consoled his own chargrin by the satisfaction he felt at that of his neighbor.

Mr. Benson's house was more than two miles distant, and the honor of escorting Nellie home was conceded to Mr. Hastings. The path lay through the densest part of the forest, but the moon shone brightly, and lovers' dreams are not of danger.

As her attendant grew more than unusually poetical, Nellie began to find him just a little tiresome, and caught herself wondering whether, after all, the sterling good sense of George Westbrook wasn't a more desirable accomplishment than the ability to take nonsense in strict accordance with the rules of grammar.

Whatever might have been the result of her reflections, she was startled from them by a horrible yell; and, at the same instant, a hideous savage, frightfully painted and brandishing his tomahawk sprang into the open moonlight a few feet in advance.

Nellie convulsively clung to the arm of her companion, who stood for a moment petrified with fright; and then tearing himself away, and leaving the defenceless girl to her fate, fled for life with a speed which soon carried him out of the reach of peril.

As the savage stooped over the form of the swooning girl, he was sprung upon with a bound as sudden as his own; and with one hand George Westbrook seized him by the throat, and with the other snatched the tomahawk from his grasp, and raised it to strike.

Before the blow had time to fall, the young man's arm was arrested by an exclamation, in a familiar voice:

"Hang it, George, be careful! don't you see it's me?"

"What? Bill Elkins?"

"Don't you see it is? Let me go!"

"But what is the meaning of this? Your folly has killed her, and if it has—"

"If it has you may finish up the job you were in such a hurry to begin just now. I only wanted to show Nellie what a cowardly sneak that Hastings chap is, and maybe took a wrong way of doing it. But see, she's coming to. Good night, and keep a sharp look-out for Indians."

Bill was off.

Hastings never stopped till he reached the house from which he had started. He was in the midst of a thrilling narrative of blood-thirsty savages by whom Nellie Benson had been carried off and himself overpowered, though he had finally succeeded in cutting his way through a host of enemies, when Bill Elkins, in full paint and feathers, stalked in, and, as they say in Hamlet, stopt and unfolded himself.

Mr. Hastings didn't stay all night in that settlement. Nor did he ever come back to take his promised hunt with Bill. Poor fellow! his end was melancholy—he returned to the haunts of civilization, and, at an early age filled a politician's grave.

If George Westbrook didn't save Nellie's life, he had shown his readiness to do it, and the will was taken for the deed. They were married at last; and many, many years afterward, the writer of this went to school with their grandchildren.

The Chronicle.

For the Chronicle.

Lift up the veil, Oh night,
From sorrow's boundless height,
Darkened with anguish and with partings past.
Through tear-drops falling fast,
Oh let my wistful eye the stars behold,
As types of joys untold,
And a sure heaven of bliss beyond, the angels shall unfold.

Take from my aching heart,
So torn and cleft apart,
Its weight of desolation and of pain,
Till kept all unprofane
From murmurings, it shall beat itself to peace,
And its long anguish cease
In the eternal arms outspread and waiting its release.

Make this, my broken life,
With all its daily strife,
And so divided as its treasures go,—
A higher light to know:
Till from the steep ascent of duties done,
And sorrows, one by one,
My fainting soul shall catch the rays of the Eternal sun;

Till with submissive will
I hear God's "Peace, be still,"
And life's long shadows tell of coming eve,
When I no more shall grieve;
When the dear hands that beckon to the skies,
Shall point out Paradise,
And earth's farewells forever hushed, seraphic songs shall rise.

QUAKE ENOCH ARDEN CASE.— A case rivalling in interest and romance the famous Enoch Arden case culminated in Concord, on Tuesday, the history of which is this, in brief:

About sixty years ago, one Samuel Eastman of this city, went to work with Deacon Willey, to learn the blacksmith trade, in the shop which is still standing near the corner of the old Turnpike and West street. When about nineteen years of age he married a woman three years his senior in age, and had by her three children, two sons and a daughter. One of the sons, Rev. T. B. Eastman, is a Baptist clergyman, now living on Pleasant avenue, this city, and at present employed as a city missionary. The other son died some years since, and the daughter married and is living in Nashua.

The times went rather hard with Mr. Eastman, it being a very common thing at that time for men to be imprisoned for debt by hard-faced creditors. Becoming somewhat involved, and seeing no immediate relief before him, as he says, he left his family and went to Massachusetts in search of work. Not being successful in obtaining employment at his trade he shipped and went to sea, and has followed the sea more or less ever since. His family here never heard from him from that day till a few weeks since, nor he from them. He never returned to Concord, but settled in North Truro, Mass., married a second time and had a family of four or five children. During the month of June last, Rev. T. B. Eastman casually learned that there was a man bearing his father's name, and of his age, living in North Truro, Mass., and he at once addressed a letter of inquiry to the Postmaster of that place, and in due time received a reply. A second letter of inquiry revealed the fact of his birth-place being the town of Newton, which at once decided the son to assume the part of "Japheth in search of his father."

On the 5th of July he started for North Truro, and was successful in finding the man for whom he was searching, meeting him in the street, accompanied with a grandchild. A few minutes of inquisitive talk satisfied him of his father's identity, and he made himself known to him. The surprise of the father can be better imagined than described, and he asked the question which Joseph put to his brethren, with a modification, which ensued revealing that the old gentleman was living with one of his daughters, and when assured that his first love was living, he expressed a desire to see her. He went home and revealed the matter to his daughter, and the next morning came to the stopping-place of his son and took him to his home, and introduced him to his half-sister, who warmly welcomed him.

To make a long story short, the son returned to this city, and has since corresponded with his father and mother (the latter living in Nashua), to arrange a meeting between them. Tuesday's forenoon train brought the mother, daughter, and two granddaughters from Nashua, and the father from North Truro, and the two met at the son's house on Pleasant avenue, for the first time for more than fifty years. The meeting was a tearful one, and the son was called on to return thanks that the lost was found. The day was pleasantly spent, the old gentleman visiting the blacksmith shop in which he learned his trade. He expressed great surprise at the change made in the town since his departure, and seemed to be as much astonished as Rip Van Winkle on awaking from his sleep. He has seen much of the world in his sea-faring life, and declares Concord to be the handsomest place he has ever seen.—Concord Monitor.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED, BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The News.

The civil war in Japan is ended again.

J. Ross Browne, late minister to China, who has returned to California, heard at Yokohama that Mr. Howard, his successor, had finally decided not to accept the position. Mr. Browne will return to his post if the Department of State expresses its approval of his course in China.

New Hampshire Items.

Before the invention of lucifer matches, fires in fire-places were carefully kept from going out, but we doubt if many were ever preserved such a length of time as in the following instance. The Suncook Valley Times says that Mrs. John S. Jones, of Strafford, brought fire from Durham sixty-three years ago, and for sixty-one years this fire was not permitted to go out. About two years ago it was unfortunately extinguished, and had to be re-kindled with fire borrowed from a neighbor. The family had no matches, and did not need them, as plenty of live coals were always on the hearth. There has never been a stove in the house.

Dr. Isaac H. Hazelton, formerly connected with the Insane Asylum in Concord, has opened at Mattapan, near Boston, a private institution for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases, for women only.

A gentleman in Nashua owns a pet donkey. The other night he left him hitched at his back door, and in the morning he was gone. Some rogue caught a glimpse of the animal in the dim light of late even or early morn, deemed him a valuable prize, and essayed to ride him away. As the speed of the donkey, when disinclined to "go," is about one mile in twelve hours, the disgusted thief soon dismounted, and left his relative tied to a fence on the Concord road, where he was found the next day.

As a party of persons were riding down Cotton hill, Laconia, a few nights ago, part of the harness broke, causing the horse to run and upset the carriage, Preston Moulton, one of the overturned, had a leg broken.

Col. Mark Noble died at Great Falls on the 15th instant. His wife died a few hours later, from a disease aggravated by her watchfulness of her husband.

Communication.

THE DROUTH.—Editors of the N. H. Gazette. — Having frequently been asked if I ever remember so severe a drought as that of the present year, led me to examine my records of the weather (which I have kept through a long life.) I find a record of a severe drouth in the year 1841, and notes as follows; 'The drouth set in May 25,—fine 11, 12, 26.—light showers July 8, 10, 26, 31—light showers Aug. 10, 11, —August 22 fine shower wetting cultivated land about 1 1-2 inches.—30, 31, heavy rain wetting the surface of the ground thoroughly. The ground about two feet below the surface was as dry as on the top. — considered the severest drouth in the memory of old men. The crops were estimated as follows: 1-5 of a crop corn, grain a total failure, hay half crop, potatoes 3-4 crop, vegetables 1-4 of a crop,—the latter rains produced an abundant crop of fall feed.

The present drouth set in July 9, and five light showers have fallen up to the 15th instant. Vegetation all appeared to be stagnated, leaves lying on the ground and wetted before yesterday's rain,—the probability is that some potatoes and vegetable will fall short of an average crop. J. F.

☞ Rev. Dr. Miner of Boston made a speech at the Prohibitory Convention in which he said "all Hell was moved with delight at the daily issues of the Boston Journal, Transcript and Post," which oppose the Constabulary law. As the Rev. Dr. is a Universalist and preaches universal salvation, the Boston papers are chaffing him considerably over his intemperance of speech in which the word hell was profusely interspersed. They think the Rev. Doctor's denunciation must be nothing beyond "words, words, words," as he chose to illustrated his strong point by reference to what he does not believe in.

☞ City Marshal Johnson received dispatches from Stoneham, Lynn and Charlestown, Saturday evening, asking for the detention of "Geo Wilson," the horse thief. His talent for borrowing other people's property seems to have been exerted in several places. "Pium" thinks it will be some time before the prisoner will see Freedom again.

—The happiest man— he who thinks himself so.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. I. F. Holton.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Continued.

Prof. W. A. Rogers has become acquainted with an aged, lame, and half-blind farmer, Ira Wenzler, of Lanesville, Conn., who has hit upon an incredibly intricate method of calculating the time in which a planet revolves on its axis. It has cost the man years of intense mental labor, and hits quite near the truth. Prof. Rogers will not vouch for it, and Prof. Peirce thinks it not worth a straw; — thinks we have never seen Jupiter or Saturn, the red-hot planets being always invested with an ocean of clouds.

SECTION B. — Professors Wurtz and C. H. Hitchcock spoke hopefully of the Ammonoosuc gold-fields in New Hampshire and Vermont. The rock is richer as you descend.

Dr. A. C. Hamlin, nephew of the ex-Vice-president, and himself the author of the most crushing book on rebel cruelties at Andersonville, exhibited a splendid set of gems, all found in our own country by himself and friends. It consisted of about 150 different varieties of tourmoline, beryl, garnet, amethyst, &c.

Thomas Meehan of Philadelphia advances the opinion that plants are less inclined to stamens as their vitality is greater. Prof. Agassiz raised the question whether the normal sex in animals be not female.—the male being a degradation of the higher type!

Lastly, Prof. J. Baker Edwards read a paper on the development of the trichina spiralis.

(Evening, at the Court House.)—L. H. Morgan presented speculations on the migrations of Indians, as determined by the facilities for locomotion and support furnished by some regions rather than others. He called to his aid also traditions, known facts and dialectic peculiarities. From these he concludes that the valley of the Columbia was undoubtedly the nursery and starting point of the Indian tribes of this continent.

(Evening, at Lyceum Hall.)—Eugene A. Groux, M. D., of 13 Wykoff street, Williamsburg, N. Y., was born (at Hamburg, Germany, 25 or 35 years ago,) without a breast-bone. He does not seem to need one. It is believed that "his heart is in the right place" literally, and that its action is normal. Anatomists have been led to modify their views of the position of the heart, the vulgar notion that it is on the left side being a little nearer correct than was imagined. When our orator lays his hand on his heart he may cover a little more than was supposed of that reversed cone, the apex or lowest point of which comes so near the left side as to make its beat most perceptible there. The physiologists have learned even more. By attaching three feathers to his chest he makes the contraction of three of its four cavities visible across a lecture room. Placing the bulbs of three tubes terminated with glass and filled with colored liquids, against his breast, their rise and fall exhibit the motions of the heart. By a contrivance allied to the sphygmograph perhaps, he communicates their beats to a telegraph and they are heard on a bell.

In Salem Lyceum Hall you go up a flight of stairs, and instead of finding yourself in the upper story as you had expected, you are at the outer and upper seat of series that descend very rapidly to the table down in the centre, like an anatomical theatre. Dr. J. Baxter Upham did part of the talking, and aided Dr. Groux in showing us the above phenomena.

The Franklin Telegraph Company put a wire at our disposal, and we telegraphed his heart-beat to other audiences in Boston, New Haven and New York,—some of the best telegraphers of the land doing our talking! The beat of the pulse of several persons in the city hospital at Boston were telegraphed to us and to New York. An arrangement with a magnesium light made the beats visible on the walls of a darkened room. To exhibit their force requires more delicate instruments and more careful manipulation than is possible in a lecture room. But it can be done across the Atlantic. The precise intervals between the various heart-beats have been recorded by means of the chronograph of the magnetic clock at Cambridge. The session at Lyceum Hall, at which great care and firmness prevented overcrowding, continued till very late. It was intensely interesting.

The Association accepted an invitation of the Salem City Council, to an excursion in the harbors of Salem and Boston, on the steamer Escort, to leave Phillips' wharf at 9 1-2 A. M., Saturday.

—The latest undergraduate joke at Yale College was the transfer, by midnight, of a florist's sign—"New Haven Nursery"—to a conspicuous position on a flourishing young ladies' seminary.

LAUNCHED on Saturday afternoon from the boat house of John W. Neal, Newcastle, ya cht "Clytie," owned by Wm. A. Peirce, Esq., of this city. She is sloop rigged, 17 feet keel, six feet four inches beam, is a perfect model and will stand criticism. She was built more for comfort and pleasure than for speed, but her builder thinks she will win at least the second purse if but two entries. S.

☞ The Boston Post think there is as much internal as external bathing at the sea-side resorts.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

LYCEUM.—A correspondent broaches the subject of Lyceums for the next winter. He would have a scientific course, rather than anything that savors of a debating society—thinks we might have a course of lectures (interspersed with other entertainments,) imparting agreeable and solid information, such as would be remembered and put to good use, —thinks that the sale of five hundred tickets at $1 50, ought to furnish a course of fifteen lectures, by omitting from the list of lecturers those whose position and personal favoritism alone secures for them a high price for lecturing,—and suggests Congress Hall as the place for the lectures.

If we are to have a course, nothing would be more profitable than scientific lectures, if the people of Portsmouth will come forward to sustain them. The sciences are nearly all rapidly progressive, and a few years makes great addition to the development of those which most interest the public. A few seasons ago Professor Gunning in an unassuming manner delivered a course on Geology at the Court street church, unanimously voted by those present (people of the best judgment, too) to be of the highest order. Such a course ought now to draw a large turnout at the Temple, and we hope some day to hear it repeated there. The lectures on chemistry by Dr. Jackson some years since were very taking and made deeply interesting to old and young by practical illustration. And there are probably now many with the ability and disposition to popularize various branches of science, and so to exhibit the wonders of nature as to deeply interest any audience of ordinary intelligence. But these luxuries must be paid for, and the Temple is none too large for the attendance that ought to come upon meritorious scientific Lyceum lectures.

Lyceum lectures have been a drug in this market for several years, leaving negro concerts, theatrical entertainments, some of them of more than doubtful morality, and other exhibitions of like character to take their place in the cultivation of popular taste.

If the people of Portsmouth could be brought to realize the necessity of providing high-toned, useful means of catering to the disposition towards public entertainments, our community would be all the better for it, and we say amen to the idea of our correspondent for a Lyceum course of popular lectures on scientific subjects next winter.

We learn that it is the purpose of Osgood Lodge to celebrate their first Anniversary on Friday the 27th inst. by a large Picnic, Chowder, &c., at Wallis' Sands, upon which occasion a large delegation of the Brothers and their wives from Manchester with their Cornet Band, are expected to be present, together with the R. W. Grand Lodge, and the R. W. Grand Encampment of New Hampshire.

SEAVEY'S ISLAND report says, is to receive its first Government requisition, since its purchase, it being in contemplation to build a Machine Shop there, the present being wholly inadequate for the immense and increasing amount of business on hand. We have that the demand for good Blacksmiths at this Yard is great at the present time.

THE WEATHER.—July 9th, we had two inches of rain. Since that time the whole amount that had fallen until last Sunday (Aug. 15) was about a quarter of an inch. The farmers were complaining that their fields were drying up and that vegetables were being badly affected by the drought. The rain on the first of last week amounted to 1½ inches.

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to retrieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, A BLOOD DEPURANT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflammatory, but combine the extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, dyspepsia, or nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from this Ointment, which HOLLOWAY'S TREATMENT might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as sugar.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1833 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself expected that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, since I took a dose or two more I am a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and now I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and have used it for years. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. I think in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any Mercurial preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Costiveness, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered by such quacks. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever take a Two Year Old COLT, body light red, dark mane and tail, with star in forehead. The above reward will be paid to any person who will give information that will lead to the conviction of the thief, if stolen, or five dollars if an estray—on returning him to me at my factory. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure Consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has not and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder; the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the shield in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive power, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop the cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Scrofula, or any other disease, if the lungs are so disorganized, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive power, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop the cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Scrofula, or any other disease, if the lungs are so disorganized, or the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, with a cough, sweats, &c., bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what good will it do? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. There is but one only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient goes fast and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally consult DR. SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. dly1a4

CITY COUNCIL, Thursday Evening.—In Board of Alderman, Mayor Jones in chair. Ald. Clark absent.

The Com. on Claims were divided in their report on petition of John Barrett, for remission of fine in Police Court—Ald. Miller being opposed to granting said prayer, while Ald. Clark adhered to the former report of the Com. to grant the same. On motion, voted 6 to 1 (Cotton) that Mr. Barrett have leave to withdraw his petition.

The Com. on Streets recommended that the petition of A. W. Haven and others, for the widening of the upper portion of Congress Street, be granted, Ald. Cotton asked the probable cost, stating that he had heard it estimated at $1000 or more. Ald. Spinney replied that the expense could not be much, as the Leavitt estate would give the two feet of land to widen the sidewalk; and at any rate, the Com. thought it advisable to lay out and establish the extension now, even if the Cutter estate at the corner be not meddled with at present — as the Leavitt heirs are ready to lay a pavement fronting their premises. It was voted, finally, to recommit the subject to the same Com. to ascertain the cost of the widening, procure a plan of the same, and report at next meeting.

The special Com. on licensing Dogs, (Ald. Miller and Nowell) reported an Ordinance which it was thought will suit the case, if the Council shall concur, when they meet again.

Ald. Miller, after an amendment or two, moved to refer it to the Com. on Bills on 2nd reading; but Ald. Nowell stated that Ald. Cotton was a member of that Committee, and he did not wish him to have anything to do with the Dogs. So the rules were suspended, and the Ordinance passed.

S. T. Edgerly was given permission to move a building.

The Mayor stated that it was necessary to make provision for $14,000 City Bonds to become due in September; and it was voted to pay them from the City Treasury, which is heavily in funds now, and to hire the money temporarily, when needed next winter.

Ald. Slater called up the petition for the North Millpond Bridge from the table, and after some discussion, it was laid over to next meeting. Ald. Slater stated that the right to place a bridge there was reserved by Messrs. Cheever and Haven, when they sold the Pond to the present owners; and that Mr. M. H. Goodrich would allow the same to be constructed for $100 for a small bridge, or $150 for a large one.

The Mayor and Ald. Nowell hoped no road would be laid out on a level with the rails; and Ald. Nowell stated that he had consulted with the Eastern Road officers, and they seemed favorable to a bridge high over the rails at Dover Street, and he should soon confer with the Concord Road officials.

The petition of Wm. Plaisted, to rent the hall over new State St. Ward Room, was laid on table till next meeting. Ald. Spinney also stated that the Young Men's Temperance Society had applied to him for use of the same. Ald. Nowell hoped the hall would be fitted for the accomodation of the Primary School now kept in the basement of the Court House, which he deemed a very unhealthy and unsuitable place.

The Mayor thought the quarters at the Court House, besides being on the lower floor, and with a fine play-yard, were pleasant and good; but Ald. Nowell stated that it was underground, with a sewer beneath it, and no sun ever shines into it, and he instanced several instances of sickness in support of his opinion, and moved that the hall referred to be fitted for a school room.

Ald. Cotton stated that the School Committee would not use it unless they saw fit; and the Com. on Schoolhouses were requested to confer with the School Com. and report.

Mr. Haines' bill for grading yard at the State St. Ward room, was voted to be paid. Likewise bill of D. H. Spinney of $25 for building sidewalk on Islington Road opposite and above Frenchman's Lane.

Mr. H. S. Harisborn's bill of $50 for trees cut last year on Sagamore Road, (the same bridge timber for which Mr. Greenleaf claimed $25,) was laid over to next meeting.

The bill of Mr. Green, of $30, for flag-stones removed from the cross-walk at his store on Market and Hanover streets, was also laid over. Ald. Spinney stated that he wished every cross-walk in the city except those at the junctions of streets, could be removed. He counted twenty between Dover St. and Market Square, and he had the benefit of bouncing over these, and more, four or five times a day. The Mayor and Ald. Miller agreed that they are a nuisance, and that there should never be a cross-walk except where two streets join, especially where there is a pavement on both sides the street.

City Messenger Towne having resigned his position, (to go to sea, it was understood,)—on motion of Ald. Miller, a vote of thanks and approval was unanimously tendered him, for the faithful and efficient manner in which he has fulfilled his duties.

AN EXPLANATION.—We owe it to the friend at Dover who sent us a dispatch by the Western Union Telegraph line Friday evening, and to the many readers here who were desirous of getting the information,—to state why it did not appear in the Chronicle, Saturday. The message-boy of that office here, not finding any one in our establishment to receive and receipt for the message—although it was paid in advance, and he knew or ought to have known that it would perish by his keeping it over,—and notwithstanding he found entrance to our composing room, and a light burning,—after calling twice or more, took the message home to sleep with him, and brought it to us in good season next morning, after the Chronicle was issued, and when it was just as valuable as last year's almanac.

Now if we have ever felt any pride in small things,—one, and the chief, is that the Chronicle Office has usually been kept open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 9 o'clock at night, (and these are our hours now) and rarely closed or left alone for a moment during that time—unlike some Express and even Telegraph offices that we have heard of. And our evening employees on this occasion were absent but temporarily, as the condition of things shew; and we now state for the information and benefit of others, that this or other authenticated articles placed in the drop-box at our office street door, would usually receive insertion next morning.

This is a cumulative vexation to us, for we have on several occasions of late received dispatches the day after the fair, for one reason or other; and although we would not blame the lad unjustly, for we have no doubt he did what he thought right—yet it was his Chinese tailor strict construction and his red-tape stupidity, which on this occasion deprived us of the news. F.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—I would like to enquire through your paper, why, after paying our money for a course of concerts on our public squares—to be given by the Cornet Band—said concerts are not forthcoming? They would be very acceptable on these warm evenings, and as we know the Band are abundantly supplied with appropriate music we see no reason why the public should be disappointed. SUBSCRIBER.

A MEETING of those interested in Horticulture is invited for this evening, relative to holding an Exhibition this season. Everybody who knows the difference between a horse and a hen, or can tell a rose from a nettle, or an apple from a pumpkin-head,—we should suppose would be ready to do their part in all the Fairs.

☞ A patent has been granted to John E. Lewis of Kittery, for improved coffee pot.

Josiah Lewis has bought out the Kittery Trade Association, which is settling up its affair.

NAVAL.—U. S. S. Gettysburg arrived at lower quarantine, Friday afternoon, with nine yellow fever cases on board.

U. S. S. California was taken into the Navy Yard Dry Dock to be coppered, on Saturday.

☞ It is reported that Government is intending to abandon Whale's Back Light House, and build one on Odiorne's Point. It is said that the light keeper has already received notice to that effect.

☞ Sylvester A. Parker, the horse thief, appeared before the Police Court on Saturday, and was held in the sum of $1000.

A SHOOTING CASE.—Chas. G. Smith, mariner, accidentally shot himself in the hand while practising at a target, Saturday evening, and afterwards concluded he would kill his wife, with whom he had some difficulty. He found her at Jos. Danielson's on Daniel Street, and opened fire immediately from his seven-shooter, but luckily the ball only grazed her head and buried itself in the wall. Before he could do any more damage he was overpowered and had his revolver taken from him. He spent his Sabbath at the Police Station, but wasn't very penitent, being jealous and inclined to vengeance.

THE TROT at Dover, Saturday afternoon, was a hot one, and after six heats in the 2.30 race, which lasted until 8 o'clock in the evening, it was found necessary to leave the matter unfinished. The time was the best made there for a long time, the quickest being 2.31 1-2 and the slowest, 2.36. Empress was withdrawn after winning two heats. Black Walnut had two heats, Nellie Locke one, and the last was declared a dead heat. The deciding heats will be trotted this (Monday) forenoon, commencing at 10.30.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.—The Fair lately held at Gosport realized the sum of $178.80 in aid of the schools, amount raised last year $80.55.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—therefore

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet resolves to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power; these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would state that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, dark green, square bottles with red labels printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed on red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 357 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $25 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. "
" Frankfort...87 flr. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

RYE, Aug. 18.

The height of the season is over. Sunday was the big day, and although the storm prevented much riding, still there were probably more people at the beaches than ever before. The Hotels and private houses were all full, and in some instances cots were put up to accomodate those who came in the late trains. The season, though, is on the wane, and not many will be left two weeks from now. The Ocean House Band, it is reported, will leave on Saturday, which is rather earlier than usual.

Business as a general thing has not been so good as last year, but still, it has been fair, and money will be made by the majority of the Hotels and boarding houses. The Hops at the Farragut and Atlantic Houses will be continued until Sep. 1st. So far they have been very successful and pleasant affairs, and the music by Mr. Knights of Boston has given universal satisfaction. The inclement weather somewhat interfered with the fair of the Exeter folks at Weld's Hall, but was patronized by quite a large number. Private tableaux were given at A. Perkins', on Tuesday night, which were very successfully carried out by the boarders there, and were enjoyed by a large number of invited guests. Religious services were held at Weld's Hall, Sunday morning, and at the Farragut House the same evening. Mr. Anderson of Boston who has for the past two days been repairing the gas apparatus at the Farragut House was very severely burned about the hands and arms Wednesday afternoon, by an explosion of gas, caused by his lighting a match in the house which contained the gasometer, before turning it off. A similar accident happened to Mr. Frank A. Philbrick, one of the proprietors of the house, about a week ago. He was burned badly, but is now out again, and doing well. R.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, Aug. 19.

A young man now residing in this town left his home seventeen years ago, leaving at home a younger brother, who left home soon after. Neither has seen or heard from the other since, until yesterday. The younger brother wrote to this town in the early part of the war, directing to his brother, who he heard was living here. The letter fell into the hands of a party of the same name, who wrote back, telling him that his brother's wife was dead, and that he was in the U. S. service. A few days ago he came here, and went to work within a few rods of his brother's house; seeing him daily, but not recognizing him. A gentlemen who noticed their strong resemblance to each other, satisfied himself by inquiries that they were the long separated brothers, and brought them together. The meeting, after they recognized each other, was most affecting. It is needless to add that they have scarcely been out of each other's sight since.

A good thing came to my knowledge to-day. At the Methodist meeting last Sunday evening, there was present, a gentleman who, since the assembling of the last N. H. Legislature, has been entitled to the prefix of "Hon." to his name. A collection was taken to pay the society's gas bill. This gentleman placed a ten dollar bill in the box. One day, meeting the pastor, he inquired what debts the society had. "Well," was the reply, "we owe $140 on our organ." n less time than it takes me to write it, $140 were placed in his hand, to pay the balance due. "Anything else?" "Well, we have been thinking of procuring a new carpet, but we feel scarcely able, just now." After a few minutes conversation, the pastor was directed to procure the carpet, and send the bill to the Hon. gentleman. That is the way the story was told to me to-day, and from my knowledge of the gentleman's whole-souled generosity, I place implicit faith in its truth.

Hon. John D. Lyman, of Farmington, our efficient Secretary of State, is about to take up his residence in our midst; having purchased the fine residence of Joseph Perkins, Esq., on High Street. I am told that his principal objection coming here, is to give his daughters the benefit of the Robinson Seminary.

A subscription paper was circulated here some days ago, to raise money in aid of holding a fair under the auspices of the Rockingham Agricultural Society. At last advices the subscriptions came in slowly. The trustees held a meeting yesterday, and a fair was decided on, for the 16th, 17th and 18th of September, proximo. No location was decided on, however, this matter, I suppose, being left open for "bids" from other towns. It is said that Hampton and Newmarket have made quite liberal offers.

The new wheel being put in at the factory is of the "improved turbine" pattern; and, notwitstanding it is but about four feet in diameter, will exert a force of 200 horse power. A new "dressing" apparatus is also to be added to the machinery. This is of English make, is called a "slasher," and is said to do the work of several of the old machines, with much less attention. H.

NATIVE STOCK.—Where can we find a breed of cattle possessing the combined qualities required by the farmers of our hills, more fully than the natives, when bred a series of years with the same care as are the fancy breeds? We want working beef and dairy stock combined. Almost any breed will work, but some require a third more keeping than others do.

The Durhams are large for beef, but they also take all the richest pastures, the best of hay, and the shakings of the meal bag. Who ever heard of a big butter cow among the Durhams, according to cost. The Ayrshires are too small for beef, but are rather easily kept. The new fancy breeds—Alderneys and Jerseys—probably give the richest milk, but I have information from those who have them that they are small milkers, which spoils them for cheese dairies; besides they are small and ill-looking animals. Now where shall we find the flowing pail of milk for cheese, or two pounds of butter each per day, combined with a handsome form, and from six to twelve hundred pounds of beef, in such perfection as in well bred native stock, taking into consideration the cost of breed, keeping, &c.

WEEDING POTATOES WITH SHEEP.—It may not be known to farmers in general that it is a common practice in some of the potato-growing districts to turn a flock of sheep into the potato field for the purpose of eating down the weeds. The sheep will not touch a potato vine. This pasturing with sheep is very advantageous when the crop is a late planted one, so that the hoeing cannot be completed until the haying or harvesting is finished. At the growing season it is the farmer's aim to keep down the grass and weeds, so that they may be covered by the cultivator and hoe, when these are used. Pasturing with sheep will attain this object. Early planted crops, the cultivation of which is completed in the early part of summer, frequently becomes grassy and weedy before the time of digging, when the size of the tops precludes cultivation. In this stage the sheep are economical weeders. It is hardly necessary to mention that the feed thus given to the sheep makes a double profit inasmuch as it costs absolutely nothing, while labor is saved and weeds prevented from seeding.—Farm and Fireside.

The Chronicle.

TWICE WEDDED.—The following singular phase of social life in the "Garden City" is presented in the columns of the Chicago Post:

There is a very remarkable case of matrimonial infelicity (?) in this city which is not generally known to the public. In the West Division lives a woman with two husbands, to each of which she has been married in legal form. At the time the war broke out this woman was living with her first husband, by whom she had three children. Soon after the breaking out of the rebellion her husband enlisted and went off in the role of a bold soldier boy. A year or two after his wife heard that he had been killed in battle. She heard nothing from him personally; the war closed, and he failed to report at his former headquarters in Chicago.

His wife now considered herself a widow beyond all doubt, and in course of time she married again. A few months ago husband number one returned to his long deserted domicil, but like Enoch Arden, only to find his wife the spouse, of another man. But unlike Enoch Arden, failed to die of a broken heart. A council of war was held by the three heads of the family, and the difficulty amicably settled. What to some men and women similarly situated would have resulted in pistols, blood, and litigation, was settled readily and satisfactorily by this amicable trio.

It was mutually agreed that both bus bands should be liege lords of the woman on equal terms, and she should be the wife of both husbands. Soon after the soldier-husband returned home, the wife presented to him and to the world, another child, the offspring of husband number two. But this circumstance did not disturb the peace of the household. And there dwells the happy family—one wife, two husbands, and four children—in a small cottage, as quietly and contentedly as though nothing unusual had happened.

THE "DEAD" STILL LIVING.—Several papers in Massachusetts announce a calamity as having taken place as follows:

"On Tuesday, the 11th inst., J. W. Junkins, a clerk in the store of Taylor, Kilpatrick & Co., of Manchester, fell from a ladder, thirty feet, to the sidewalk, and was instantly killed. He belonged to Kingston, N. H., to which place his remains were conveyed for interment."

The Manchester Mirror says:—

We called at Taylor, Kilpatrick & Co's., this morning, and asked Mr. Judkins to show us the ladder from which he fell, and the indentation in the sidewalk where his head struck. We made especial inquiries into his antecedents, his business and social relations, that we might give him a first rate obituary.

He seemed to manifest an unusual modesty, and declined giving us the requisite material for an extended biography. He however authorized us to say that the affair referred to did not take place on the 11th inst., that the person killed was not Judkins, nor was he a clerk in the above named store, nor in the city of Manchester — that it wasn't a ladder from which he fell, nor was the distance thirty feet,—that he didn't strike the sidewalk in his fall, and that he was not killed by the accident. In fact he didn't have a ladder to fall from, and indeed he never fell. We can further say that his remains were not taken to Kingston for burial, but that he is still in good health, and attends to his daily duties without suffering more than falls to the lot of dry goods clerks generally.

So much for the "sell" which some thoughtless fellow has disposed of to various papers throughout the country.

THE HARVARDS are training on water, and the Oxfords on beer. This is a new element in the contest which will be watched with interest by all scientific inquirers as to the effect of malt liquors on the human system. We wonder if "all Hell rejoices" when the Oxfords take their exercise and if "the" angels applaud when the Harvards boys come out? This is nice point for the judges.—Boston Herald.

—A democratic paper in Ohio concludes its leader on the new nomination with a "hurrah for Pendleton!" and the following original lines:—

We drop "Old Rosey," therefore,
Without a why or wherefore,
Or continental care for.

—A notorious bore, meeting Douglas Jerrold, said: "Well, what's going on to-day?" I am," exclaimed Jerrold, darting past the inquirer.

—What is the difference between an overcoat and a baby? An overcoat is what you wear and a baby is what you was.

—A watering place correspondent thinks that "Long Branch is an enormous yawn, with a lie at each end."

—Why is a beefsteak like a locomotive? It is not of much account without its tender.

—Why is life the greatest conundrum? Because all must give it up.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonic," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable Medicines known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sir: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The News.

It is asserted that the preliminaries of a transfer of Cuba to the United States have been signed.

The Cuban cause is assuming a more favorable aspect; conspiracies to thwart the volunteers and aid the Cubans are in existence among the Spanish residents in the island. De Rodas, the Spanish commander, is about to resign and return to Spain.

Admiral Mendez Nunez of the Spanish navy is dead.

Prince Arthur of England arrived at Halifax, Sunday, in the City of Paris, six days and eleven hours out from Queenstown,—the quickest passage on record.

Fourteen cases of sunstroke occurred in New York on Saturday. Five were fatal.

15,000 workmen in Barcelona, Spain, have struck for higher wages.

Saturday was the hottest day of the season in Philadelphia, the mercury being from 98 to 104 in the shade.

The locks in the Treasury Department at Washington have been picked by an expert, in one hour and seven minutes.

Commodore Vanderbilt was married on Saturday morning at London, Canada, to Miss Frank Crawford, daughter of Robert L. Crawford, of Mobile, Ala. Philadelphia wants water.

Old five-twenties advanced to 84 1-2 in the London market on Saturday,—the highest point yet reached.

Chicago has trichinae.

The cashier of the banking house of T. F. Morris & Co. at Yonkers, New York, named Stokes, has absconded, and his defalcation will probably reach $50,000. He left a wife and three children in Yonkers; is about 50 years old, was the friend of his employers from boyhood, and enjoyed their full confidence.

CAMP MEETINGS.—These meetings, though of southern origin, are now an Institution in New England and New York, with much more of comfort and elegance than they formerly possessed. Perley, the New York gossip writer for the Boston Journal says of them, in a late number:—

Camp Meetings are all the rage just now. They are held with great success on Long Island, up the Hudson, and in all the surroundings of New York. They are well manned, well attended and very spirited. The great success which attends them, and the season of the year at which they are held, make them an anomaly in the religious world.

By general consent there is very little religious interest in the cities in hot weather. Revivals are not thought of, and conversions are not expected. But while conversions are considered impossible in the city in summer, it is the harvest-time at the camp meetings. Immense numbers attend; the altars are crowded and conversions are numerous. Many of our camp meetings take the form of pic-nics.

A large number of families go up a week or two in advance of the meeting, pitch their tents and fit them up elegantly, and some luxuriously. Here they recreate as other families do at Newport, seashores and the Springs.

Young ladies, arrayed in white, tramp around the camp in clusters, in jockey hats trimmed with fanciful colors, as they do at fashionable watering places. And while the great mass are religiously inclined, many go to have a good time and enjoy themselves, and they do it. It is a much cheaper way to recreate than to go to fashionable watering places. Some drive up in their elegant teams, keep them at the camp and drive out daily.

We have before us, accounts of two such meetings in Massachusetts; and as the Hedding Camp Meeting is fully under way at Epping, it is a good time to notice some fault that has been found with them. One paper, edited by a Methodist, suggests that the meetings have become too worldly, less religious, and too much like places of amusement; and particularly that instead of mere tents, some persons have built cottages, and indeed pretty comfortable and rather elegant houses on the camp ground.

Really, (says Uncle Toby) we cannot see why religion may not be as pure and undefiled, in a house, as in a tent; nor why an uncomfortable camp should be more favorable to reformation or revival, than one with as many of the decencies and conveniences of civil life, as can be brought together, and enjoyed there.

The Manchester Mirror says Woodcock are plenty this year. On the shores of the Massabesic Pond, Thursday, Mr. Trest Potter shot thirty-two of these birds. This is extraordinary luck.

John Swallow, a livery stable keeper in Peterborough, fell from the loft into a crib, where he remained for some time insensible. He is now better.

THE HARVARD-OXFORD BOAT RACE. Mr. William Blaikee, London correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, and who completed the arrangements for the Harvard-Oxford rowing match, writes that the Harvards are being treated very ungenerously by the Oxonians. When negotiations were first entered into, 18 months ago, the English crew would not agree to row without a coxswain to steer, knowing that the Harvards carried no coxswain, the bow oarsman steering with his feet. To secure a trial of the relative merits and style of the respective crews, however, Harvard yielded and consented to carry a coxswain.

The Oxonians wouldn't row the race anywhere but in England and on no other river but the Thames, and the Harvards again yielded, tho' every eddy and ripple of that river was familiar to the Oxford crew, and of course unfamiliar to the Americans. The latter ordered two boats built after their arrival in England, one by an English builder, the other by an American who went to England with them. Yet the English crew pressed them with indecent speed to fix a definite day for the match before their boats were finished or they had recovered from sea sickness.

The Harvards insisted on rowing on a fair day when the wind should be favorable and the water smooth, but now are called upon to give up this proviso and row whether the day set be fair or foul. The disposition shown by the Oxonians to obtain every possible advantage leads to the suspicion that, when the day of the trial arrives, it will be found that steamers and hostile row boats will be in the way to embarrass the Harvards and prevent their winning.

The English press, too, has played a game of bluff and brag ever since the American crew landed in England, which American journalists would be ashamed to do. They belittle the efforts of the Harvards in their daily practice, and show no evidence of fairness.

At latest dates the betting which commenced at the rate of 3 to 1 on the Harvards had changed, and 7 to 4 were the latest odds offered. Before the race, bets will doubtless be even and though the English papers are now chuckling over the report that the Harvard four have injured themselves by over-training, we are confident that the cockneys are fearful that, with all the advantages in their favor, the Oxonians will be second at the winning post if fair play is permitted. Thos. Hughes, English ex-member of Parliament for Oxford, is the referee. The race takes place on Friday.

Magazines.

The Lady's Friend for September, has a handsome steel engraving of Portia, the heroine of "The Merchant of Venice." Among the literary matter are "The Prize of Two Men's Lives," by Amanda M. Douglas; "Ingratitude," by Florence Percy; &c. &c.

The Little Corporal for September, for boys and girls, but readable by the elders.

Packard's Monthly for September, has as usual, some stirring articles.

Blackwood's Magazine for August, has (under the title Historical Sketches of the Reign of George II,) a curious article on Hogarth the painter.

Godey's Lady's Book for September, opens with A True Story, by Marion Harland; then comes, For Love's Sake; Mrs. O. Fogg's Supper Table Talk; Lost, &c.

The Phrenological Journal for September contains the portraits and biographies of John Rogers, sculptor, Jos. A. Wright, ex-governor of Indiana, and late Minister to Prussia; and this besides articles illustrated and otherwise, on Heads large and small.

The American Odd Fellow has its usual varied contents.

A NEW MANNER OF MANNA.—California is a wonderful place for people who are not constitutionally fearful of shakes. They had a "meat shower" in Los Angelos County on the 15th, confined to an area of 200 square feet. "Old Californians" account for it by saying that "it is caused by the California vultures, which, having gorged themselves and risen high in the air, eject what they have eaten from their stomachs, either from sickness or in battle with the eagle." But what stomachs those vultures must have, and how convenient for them to be sick in case of a famine!

The wardens of Grace Church in Manchester, have extended a call to Rev. Charles N. Chandler of New York, to settle over the church and society. Mr. Chandler is now an agent for the increase of the ministry in his denominations.

Mr. John Neal, of Tower Hill, Candia, who has been sick for several weeks of typhoid fever, died on Friday.

New Hampshire Items.

In Concord, on Thursday morning, two little boys aged about 10 years, were "having some fun" with powder. A quantity, "about a tea-cup-full," was placed upon a board and one of them "touched it off" with a match. The consequence was that the hands of both were painfully burned; also the face of one, and the legs of the other.

The boot and shoe store of Joel W. Hamblett of Milford, was entered on the morning of the 18th, and robbed of boots and shoes to the value of $500. The thieves entered by a window, breaking the glass, and then opened the door. About midnight two wagons, with a man in each, were seen coming into town from the direction of Wilton or Brookline. They drove in the direction of the store that was robbed, but nothing was suspected.

The Normal Music School at Dover, closed on Friday evening with a grand concert by the Juvenile Class, numbering about 150. The new Square-Grand Piano was sold at auction after the concert.

By reference to the list of laws, it will be seen, that first cousins are forbidden to marry in this State after Dec. 24th, 1869. After that date, all such marriages will be incestuous, in the contemplation of law. But as no such law exists in Massachusetts or Maine, any loving couple of cousins can easily step over the border, and come back lawfully wedded.

James T. Furber, has accepted the position of Station Agent at Lawrence. He was formerly a printer, and published a paper at Great Falls, after which he was in the employ of the B. & M. railroad in that vicinity for several years, and four or five years past has been in the service of the Erie Railroad at Jersey City.

The Laconia Democrat says the greatest depth of water found in Lake Winnipisoogee is 270 feet.

The trial of Kenney, charged with the murder of George Woodell, in Claremont last winter, will take place in Newport on the 14th of September.

☞ It is stated that President Grant has accepted an invitation from Governor Stearns to visit Concord, some day this week.

The match game of base ball, played in Concord between the Mascoma Club of Lebanon and a second nine of the Kearsarge Club, resulted in a victory for the former. The score was, Mascoma 34 and Kearsarge 24.

Capt. John C. Gerrish of Exeter fell off a load of hay and was severely injured.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest, sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

OPORTO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers:

PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also purchases the grapes raised in other places and making as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TERHUNE, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuei Wine.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the invigorator in half bottles at 50 cents, quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to retrieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, A BLOOD DEFIERENT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflamatory. The tonic and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—

When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from a public institution, where HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. This late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends advised me to commit myself to my grave. My age would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used three boxes I was as well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, "C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and keep it always by me. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. Many times it has been my salvation. I used it in Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good effect.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported, and it should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If I may be allowed to be generally effectual in checking the disease."

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM R. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh28eod6md

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative so efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous cathartic is the main ingredient. More than

Ten thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered by regular pharmacopoeia. As antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relaxe the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has to stand the lungs begin to mend.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unstuck the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood, without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they attempt to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will stop of themselves of course. Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, or bronchial irritation, ulcers, adhesions, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 228 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SUMMER TRAVELLERS commence to depopulate some of the sea side resorts in this vicinity, yet on Sunday the hotels did a good business. Steamer Appledore took out quite a large party to the Shoals. Mr. Lougee's new Hotel at Rye Beach was full to overflowing, and the accommodating host was obliged to stow away some of the late comers in the Observatory, which we deem a most desirable place to occupy, day or night.

We have always wondered why Mr. Lougee called his House the Sea View, not knowing where the "View" came in. One glimpse, however, from the Observatory, answered our query. The view is splendid, taking in Old Ocean to the horizon and the entire coast from Newcastle to Cape Ann, and the hills, valleys, streams and forests to North and West. The summer visitors soon found Mr. Lougee's House a desirable place to stop at, and the host an obliging gentleman. Long may he run the Sea View to the mutual satisfaction of host and visitor.

The Saturday evening hops at the Sagamore House have become a regular institution. The Masquerade last Saturday evening was a very interesting affair. One of the best representations was by a beautiful Boston lady, a Virginian originally, who appeared on this occasion as a colored F. F.

Communication.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 23d.

It really does not, Messrs. Editors, belong to the Band to answer the inquiry of "A Subscriber," in your issue of Monday; but justice to those who subscribed for the open air Concerts, requires that some one should reply.

The committee of the Band, were asked in the Spring, what they would give a series of 12 concerts for, and gave the terms at $200, one half to be paid down, so that we could take up a note for that amount, which we had given in part pay for our new Instruments. The bargain was concluded, and we proceeded with the concerts after having received but $85, with the promise of the remaining $15 in a few days, which promise, up to this time,—after having given one-half the course, remains unfulfilled.

As near as we can find out, the young man who collected the money has appropriated it to his own use,—in what manner he refuses to tell. But as the money has been collected, and rather than the public should be the losers, we propose to give the remaining six concerts on each alternate Monday and Friday evening,—if the weather should prove favorable, commencing Friday evening, the 27th inst. Yours truly,

SAM'L. H. KINGSBURY, for the Band.

☞ Messrs. Stoddard & Beacham lost another good horse from their livery stable, on Sunday, after a week or two sickness. Livery horses have a hard life of it, more through the ignorance of drivers than deliberate cruelty—and such losses must dig into the profits pretty heavily.

We understand that one of Mayor Jones' fine span of blacks (the pair for which he was recently offered $2500) is sick of throat distemper. A horse is a very delicate animal—Dickens says, tender as a fine lady.

Our opinion is that she can do both.

She was seized with nausea at the stomach and vomiting, during which she broke a blood vessel and died in five minutes afterward. The deceased was about thirty years old, and was a daughter of Rev. Lemuel Willis of Warner, and formerly of this city. She is affectionately remembered and lamented here, by a large circle of friends.

THE DOVER TROT, postponed from Saturday after six heats, was concluded Monday forenoon. Nellie Locke won the first (7th) heat in 2.31 and both horses having two heats, the 8th was the last and with the race was won in 2.33 by Black Walnut. Nellie took second money. She lost the last heat by spraining her ankle when within a few feet of the score, being in the lead at that time.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in Rocky Mountain Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, loss of appetite, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," none of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 112 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD,

semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....67 s5. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 35 kritzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1869.

The News.

It is asserted that the preliminaries of a transfer of Cuba to the United States have been signed.

The Cuban cause is assuming a more favorable aspect; conspiracies to thwart the volunteers and aid the Cubans are in existence among the Spanish residents in the island. De Rodas, the Spanish commander, is about to resign and return to Spain.

Admiral Mendez Nunez of the Spanish navy is dead.

Prince Arthur of England arrived at Halifax, Sunday, in the City of Paris, six days and eleven hours out from Queenstown,—the quickest passage on record.

Fourteen cases of sunstroke occurred in New York on Saturday. Five were fatal.

15,000 workmen in Barcelona, Spain, have struck for higher wages.

Saturday was the hottest day of the season in Philadelphia, the mercury being from 98 to 104 in the shade.

The locks in the Treasury Department at Washington have been picked by an expert, in one hour and seven minutes.

Commodore Vanderbilt was married on Saturday morning at London, Canada, to Miss Frank Crawford, daughter of Robert L. Crawford, of Mobile, Ala.

Philadelphia wants water.

Old five-twenties advanced to 84 1-2 in the London market on Saturday,—the highest point yet reached.

Chicago has trichinae.

The cashier of the banking house of T. F. Morris & Co. at Yonkers, New York, named Stokes, has absconded, and his defalcation will probably reach $80,000. He left a wife and three children in Yonkers; is about 50 years old, was the friend of his employers from boyhood, and enjoyed their full confidance.

CAMP MEETINGS.—These meetings, though of southern origin, are now an Institution in New England and New York, with much more of comfort and elegance than they formerly possessed. Perley, the New York gossip writer for the Boston Journal says of them, in a late number:—

Camp Meetings are all the rage just now. They are held with great success on Long Island, up the Hudson, and in all the surroundings of New York. They are well manned, well attended and very spirited. The great success which attends them, and the season of the year at which they are held, make them an anomaly in the religious world.

By general consent there is very little religious interest in the cities in hot weather. Revivals are not thought of, and conversions are not expected. But while conversions are considered impossible in the city in summer, it is the harvest-time at the camp meetings. Immense numbers attend; the altars are crowded and conversions are numerous. Many of our camp meetings take the form of pic-nics.

A large number of families go up a week or two in advance of the meeting, pitch their tents and fit them up elegantly, and some luxuriously. Here they recreate as other families do at Newport, seashores and the Springs.

Young ladies, arrayed in white, tramp around the camp in clusters, in jockey hats trimmed with fanciful colors, as they do at fashionable watering places. And while the great mass are religiously inclined, many go to have a good time and enjoy themselves, and they do it. It is a much cheaper way to recreate than to go to fashionable watering places. Some drive up in their elegant teams, keep them at the camp and drive out daily.

We have before us, accounts of two such meetings in Massachusetts; and as the Hedding Camp Meeting is fully under way at Epping, it is a good time to notice some fault that has been found with them. One paper, edited by a Methodist, suggests that the meetings have become too worldly, less religious, and too much like places of amusement; and particularly that instead of mere tents, some persons have built cottages, and indeed pretty comfortable and rather elegant houses on the camp ground.

Really, (says Uncle Toby) we cannot see why religion may not be as pure and undefiled, in a house, as in a tent; nor why an uncomfortable camp should be more favorable to reformation or revival, than one with as many of the decencies and conveniences of civil life, as can be brought together, and enjoyed there.

The Manchester Mirror says Woodcock are plenty this year. On the shores of the Massabesic Pond, Thursday, Mr. Treat Potter shot thirty-two of these birds. This is extraordinary luck.

John Swallow, a livery stable keeper in Peterborough, fell from the loft into a crib, where he remained for some time insensible. He is now better.

THE HARVARD-OXFORD BOAT RACE. Mr. William Blaikee, London correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, and who completed the arrangements for the Harvard-Oxford rowing match, writes that the Harvards are being treated very ungenerously by the Oxonians. When negotiations were first entered into, 18 months ago, the English crew would not agree to row without a coxswain to steer, knowing that the Harvards carried no coxswain, the bow oarsman steering with his feet. To secure a trial of the relative merits and style of the respective crews, however, Harvard yielded and consented to carry a coxswain.

The Oxonians wouldn't row the race anywhere but in England and on no other river but the Thames, and the Harvards again yielded, tho' every eddy and ripple of that river was familiar to the Oxford crew, and of course unfamiliar to the Americans. The latter ordered two boats built after their arrival in England, one by an English builder, the other by an American who went to England with them. Yet the English crew pressed them with indecent speed to fix a definite day for the match before their boats were finished or they had recovered from sea sickness.

The Harvards insisted on rowing on a fair day when the wind should be favorable and the water smooth, but now are called upon to give up this proviso and row whether the day set be fair or foul. The disposition shown by the Oxonians to obtain every possible advantage leads to the suspicion that, when the day of the trial arrives, it will be found that steamers and hostile row boats will be in the way to embarrass the Harvards and prevent their winning.

The English press, too, has played a game of bluff and brag ever since the American crew landed in England, which American journalists would be ashamed to do. They belittle the efforts of the Harvards in their daily practice, and show no evidence of fairness.

At latest dates the betting which commenced at the rate of 3 to 1 on the Harvards had changed, and 7 to 4 were the latest odds offered. Before the race, bets will doubtless be even and though the English papers are now chuckling over the report that the Harvard four have injured themselves by over-training, we are confident that the cockneys are fearful that, with all the advantages in their favor, the Oxonians will be second at the winning post if fair play is permitted. Thos. Hughes, English ex-member of Parliament for Oxford, is the referee. The race takes place on Friday.

Magazines.

The Lady's Friend for September, has a handsome steel engraving of Portia, the heroine of "The Merchant of Venice." Among the literary matter are "The Prize of Two Men's Lives," by Amanda M. Douglas; "Ingratitude," by Florence Percy; &c. &c.

The Little Corporal for September, for boys and girls, but readable for the elders.

Packard's Monthly for September, has as usual, some stirring articles.

Blackwood's Magazine for August, has (under the title Historical Sketches of the Reign of George II,) a curious article on Hogarth the painter.

Godey's Lady's Book for September, opens with A True Story, by Marion Harland; then comes, For Love's Sake; Mrs. O. Fogg's Supper Table Talk; Lost, &c.

The Phrenological Journal for September contains the portraits and biographies of John Rogers, sculptor, Jos. A. Wright, ex-governor of Indiana, and late Minister to Prussia; and this besides articles illustrated and otherwise, on Heads large and small.

The American Odd Fellow has its usual varied contents.

A NEW MANNER OF MANNA.—California is a wonderful place for people who are not constitutionally fearful of shakes. They had a "meat shower" in Los Angelos County on the 15th, confined to an area of 200 square feet. "Old Californians" account for it by saying that "it is caused by the California vultures, which, having gorged themselves and risen high in the air, eject what they have eaten from their stomachs, either from sickness or in battle with the eagle." But what stomachs those vultures must have, and how convenient for them to be sick in case of a famine!

The wardens of Grace Church in Manchester, have extended a call to Rev. Charles N. Chandler of New York, to settle over the church and society. Mr. Chandler is now an agent for the increase of the ministry in his denominations.

Mr. John Neal, of Tower Hill, Candia, who has been sick for several weeks of typhoid fever, died on Friday.

New Hampshire Items.

In Concord, on Thursday morning, two little boys aged about 10 years, were "having some fun" with powder. A quantity, "about a tea-cup-full," was placed upon a board and one of them "touched it off" with a match. The consequence was that the hands of both were painfully burned; also the face of one, and the legs of the other.

The boot and shoe store of Joel W. Hamblett of Milford, was entered on the morning of the 18th, and robbed of boots and shoes to the value of $500. The thieves entered by a window, breaking the glass, and then opened the door. About midnight two wagons, with a man in each, were seen coming into town from the direction of Wilton or Brookline. They drove in the direction of the store that was robbed, but nothing was suspected.

The Normal Music School at Dover, closed on Friday evening with a grand concert by the Juvenile Class, numbering about 150. The new Square-Grand Piano was sold at auction after the concert.

By reference to the list of laws, it will be seen, that first cousins are forbidden to marry in this State after Dec. 24th, 1869. After that date, all such marriages will be incestuous, in the contemplation of law. But as no such law exists in Massachusetts or Maine, any loving couple of cousins can easily step over the border, and come back lawfully wedded.

James T. Furber, has accepted the position of Station Agent at Lawrence. He was formerly a printer, and published a paper at Great Falls, after which he was in the employ of the B. & M. railroad in that vicinity for several years, and four or five years past has been in the service of the Erie Railroad at Jersey City.

The Laconia Democrat says the greatest depth of water found in Lake Winnipiseogee is 270 feet.

The trial of Kenney, charged with the murder of George Woodell, in Claremont last winter, will take place in Newport on the 14th of September.

☞ It is stated that President Grant has accepted an invitation from Governor Stearns to visit Concord, some day this week.

The match game of base ball, played in Concord between the Mascoma Club of Lebanon and a second nine of the Kearsarge Club, resulted in a victory for the former. The score was, Mascoma 34 and Kearsarge 24.

Capt. John C. Gerrish of Exeter fell off a load of hay and was severely injured.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

OPORTO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers:

PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He makes and purchases a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TERHUNE, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuci Wine.

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sound and refreshing sleep. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind, and consequently the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to restore it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily resolved as at the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATOR.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORDIALIVE, A BLOOD DEPURENT, AND AN APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflamatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and nervous, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discovered, treated in this country, a public institution, which HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As a systemic alterative, having a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Phila. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. In all, since then I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 153 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:—* * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a most valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic, taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India."

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM R. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh29m8md

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been celebrated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two concentrated extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of the Mandrake, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous cathartic is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dysentery, and the irregularities to which every feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and sickening compounds ordinarily administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once used Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the Druggists who have sold the Balsam. 6m 625

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup opens the secretions of matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and the liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is then relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gastic stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever, but remove the cause, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tuberculous, tubercles, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? Not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. The only last chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Tremont Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SUMMER TRAVELLERS commence to depopulate some of the sea side resorts in this vicinity, yet on Sunday the hotels did a good business. Steamer Appledore took out quite a large party to the Shoals. Mr. Lougee's new Hotel at Rye Beach was full to overflowing, and the accommodating host was obliged to stow away some of the late comers in the Observatory, which we deem a most desirable place to occupy, day or night.

We have always wondered why Mr. Lougee called his House the Sea View, not knowing where the "View" came in. One glimpse, however, from the Observatory, answered our query. The view is splendid, taking in Old Ocean to the horizon and the entire coast from Newcastle to Cape Ann, and the hills, valleys, streams and forests to North and West. The summer visitors soon found Mr. Lougee's House a desirable place to stop at, and the host an obliging gentleman. Long may he run the Sea View to the mutual satisfaction of host and visitor.

The Saturday evening hops at the Sagamore House have become a regular institution. The Masquerade last Saturday evening was a very interesting affair. One of the best representations was by a beautiful Boston lady, a Virginian originally, who appeared on this occasion as a colored F. F.

Communication.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 23d.

It really does not, Messrs. Editors, belong to the Band to answer the inquiry of "A Subscriber," in your issue of Monday; but justice to those who subscribed for the open air Concerts, requires that some one should reply.

The committee of the Band, were asked in the Spring, what they would give a series of 12 concerts for, and gave the terms at $200, one half to be paid down, so that we could take up a note for that amount, which we had given in part pay for our new Instruments. The bargain was concluded, and we proceeded with the concerts after having received but $85, with the promise of the remaining $15 in a few days, which promise, up to this time,—after having given one-half the course, remains unfulfilled.

As near as we can find out, the young man who collected the money has appropriated it to his own use,—in what manner he refuses to tell. But as the money has been collected, and rather than the public should be the losers, we propose to give the remaining six concerts on each alternate Monday and Friday evening,—if the weather should prove favorable, commencing Friday evening, the 27th inst. Yours truly,

SAM'L. H. KINGSBURY, for the Band.

☞ Messrs. Stoddard & Beacham lost another good horse from their livery stable, on Sunday, after a week or two sickness. Livery horses have a hard life of it, more through the ignorance of drivers than deliberate cruelty—and such losses must dig into the profits pretty heavily.

We understand that one of Mayor Jones' fine span of blacks (the pair for which he was recently offered $2500) is sick of throat distemper. A horse is a very delicate animal—Dickens says, tender as a fine lady.

Our Navy Yard Correspondence.

The body found at Gerrish's Island, Sunday morning, by Mr. Mark Blake, was identified at the coroner's inquest as that of Samuel Lucas of York, who, with his wife, was lost a few weeks ago in a whale boat.

We are expecting the President, Secretary Robeson and other officials, this week.

☞ A gentleman in this city has a pacing mare that is a fast walker, and if somebody don't back out, there may be a chance to witness a match for $100 a side, each bet, that she will and will not walk five miles and six miles in an hour, on the Piscataqua Fair Grounds. Our opinion is that she can do both.

☞ Busy-bodies are respectfully informed that no editorials appear in the Chronicle, written by outside parties. All communications are published as such, whether important or otherwise. We shoulder the opinions of no one else—neither do we wish any responsibility thrust upon others.

ANOTHER GOOD APPOINTMENT.—We learn that Col. Frank G. Wentworth of this city has been appointed to a lucrative position in the New York Custom House. Our congratulations to the Col., though we can but regret the departure of such a true Republican and good citizen.

☞ Mrs. Mary Bean, wife of Philip Bean of Warner, died very suddenly on Friday night, at her residence. She was seized with nausea at the stomach and vomiting, during which she broke a blood vessel and died in five minutes afterward. The deceased was about thirty years old, and was a daughter of Rev. Lemuel Willis of Warner, and formerly of this city. She is affectionately remembered and lamented here, by a large circle of friends.

THE DOVER TROT, postponed from Saturday after six heats, was concluded Monday forenoon. Nellie Locke won the first (7th) heat in 2.31 and both horses having two heats, the 8th was the last and with the race was won in 2.33 by Black Walnut. Nellie took second money. She lost the last heat by spraining her ankle when within a few feet of the score, being in the lead at that time.

☞ There were five Unitarian Ministers in the audience at the Stone church on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Potter of New Bedford, preached. He preaches there next Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Peabody has started on his return from California, much delighted with the sights in that State.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a short

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, quicken and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

DENTAL NOTICE.
69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references from all classes, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, entirely FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (with his present facilities and improvements in inserting artificial dentures) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, thereby reduce up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London.....£7 85. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fr. 39 kntrs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. J. F. Holton.
Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Continued.

SALEM, Saturday, Aug. 21.

A brief general meeting was held, and the Association broke up into three sections.

SECTION A.—Prof. James H. Coffin of Easton, Pa., was chosen chairman for the day. Prof. Coffin has long supposed that there was a system of Arctic winds. The limit touches northern Siberia, and comes down much lower in Greenland, Iceland and Alaska. New observations confirm what before was only conjecture. The winds blow from North, Northeast and East.

Mr. E. B. Elliott of the Treasury Department, whom we have seen in your notice of the counting-house Webster, has been investigating the longevity of ships. The average life of a sailing vessel is 13.8 years. Let 1000 vessels be built, and in ten years there will be found of them 584.4; in 20 years, 219.5; in 30 years, 57.2; in 40 years, 11.1; and in fifty years all are gone. Prof. Peirce thinks they would live longer in the hands of the better-educated shipmasters of England. Some of ours make no observations except by day. If the day be cloudy they sail by dead reckoning.

Mr. Elliott speculates on the quotations of American securities. The "dollars" of all commercial centres differ from each other and from our gold coin. Some of them represent a certain amount of silver. Gold is worth 15.6 times the value of silver. In London a dollar means 54 pence=$1.09 1-2. In France it is 5 francs, or $1.0226. In Bremen it is $1.0988. In Zurich it is $1.925. In the following it varies with the value of silver. At the rate of 15.6, in Amsterdam it is $1.0065, in Berlin $1.0059, in Frankfort $1.0144, and in Hamburg $1.0771. The law does not forbid the coining of silver dollars. They are a necessity in certain oriental traffic, and must be of the old value. So many as are needed are coined, and sold for what they are worth. They are not given out as dollars. [Mr. Elliott would like to reply to some criticisms of the Chronicle on his very elaborate article in Webster's Counting-house Dictionary. In the first place he protests against the omission of the me in gramme. He has seen gram printed grain too often.]

Professors Silliman and Wurtz have been re-investigating the comparative heat yielded by burning equal weights of different gases, and also equal volumes. A serious error arises from part of the heat being always spent in heating a considerable quantity of nitrogen.

Prof. H. C. Twining of New Haven, offered a demonstration of a truth which Euclid assumed,—that through the same point two lines cannot be drawn parallel to a given straight line. His demonstration was complicated, involving repeated resort to supposition and reductio ad absurdum: principles not loved by geometers.

Mr. Wm. Ferrell, in discussing the tides in Boston harbor, related a curious element in calculating tides. A farmer consulted the "Farmer's Almanac" in cutting down a large quantity of salt-marsh hay. But after "spring tide" the tides grew higher and higher, and he lost his hay. The moon was rapidly approaching perigee, and therefore acquiring additional power faster than enough to counterbalance the loss of co-operation of the sun. He needed a more scientific almanac.

Director Hough, Dudley. Observatory, explained the law of rapidity of transmitting signals by telegraph. The stronger the battery, or the larger the wire, or the better the metal, the less the time. It is from 10,000 to 30,000 miles per second.

Prof. T. Sterry Hunt, of Montreal, finds that copper ore dissolves rapidly in a solution of copperas in brine. From this solution serapion throws down the pure copper. This new system of reducing that difficult ore is already in practice.

Prof. David Murray suggested that a corps of observers of meteors could have each his key to a chronograph, and get more perfect observations than hitherto attained. Others approved. It will be done.

Prof. Pliney E. Chase of Philadelphia, tried to prove that not only the position of the moon, but that of planets also, affected rainfall and temperature. Received with entire incredulity.

SECTION B, for the first time, chose a temporary chairman. Prof. J. B. Edwards read a paper on trichina spiralis, insisting on the well-known fact that the dreadful animal is inevitably killed by cooking up to 212 degrees. Prof. Agassiz remarked that if we abstain from pork lest we eat dead trichinæ, we have equally good reason for abstaining from the flesh of all other mammals, all birds, all fishes and all animals, if not all vegetables.

Prof. Albert S. Bickmore, the Oriental traveller, read an interesting article on Chinese mines. Those of coal, iron, &c., are numerous and are worked in the rudest manner, entirely without machinery. For want of pumps they cannot go below the water level. If away from water carriage coal is carried on the backs of camels and donkeys. Pekin is supplied in this way. Coal is ground before burning, and made into cakes with clay or with water only.

The section spent the rest of the day on reptiles and lower animals. The discussions were highly interesting—to the members.

New Hampshire Items.

A workman in Pike's Dover Steam Mill near the Upper Factory, named Trusty, from Saco, met with a severe injury on Monday last by his hand coming in contact with the circular saw.—Three fingers were badly cut, and it was found necessary to amputate one of them.

Winslow T. Perkins, Esq., of Dover, has received the appointment of Weigher in the New York Custom House, vice T. W. Eagan, removed.

The Mayor of Dover, has offered a reward for the detection of the recent incendiaries, $200 for the apprehension of the person who set fire to the barn of Mrs. Lyon and $200 for the party setting fire to Mr. Mahoney's currying shop.

There are some large farms in New England, Col. David M. Clough of Canterbury, has a field of corn of 22 acres, and another of oats of 17 acres, and will cut 150 tons of hay this year.

The body of Mr. John H. Eaton, who resided in Seabrook, was found on Salisbury Beach on Friday morning. It appears that he was returning home and had a boat in Hampton river which he was endeavoring to reach, when it is supposed he fell in a fit. He was 21 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

The Strafford County Agricultural Society has again offered a premium of $50 for the best cultivated farm of over fifty acres, with a second premium of $25.

Under the new law, trout and pickerel cannot be caught by the use of fish-poles. If done at all, it must be done by "hooks and lines in hand."

THE COMING CHINAMAN.—Harpers' Weekly for August 28, has a broad caricature of Uncle Sam introducing John Chinaman to Patrick—and a doggerel poem by Bally Mulligan, jr., in which he says:

Is this the ugly spalpeen
Wid th' umbrella hat,
That lives on spiders, dogs and mice,
And ates his ould tom-cat?

Oh, warrah! Biddy, darlint,
'Twill be all day wid you;
He'll swape the carpets, 'tind the beds,
And ate cockroaches too.

He cares for nothing but his tail,
Which he hangs on to, stout,
The baste, he niver goes to mass,
And needs no Sundays out.

DEATH OF MR. HERSEY.—James Hersey, Esq., of Manchester, died last week. He was the son of James Hersey, and was born at Sanbornton, 1794. His father was one of the King's surveyors, and laid out many of the towns in N. H., and made the first survey of Lake Winnipesaukee and its islands, previous to the revolutionary war. Many of the islands in the lake were probably named by him—Bear Island, for instance, from the fact that making its survey in the spring of the year when the ice was thin, a bear was killed while trying to escape.

The best act of Gov. Wentworth, when on board a vessel at Portsmouth, and ready to sail for England, on account of his adhesion to tory principles, was to sign a deed from the Crown to Mr. Hersey of land in Sanbornton, which is still in possession of the family.

Mr. Hersey, who has just deceased, was a school teacher by profession and taught for many years in Epsom, Deerfield, Nottingham and other towns in this vicinity. He estimated that his pupils numbered nearly 2000. Maj. Gen. B. F. Butler was under his instructions at Deerfield from the time he learned the alphabet until he entered Phillips' Academy, at Exeter.

Mr. Hersey, the deceased, resided several years in Epsom; he went to Manchester in 1846. He was elected a member of the School Committee in 1848. In 1849 he was appointed Postmaster of the city by President Taylor, and served four years, and was universally esteemed for his courtesy and spirit of accommodation. On retiring from the office he became a member of the firm of Hersey & Tilton, booksellers, and was engaged in this business until about six years ago. He was twice married but never had children. —Union.

NEW INTERPRETATION OF SHAKESPEARE.—A gentleman who follows profession of school teaching the Western Reserve in Ohio, gave out one morning as a reading lesson to his first class that portion of "The Merchantof Venice" in which the "pound of flesh" scene occurs. The reading finished, he asked the class what Shylock meant when he said, "My deeds upon my head."

"Well," said the tallest boy, "I don't know unless it means he carried his papers in his hat!"

A new but obvious interpretation, which seems to have escaped the astute Mr. R. G. White and other eminent Shakspearians.—Harper's Magazine for Sept.

GOT.—The word got is often introduced superfluously and incorrectly in familiar expression. When, in reply to any "Lend me a shilling," you say, "I've got no money," you simply say what you do not mean. Omit the got, and your meaning is rightly conveyed. "I've got a cold," is not bad English, if you mean to convey the idea that you have procured or contracted a cold somewhere; but if you merely wish to say, as you probably do, that you are now suffering under a cold, "I have a cold," is the proper expression. "She has got a fair complexion." Here, got is an interloper; for you do not mean to say she has procured a fair complexion; but simply, that she has one.

—The public may remember the story of Mr. Low Benedict, of Duprez & Benedict's Minstrels, who, as the story goes, five years ago, being then a poor young lawyer, courted the daughter of a New York millionaire, and obtained the father's consent to his marriage with her on condition that he would first amass $50,000. He entered the burnt cork profession, became part proprietor of the troupe named above, and toiled and scraped together for five long and weary years for the price of his happiness. At last he has succeeded. After counting the receipts of the box office of the Arch Street Theatre, in Philadelphia, on Tuesday evening, he found that the last $100 was in his possession.

—New York city contains 18,582 tenement houses; and in nine months of 1868 there were no less than eleven thousand five hundred and seventy-one deaths; and the deaths in the public institutions were mostly of persons who were taken from tenement houses. These tenement houses contain one-half of the population of the city, and they yield over seventy-three per cent. of the mortality.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and inferior liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
A SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We recorded at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and active assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most advisable to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who took the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The News.

An express train, through from New York to Chicago in thirty hours, at reduced fare, is ordered on the Erie road.

A violent storm visited Cronstadt, Russia, on Monday; a monitor was driven against a frigate, sinking her instantly; sixteen of the frigate's crew were drowned.

New Hampshire Items.

On Saturday afternoon, at Manchester, as Mr. and Mrs. John G. Lane were going home from Hampton Beach, their horse took fright from the rattling of a load of boards, and ran off an embankment, breaking the carriage and throwing out the people. Mr. L. was badly hurt on the back of the neck and head. Mrs L. had an ankle dislocated.

Capt. Elon F. Brown, formerly of the Business College in Manchester, died at New Brunswick, N. Y., Aug. 19, of consumption, aged 30.—He was in the U. S. Service during the rebellion, and contracted his disease while on duty.

The News Letter tells a story of Chester, while in its original amplitude. A Vermont teamster passing through inquired where he was, at the north end, and so on, through. "Why," said he, "Chester is a county, then; I thought it was a town."

The city government of Concord voted on Saturday to take stock in the proposed Concord and Rochester Railroad to the amount of $228,000, being five per cent. on the city valuation. This is in addition to $50,000 already voted for the Concord and Claremont Railroad.

A man recently breakfasted at the Phœnix Hotel in Concord. A dish of beefsteak and a plate of fishballs were set before him, and he immediately took one of the nicely browned fishballs on his fork, and undertook to peel it. Two or three of course unsuccessful attempts in this direction were made, and finally the fishball broke into fragments and fell around his plate. In perfect disgust with the unmanageable article, our countryman threw down knife and fork, exclaiming, "Blame these Concord potatoes."

The salaries of the professors in Dartmouth College have been raised to $2000.

Dover has offered a reward of $400 for the detection of the "fire bug" in that city.

The Manchester Mirror is urging the City to make an addition from Massabesic Pond.

A letter was received at the Amherst post office, last week, with the following plain direction:—"Mrs. Cullitey, Ammerst st Newhamshir, for Joana Burke, N. H. Mass."

LEWISTON, ME., Aug. 23.

Messrs. Editors: In my last I informed you of the strike of the shoe makers of Auburn. Since then the difficulty has been amicably adjusted, and the shoe making business is again resumed and looks livelier than ever. The city of Auburn has now a population of about 7 or 8000, and with the recent annexation of Danville, is one of the largest cities in Maine.

The Maine State Seminary commences its Fall term to day, as do all the schools throughout the city. This term of the College and Seminary will be one of unusual attractions, as quite a number of lectures are expected from men of note and ability.

Frequent showers the past week have put an end to all prospects of a drought. Vegetation assumes a new aspect, and farmers say "taters will turn out good."

Our State election is approaching and the prospect of the success of Gov. Chamberlain is brightening every day. Many who were wavering, now come out bravely in favor of the Governor. In a few days both temperance and intemperate agitators will have to submit to the voice of the people. H.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

LONG BRANCH, L. I., Aug. 21.

This is truly a great watering place, a fine Beach four miles in length. Just back of the Beach is a high embankment, say ten feet high, extending the whole length. On the borders of this bank are beautiful pavilions. About forty feet from the edge is a wide, level and hard road, where fast driving and big turn-outs are to be seen, and it is a fine drive.

Almost in a straight line, say one hundred feet from the roads, are the hotels and summer residences, and they are numerous and extensive. The residences are costly, the hotels are enormous in size (as well as in charges); for instance, the Continental is 700 feet long, dining room 200x75 and will accommodate 1200, the porticos measure over 1-2 mile in length;—Stetson House is 612 feet long, and is said to be the model hotel of America; and others of a similar character. Here are five Churches, Schools, &c. It is said 40,000 persons came here in 1867, and 50,000 in 1868, and a larger number this year is certain.

The means of access to this place are from Boston by way of Fall River, over the Old Colony R. R. We say this because here will be found the best cars and boats in New England, and the best managed route—for how can it be otherwise, with such men as our Governor Stearns for President, James Fiske Jr., Manager, and the festive, jovial Geo. Shiverick Agent? It can't be beat. From New York one and one-half hours ride down the harbor, passing Fort Hamilton, Lafayette, Richmond, &c.; also Coney and Staten Islands and Sandy Hook—we arrive at Port Mamoth, where the cars are in readiness to take us to our destination over the Raritan & Delaware Road; and after one hour's ride in cars, through a beautiful country, we arrive safely at Long Branch. Yours, &c. C.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that on Monday last, while Mr. John Akerman, keeper of the Newburyport Jail, was dealing out the regular rations to his prisoners, he was attacked by two of them, named Foster and Peirce, and thrown upon a bed in one of the cells, gagged and tied with ropes, and the keys of the jail taken from him. He managed to give an alarm which was heard by his son, who, seizing a revolver, rushed to the scene of action. As he approached the door he met the parties, and quickly presenting his pistol at their heads, they beat a retreat to their cells, when Mr. Akerman was found as above stated and released. The assailants were put into close confinement.

☞ At a fat man's clambake at Norwalk, Conn., last Friday, about one hundred and forty men were present, none of whom weighed less than 200 pounds, and of the whole number Springfield, Massachusetts, furnished nearly one-tenth. The heaviest man was Mr. John A. P. Fiske of New York 358 pounds, and he was chosen president for the coming year; the vice-president is Mr. John A. Lincoln of Springfield, whose weight is 329 pounds.

☞ Mr. Albert N. Larone, late Superintendent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, has been appointed Superintendent of the Central Pacific Railroad at a salary of $13,000 in gold.

☞ The General Association of Presbyterian and Congregational Ministers in New Hampshire, begins at Keene, Tuesday, Aug. 24, and continues three days.

RYE.—Messrs. Editors; You frequently publish some things relating to Rye and Rye Beach, and perhaps something in this sketch may be of interest to your readers.

Rye and Rye Beach i s one and the same place. The boundary line dividing Portsmouth City and Rye is about four miles long, ending at the Point near the Sagamore House, at the North part of this town, and here the famous Rye Beach has a starting point, continuing nearly South six miles to the Atlantic and Farragut Houses, close to the North Hampton line. Three hard sandy beaches make up half of this length, and the balance of the sea shore is made up of very rocky and rough ledges. The average width of this town is about two miles.

There are 240 dwelling houses, including the Hotels and boarding houses; the larger part owned and occupied by farmers;—100 of the houses are located North and East of the Central Church, and 140, South and West of it.

The population in 1860 was 1200, but at the present time there are not over 1000, a loss of 200 or more in nine years. More than half of the houses or families have not a scholar to send to school;—13 houses have but one person living in each house, 25 houses two in each, 51 houses three, and 52 houses four, and the balance from 5 to 10 in a family.

Thirty-five widowers and thirty-four widows are among the whole number of persons in this town, and the present number of inhabitants is about 482 males to 496 females.

There are about a dozen confirmed bachelors of 40 years and upwards, and thirty spinsters of 30 years and upwards. Marriages are few and far between, and it appears that within ten years past the scholars have been reduced from 300 to less than 200, in the four school districts. The new system of teaching by females is not very popular among the larger scholars, and only a few attend school. It would be for the interest of all the scholars to have qualified men teachers for the winter terms, as they formerly did have, in all the districts.

The three meeting houses, Congregational, Baptist and Methodist, are very close together. The latter is closed. The regular attendants at the two first number about 250. The preachers are Rev. Giles Leach and Elder J. L. Pierce.

From the bell deck of the Congregational church may be seen in clear weather the lights in the lighthouses at Portsmouth harbor, Cape Neddick, Boon Island, White Island, Newburyport and Cape Ann, 11 or 12 in number. The White Mountains and many towns in this state can be seen from this elevation, including some in Maine and Massachusetts and all of the large beach houses as far as Hampton beach. A landscape painter could make a fine drawing from here in a clear day. Yours, W.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let us Discuss the Great Question.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to retrieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as the present day, and that too, which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause the system must be simultaneously strengthened, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, A CORRECTIVE, a BLOOD INVIGORANT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflammatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful tonic and alterative during the heated term, and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient. au18

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—When a sore, or ulcer, or abscess, has become chronically seated in the leg it is considered very difficult to eradicate. Hospital treatment rarely accomplishes a cure in these cases; yet, there never was a case discharged as "incurable" from a public institution, which HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT might not have healed if applied according to the directions. As chronic ulceration implies a taint in the blood, it may be as well to take a dose of Holloway's Pills now and then to purify that fluid. Sold by all Druggists. au18

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent: no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years he used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my early days were soon to terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely in the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M.D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. It is, at this season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM R. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh29eod

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary jelly, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destroyed in this pleasant form the nauseous and bad taste from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, and all those disorders to which the female and feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an anti-bilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without tearing those delicate organs (the lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure Consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is because they do not dare to give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they damage the whole digestive powers, destroy up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and cough, hectic fever, sores, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 228 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday, when he will give advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. dly jal

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

A GROWING NUISANCE that needs abatement is the cess-pool at the Creek Bridge, which gives forth an offensive odor that can be detected a half mile distant. When such a sickening stench reaches as far as the Academy on Islington Street, the effect on those living in close proximity to it, can better be imagined than described. We call the attention of the Board of Health to this pestilence-breeding pool, and in behalf of the suffering citizens at the west part of the city demand immediate action in the matter. Our city fathers have been negligent in not having the foul pool filled up, and if the members of the Board of Health do their duty we shall have cause for complaint but a short time longer. Within two weeks the stench has been so offensive that during warm nights, when pure air is needed and it is necessary to keep the windows open to secure it, many persons living a quarter of a mile away have been awakened by this choking, pungent odor and have been obliged to close every window to shut out the stench.

The comfort and health of citizens living in that quarter of the city will we trust be improved by having the nuisance abated. Continued inattention to the demands of those suffering from the effect of breathing such impure air can but cause, ere long, a pestilence whose extent can not be estimated. If the powers that be would send a delegation within sight or smell of the stagnant pool any evening when it is uncomfortably warm in-doors, five minutes observation would be sufficient to convert them to our views of the matter, and to demoralize their stomachs so much that their appetites for breakfast would be gone entirely.

The weather has been delightful since the warm spell of Friday, but indications point to the close of the season. After the 1st of Sept., there will be but comparatively few stopping at the beach. R.

Another beautiful clipper has been added to the California fleet, and any one who will inspect the Yosemite, at pier 11, East River, will find that our enterprising Eastern shipowners make successful efforts to keep pace with the progressive tendency of the age. The Yosemite was built at Portsmouth, N.H. under the superintendence of Capt. John S. Pray, the commander as well as the constructor of some of our finest clipper ships; and how well he understands the requirements of the California trade the Yosemite will amply testify. She has made one passage from Liverpool to San Francisco in midsummer in 128 days, and we should judge from her model that with a fair opportunity she will prove herself one of the fastest afloat. She has on board for the government over 1000 tons of guns and material for the Navy Yard at Mare Island. New York Herald.

The Yosemite is commanded by Capt. Mack.

NAVAL.—The Navy Department intends soon to commence building ten wooden vessels, as flagships for the admirals of the different stations. It is not yet known what model will be adopted, but the vessels will be built so as to carry a large amount of coal, and to sail or steam well, as occasion may require.

RYE, Aug. 24th.

The last ball of the season will come of at the Farragut House, Wednesday eqening. Extensive preparations are being made, and the indications are that it will be a most delightful affair, and be a pleasant wind up to a most successful season.

Rev. Mr. Davies of Philadelphia held Episcopal services in the parlor of the Farragut, Sunday evening, which were attended by nearly all the guests of the house, as well as by many from the private houses. The Rev. gentleman who has been stopping at the beach for some days, left Monday morning.

The Ocean House Band gave a parting serenade, at a late hour Saturday evening, to the boarding houses and hotels. They left Monday morning.

A lot of bathing clothes were stolen from one of the bath houses on the beach about a week ago, and Detective Kent and Deputy Sheriff Joy came down from Portsmouth to investigate the affair but as yet the guilty parties have escaped detection.

Some scoundrels, entered the Billiard Room of the Sea View House on Thursday last, while no one was in attendance, and badly cut the cloths on two tables, damaging them to the extent of $100. It was a mean trick, and it is to be hoped that the perpetrators may be discovered and made to suffer for it.

Some very pleasing Tableaux were very successfully given at the Atlantic House on Friday evening. They were gotten up by young ladies and gentlemen stoping at the Farragut and Atlantic Houses, and were witnessed by quite a large number of spectators, who were apparently much pleased with the performance.

The weather has been delightful since the warm spell of Friday, but indications point to the close of the season. After the 1st of Sept., there will be but comparatively few stopping at the beach. R.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—thro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet resolves to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirits.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1862, I secured my copy right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters." Any such as are not in manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

SOLE PROPRIETORS,

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD,

semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" " London....£7 8s. 10. "
" " Frankfort..87 fr. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. L. F. Holton, Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Continued.

SALEM, Saturday, Aug. 21.

SECTION C, met Friday morning in the Tabernacle lecture room. Mr. E. G. Squier, eminent for aboriginal investigations, was elected chairman.

Prof. O. C. Marsh presented some pottery found by Mr. McNeil among the ruins of Central America, which certainly would have been supposed to be earlier than the introduction of the horse by the Spaniards, were not that animal figured on them. There are fossil remains of the species of Equus to be found; could any of these have been the originals of this sculpture? A horse's head, carved on a pipe, was also disinterred by Mr. McNeil, at Grand Rapids, Michigan. If man and the mastodon did not live together there are some hard puzzles to solve.

Mr. Squier spoke of the higher civilized Americans who had been exterminated by ruder and more warlike races. He thinks he has seen but one skull of a mound-builder. They are generally crushed. Stones were so wedged about this as to protect it from pressure. It is from Chilicothe, and is in Philadelphia.

Mr. W. H. Dall, of the Smithsonian Institution, read an interesting paper on the Indians of Alaska. Except near Sitcha, the Eskimo hold all the coast. No Indians live between Point Barrow and Kotzebue Sound; and south of the sound the Eskimo are taller and fairer than those of Greenland. In the interior are tribes who use Eskimo words for marine objects. It is clear they never lived near the sea. This makes it so much the harder to suppose that they came from Asia. On the contrary the few Eskimo west of Bhering's Straits seem to have come from America.

Mr. Morgan, who, though a member of the New York Legislature, appears to be an honest man, resumed his paper of Thursday night. He had held that prairie and mountain had been obstacles to Indian travel. South of the great lakes and east of the the mountains rivers have aided them little. Sustenance was a cardinal point. These things led him to conclude that the valley of the Columbia was the breeding-ground of the whole Indian race, Eskimo excepted. This unity is shown by the very complicated grammar of their languges, some at least of which contain outrageous exaggerations of the Hebrew "conjugations", that is, substitution of terminations, prefixes, and interfixes for what the sons of Japhet would use independent words to express. We find them in the act of migration to the southwest, and with traditions of having come from a great distance in that direction.

The Retiring President, Dr. B. A. Gould, who was elected at Burlington, and who presided at Chicago, delivered the usual address in the Tabernacle church in the evening. Several circumstances combined with the extreme heat, not only of the day but of the evening also, to render the audience one of the smallest that has met on this annual occasion. The theme was The Man of Science, his duties, his aids and his obstacles, &c. The relations of the scientist to the world that baffles him through utilitarianism, pride of wealth or fear for the interests of religion, was ably discussed. Even should facts be brought out to demonstrate that man existed before the Mosaic date, or was not a unit in parentage, we must accept the truth that the author of the two books, of Nature and Revelation, does not contradict himself when both are rightly interpreted.

The address was followed by a levee at Mrs. Walcott's. Her son-in-law, Prof. A. S. Packard, jr., of the Peabody Academy of Science, is one of the active naturalists of Salem. He has a work on elementary entomology drawing towards completion. The occasion was a pleasant one, as the garden, which extends down to the water, invited so many of the guests out to enjoy music, moonlight and a balmy air, that neither the rooms nor the refreshment tables were at any time crowded.

To-day (Saturday) we rest. We are the city's guests. We leave on the steamer Escort at half-past nine, for an entire day of marine life. The morning is delicious, and we look forward to an excursion not to be paralleled by any water-experience of the past or future. Of course the evening is to have its levee.

The goods stolen from the store of J. N. Hamlett of Milford, the 18th, have been recovered, and the teams, which were also stolen from Pittsfield and North Adams, Mass.

A hundred acres of "White Hall Swamp" was burned over, week before last, in Rochester. The property was mostly owned by David Wingate. A careless sportsman caused the fire.

FLIES ON ANIMALS.—The following is given as a preventive of horses or neat or other stock being teased by flies: Take two or three small handfuls of walnut leaves, upon which pour two or three quarts of cold water; let it infuse one night, and pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let it boil for a quarter of an hour. When cold it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge, and before the horse goes out of the stable, let those parts which are most irritable be smeared over with the liquor, viz.: between and upon the ears, the neck, the flanks, etc. Not only the gentleman or lady who rides out for pleasure, will derive pleasure from the walnut leaves thus prepared, but the coachman, the wagoner, and all others who use horses during the hot months.

HORSES' FEET REQUIRE MOISTURE.—Nine tenths of the diseases which happen to the hoofs and ankles of horses are occasioned by stable. Many persons seem to think, from the way they keep their horses, that the foot of the horse was never made for moisture, and that, if possible, it would be beneficial if they had big boots to put on every time they went out. Nature designed the foot for a moist ground—the earth of the woods and valleys; at the same time that a covering was given to protect it from stones and stumps.—Ohio Farmer.

MANURE.—When we consider that 90 per cent. at least of even our farm manure is water and sand, we may see that a very small bulk comprises all that is really valuable, and it is not incredible that 300 lbs of the right stuff per acre is enough for a crop, and that commercial fertilizers honestly made and properly inspected and certified may be profitably used in the production of valuable crops. After consuming the fodder raised on our farms, we must look in that direction for the further supply of manure.—Farmer.

SPECIE CURRENCY.—A distinguished Confederate leader, who passed some time in Mexico after the collapse of the "cause perdu," found his way hither right gladly, and put up at St. Charles. The morning after his arrival he rang for John and sent him for a cock-tail, giving him a Maximilian dollar. John had been victimized before by designing strangers, and was carefully on his guard. Giving a glance at the shining piece of silver, he gave his head a shrewd shake, and laid the metal upon the table, remarking, with considerable dignity: "They don't take medals for drinks at this yer bar!"—Harper's Magazine for September.

STONING STEPHEN.—When Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Douglas, in the summer of 1858, made their memorable canvass of Illinois for the United States Senatorship, they frequently met on the same hustings and addressed the same audience. On one of his most eloquent speeches, it came Mr. Lincoln's turn. Throwing off his over-coat, he handed it to a young man near by, and said, in his droll way: "Here, you hold my clothes while I stone Stephen!"—Harper's Magazine for Sept.

NUISANCES AT THE POST OFFICE.—A great many "peculiar people" call at the post offices, among which may be mentioned the following: The individual who gets a letter about once in six months, but who always struggles to be first at the window; the one who regards his solitary letter as a natural curiosity, turning it over and over, viewing it critically from an up-hill and down-hill standpoint, as if in astonishment that he should get any at all; the man from the country, who inquires for Mr. Lumkins, old Mr. Snodgrass, and all the folks at his place; the spruce clerk, with a paste bosom-pin and short-tailed coat, who gets a dozen letters for his employer, and looks as wise as though they were all intended for himself; the old buffer, who gets a letter from his married daughter in Indiana, puts on his "specs," and reads it through before leaving the rail; the indignant specimen, who wonders why the d—ence the expected letter hasn't come, and who holds an earnest colloquy with the clerk as to the probable cause of its detention; the blushing damsel, who, in her eagerness, jabs the ferrule of her parasol in your left eye, and apologizes with a smirk and a titter; the bashful young man, with faint traces of down on his chin, who expects a letter from his sweetheart, and who retires in confusion; the be-roughed and be-flounced cyprian, who smells of musk, and who inquires, with a cracked voice, for Miss Viola Fitzsimmons; the big-paunched man, who treads on your toes in the crowd, and then laughs at your anguish; the seedy customer, who gets a bill for washing, and tries to make you think it's a draft; these, with the booby who waits an hour to see who comes in, are the most prominent of post office nuisances.

—Lindley Murray, the grammarian, is said to have resided for the space of two-and-twenty years in one front parlor, without once going out, attended upon by a kindly old maid, enamored of his participles and his preter-pluperfects, living chiefly on boiled mutton and turnips, and solacing himself, in the intervals of conjugating verbs, by grinding a barrel organ.

—Of the 58,943 males arrested last year by police in New York city for violation of law, 32,700 were single. Of the 21,589 females arrested, 13,144 were single. This makes a total of single over married persons arrested of 11,106. This fact, together with many others of like character, might prove to Mr. Emerson that "marriage is not an open question."

—While in a railroad car on the Worcester (Ohio) road on Wednesday, a young lady, eighteen years old, named Winnie Kelly, thrust her head and arms out of the window. When the train went through a covered bridge one arm came in contact with one of the iron supporting rods, and was instantly cut off.

—The name of the thimble is said to have been derived from "thumbell," having been first worn on the thumb as the sailor's thimble still is. It is a Dutch invention, and was introduced into England in 1695, by John Lofting, who manufactured it at Islington.

—A minister writes from Saratoga: The belle of the season wears a dress valued at the amount of my salary for two years, and a set of diamonds equal in value to the cost of comfortable mission church, with infant room attached, gas fixtures and cabinet organ included.

—Mr. Bonner paid about one hundred thousand dollars for advertising his last Ledger story, "Red Knife." It is still reported by some business men that advertising is useless. Bonner wouldn't advertise if it were so.

—A western paper announces the birth of her thirty-first child to a lady of the place where it is published. The oldest of the family, if living, would now be only twenty-nine years of age. There were three pair of twins in the lot.

—The Catholic Telegraph, published at Cincinnati, in a late edition says: "It will be a glorious day for Catholics when, under the blows of justice and morality, our common school system will be shattered to pieces."

—Corry O'Lanus favors the entrance of women into the political arena, on the ground that "every woman is bound to do a certain amount of scolding, and if she does a good deal in public she can't do much at home."

A "THURRER BREED BIZENESS MAN" is defined by Josh Billings to be "wun that knows enuff about stealin so there kant eney body steal from him, and enuff about law so that he kin do his stealin legally."

—A foppish fellow advised a friend not to marry a poor girl, as he would find matrimony with poverty "up hill work." — "Good," said his friend "I had rather go up hill than down, any time."

—The man who imagined himself wise because he detected some typographical errors in a newspaper, has gone east to get a perpendicular view of a rainbow.

—Those who make the world laugh often, themselves laugh least.

DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin, in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medicinal preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.

READ THIS.
A ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every One Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1869.

THE HARVARDS have got their new American boat, built by Elliott. It suits them better than any they have tried. A London dispatch says it is thought that the crew are more formidable opponents in this than in any other craft which they have tried.

The opinion is generally entertained by Englishmen that the Oxford crew must win, but the appearance of the crews hardly warrants the assertion that either is superior to the other. The result will mainly depend upon the skill of the coxswain and his perfect knowledge of the course.

A London special says: "The Harvard and Oxford University boat crews were out Tuesday evening on the river for a final trial over the course prior to the University race. The Harvard crew made the distance, 4 1-2 miles, in 23 minutes 6 seconds. The Oxford time, as reported, was 30 seconds less. But the Harvards started from the barge while the Oxfords took a flying start, commencing their pulling 300 or 400 yards below the barge, so as to get a good speed stroke on before reaching the starting point. The tide was also more in their favor.

The betting on the result is nominally 6 to 4, but at present their exists no apparent inclination to give odds. It is now definitely settled that the Harvards will row in the boat built by Elliott, the American builder. They have adhered persistently to their own style of rowing, refusing all English coaching advice. The race will thus be fairly American against English, but with every disputed point yielded in favor of England.

A large number of Americans are arriving in order to witness the race. The advocates of the London style of rowing are already very badly demoralized in consequence of the news of a defeat which the London men sustained in Tuesday's regatta at the hands of the Newcastle men.

THE TROT AT SARATOGA, on the 23d, for a purse of $3000, between Mountain Boy and Lady Thorne, was twice postponed in order that it might be witnessed by Commodore Vanderbilt, the owner of Mountain Boy, and his wife. The bridal party came upon the grand stand just before the race, and attracted great attention.

This is as the papers give the item; and we could but think, what a change in the reading it would make, to omit the comma after the second "Boy." And how far from true, would it be, to say the hoary millionaire bought his new young wife, as he does his horses, with his money?

☞ The great Hotel Pelham has been moved back several feet, in Boston, to widen the street—and persons went twenty miles to see the movement.

☞ U. S. Steamer Tallapoosa, with the Secretary of the Navy and party, arrived at Boston on Wednesday.

—Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., of Harvard College, preached at Council Bluffs last Sunday.

MAINE ITEMS.—The Portland & Rochester business of the road since its extention to Alfred, has been constantly increasing. That portion of the line between Alfred and Rochester will soon be placed under contract and constructed at an early day.

Mr. John Harris of North Berwick caught a pickerel one day last week, that measured 24 1-2 inches in length, and after being out of water six hours weighed 4 1-2 lbs.

Three young men from the rural districts were in Biddeford Saturday afternoon, and after partaking liberally of bad rum, got into a little quarrel in one of the numerous drinking saloons that abound in the city, and report says bottles were used for other purposes than ornament or drinking.

Among the inmates of the Essex County (Mass.) Jail at Lawrence, is E. M. P. Smyth, formerly of York county, but more recently a lawyer in Boston. Smyth was brought from New York to answer to a charge of embezzling a thousand dollars which he had collected for a widow, of a Life Insurance Company, the same being due on a policy issued on her son's life.

☞ A party from Pittsfield visited California and went to see the "big trees." They found the journey fatiguing, but were amply compensated by the fact that one of the ladies of the party rode on horse back into and out of the trunk of a standing hollow tree, and a gentleman walked 200 feet in one of the prostrate hollow trees and came out of a knot hole.

☞ In case the Harvards are beaten, the New Orleans Times proposes to send over a crew of American Dentists to show what pulling is.

SALEM, MASS., 24th Aug.

THE TOTAL ECLIPSE occupied two interesting sessions held yesterday in the church, which was well filled. The important points to observe were: 1, Exact time of various contacts of the moon's edge with the edge of the sun or with spots. 2, Protuberances, once called crimson flames. 3, Corona. 4, Bailey's beads. 5, Planets, visible only during solar eclipses. As none of the last were seen, we need speak of but the other four.

Four wonderful appliances were brought to bear on this total eclipse for the first time: a, the chronograph, which marks time on a revolving cylinder by a telegraph key, accurate to about the tenth of the second; b, the spectroscope; c, the polariscope; and d, photography. Images were taken in a thirtieth of a second and automatically recorded as to time, thus avoiding the error of "personal equation." The moon's semi-diameter will have been measured with an accuracy far exceeding anything before, and will give the distance of the earth from the sun far more accurately than the approaching transit of Venus could, unaided by photography. Strangely enough the spectroscope announced the approach of the moon before the first contact, which with every other instrument takes the observer by surprise. This new application of the instrument that detects hydrogen and sodium half-way across the universe, was due to Prof. C. A. Young, of Dartmouth. That instrument is directed to the edge of the sun when the moon is about to cover it; certain colored lines rise beyond the surface of the sun, differently colored from those within the sun's surface. These are driven in by the approach of the invisible moon, and extinguished at the instant of contact.

The protuberances were seen differently at different places, but alike at the same place and time. They may have been five or six, the one nearest the horizon being much the longest. North of this about 30 degrees of the sun's circumference, was a remarkable one shaped like the sign of Aries in the old almanacs. The largest one seemed also to have eaten a piece out of the moon's edge,—one of the hardest puzzles of all. Prof. Pierce conjectured that these protuberances were real flames of burning gas. Prof. Henry suggested that the red color was subjective,—that it is all in your eye. If you look closely at an intensely bright red figure for a little while and then turn your eyes on a white wall, —you will see the same shape in green. Some saw the protuberances reticulated and thought them identical with the "Willow-leaves" or with the spots.

The corona or halo was complete the instant the eclipse was total. They do not speak of the moon as travelling over this or the flames. It surrounded the moon with a nearly uniform brightness, but shot out long rays in about four directions so as to take a rhomboidal shape. There was great diversity of opinion about this halo. It was made of meteors continually shot out from the sun; it was identical with the zodiacal light, with the aurora borealis, with the tails of comets, with nothing on earth or over it. In the longest direction it extended 30 or 35 minutes from the sun; in the shortest, from three to five. The polariscope revealed that the rays of the corona were not polarised, but that the back-ground of them was.

Additional evidence is found that the moon has no atmosphere, or next to none; but the sun has not a well-defined, permanent edge. The moon's shadow, which was some 150 miles in diameter, fell some miles further north than was expected.

Bailey's beads are a row of bright spots, the last of the sun to disappear or the first to re-appear. Most suppose they are part of the sun's edge seen through notches in the ragged edge of the moon. Some doubt this. Some did not see them at the close of the totality.

Another peculiarity not sufficiently noticed before was small bright flashes passing across the moon, or from cusp to cusp, and even in the space beyond the sun. No one knew what to make of them. Some even thought they were caused by something near the observer.

The excitement of the observers was intense, the interval was so short, the scene so stupendous, and witnessed for the first time in their lives,—if those could be said to witness it who could permit themselves to look at but one thing at that time, and many of whom will die without seeing a total eclipse, after travelling a thousand miles to work a few minutes in the shadow of one. The Sitka party is not yet heard from. None of the others lost the eclipse through bad weather.

☞ The New England Farmer urges all farmers to attend the Fairs in their vicinity,—especially that of the New England Society at Portland, early in September. Of course they ought to, for recreation and improvement; and take along their wives and daughters too,—for the information and amusement of all. The Farmer well says "the farmers of New England will be blind to their own interests, if they do not test the utmost capacity of the accommodations for stock, manufactures and products, which are offered by that most hospitable city."

☞ The new Carbolic Acid, which we believe is procured from coal or petroleum, is a very certain remedy for most of the known parasitic diseases, and will kill or drive away almost any kind of vermin, large or small. Kerosene Oil also is very offensive to insects, and will keep flies from wounds of animals; and a friend of ours who keeps many horses, says there is no application for new or old sores on them, so good as a mixture of kerosene and hog's lard.

New Hampshire Items.

The Peterborough Transcript says Dublin is the only town in that neighborhood where liquor is not sold at open bars.

A number of members of the Manchester Pennacook Hose Company, with their families, have enjoyed an eight days' camping out at Rye Beach. They are liberal in their commendations of Mr. Philbrick, of the "Seaside House," and of Mr. Edmunds, through whose agency they were conveyed from Greenland to Rye.

Jesse Horne of Great Falls, has taken the contract for building the new Congregational Church at Farmington for about $11,000.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS. — The total value of dutiable articles imported for the year ending June 30 was $395,847,369, against $324,245,659 last year; the value of articles free of duty was $41,179,172 this year and $29,379,149 last. The total export of domestic commodities was $413,869,182 for this year and $454,301,713 for last. Of foreign commodities re-exported, the dutiable articles were valued at $10,437,205 this year and $11,486,431 last, while of those free of duty the figures stand $14,692,965 this year and $10,709,007 last. The total value of the products of the American fisheries received into the U. S. during the quarter ending June 30 is reported at $3,030,605.

—A bachelor friend is in the habit, when he comes to his room in the evening, of putting his teakettle on the stove, and himself lying down on the lounge and taking a snooze until the kettle begins to sing, when he gets up and makes his tea. The other evening, being a little prostrated on account of old Simpkins' daughter's rocking chair in the street, he put the kettle on the lounge and got upon the stove himself, and never discovered his mistake until he began to sing.

—Every young couple desiring to make a good-omened start in life, must keep two bears—bear and forbear—in the house, and feed them well.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

OPOTIO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made yearly from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers: PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865. I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also purchases a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TANSHER, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuci Wine.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine eleven years, for all sorts of family sewing, from the coarsest, even carpet-binding, to the finest worn by women, and requiring No. 300 cotton. It gives me still entire satisfaction, and I can not too highly recommend it to others as a family comfort. Solely from my appreciation of your machine above all others, I have been the means of selling more than a hundred of them. DOVER, Del. MRS. C SLAUGHTER.

— A want has been felt and expressed by physicians, for a safe and reliable purgative; such a want is now supplied in Parsons' Purgative Pills.

Officers and Soldiers who served in the Army, Physicians, Surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere, join in recommending "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment" to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

All the year round, "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" should be given to horses that are "kept up." To horses and cattle that graze in summer, they should only be given in Winter and Spring.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Painless Digestion.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrium, a flushing of the face at meal times, and a furred tongue, in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, biliousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness, and low spirits, are its more invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather. The close of summer is therefore the season when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends the one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The standard remedy of the present age for indigestion, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid defiles its stimulating principle; its tonic constituents are in no instance the results of research but yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurent, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorant qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by peculiarly malarious or unwholesome water, that has ever been used either in the United States or Tropical America.

In cases of constipation resulting from a want of tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvelous; and without the dangerous sequences of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition. au26

Holloway's Pills.—The hot months break down many systems that have been comparatively vigorous during the Winter and Spring. Stimulants so often resorted to, re-act and increase the evil. Regulate the disordered functions of the stomach and liver, and purify the animal fluids with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, and strength, animation, energy, will soon return. They restore the appetite, invigorate the digestion, and are an absolute specific for lassitude and debility. Sold by all Druggists. au25

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter of Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was as well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three hundred dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it at home. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease."

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of the animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has never lost a horse under his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, and invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any medical preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical agents, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this precious remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altho' the medicinal taste of its active ingredients has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the bodily organism is subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious, aperitic and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

It can be guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drink or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Pamphlets containing testimonials will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. These pills need to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstruction, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented equal to calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

The use of Schenck's Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach and bowels to digest food, and to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to check fever, and to stop decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 32 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE ABATEMENT OF THE NUISANCE at the west part of the city it seems involves a considerable amount of red tape. A member of the Board of Health sends us a communication stating they "have done all that the law has authorized them to do. If the Board of Aldermen will authorize and back up the Board of Health, pecuniarily, they will go ahead and bury the nuisance so low that an earthquake would not raise it. It is rumored that the Board of Aldermen will have the place indicted by the Grand Jury at its next session."

The Board of Health being now exonerated from all blame in the matter we call on the Board of Aldermen to do their duty promptly. Every one admits that the nuisance exists—and the individual, or individuals, single or collectively, who rid the suffering citizens of that part of the city of the abomination referred to, will deserve the grateful recognition of hundreds who now breathe the poisonous atmosphere; and the person or persons having the authority to act and yet shirking the responsibility, deserve to be re-placed by men of decision who are not afraid to do right. We hope there are none in our present Board of Aldermen who will hesitate to have this nuisance abated immediately. The situation admits of no delay, and we trust a more speedy method of action will be adopted than to wait for the Grand Jury.

☞ The Young People's Society of the North Parish, made a very enjoyable Picnic excursion to Kittery Point, in Steamer Appledore, on Tuesday—in which the parishioners generally joined.

The new steamer is a favorite and excellent means of pleasure conveyance. We understand a Clambake party is proposed for Dover Point, in about two weeks, under direction of Mr. J. C. Butler.

A large party of Odd Fellows, from Manchester, this city, and elsewhere, are to visit Wallis' Sands on Friday.

Such excursions as these, and smaller parties from in town and out, just at this season call into use all the facilities of livery and wagon conveyance, &c. This is it should be—only there is not half enough of it. Sensible recreation is essential to health and comfort, and not at all incompatible with strict attention to and full success in business. The people who work best, often play best also; and all work and no play is certainly not good for man nor woman.

"SO GLAD!"—Our citizens are to be favored with two evenings of burlesque, at the Temple, commencing this evening. Miss Jennie Kimball, whose appearance here last spring turned the heads of Young America and made old veterans spruce up and rally en masse for a lively entertainment, puts her best foot forward now in one of the jolliest burlesques of the day, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," which though old is good and new to half our citizens. B. F. Whitman, formerly of the Continental Theatre, Boston, is the manager of the troupe, which consists of about thirty artists. Francis I of France will be personated by Mr. Frank Murdoch, and J. P. Saxton will appear as Henry VIII of England ("Bluff King Hal"), on a visit to France. We would advise all who have conscientious scruples against hearty laughing to remain away:—the German Band might be too much for 'em.

HOME AGAIN.—We are glad to welcome among the hundreds of summer visitors here, Br. James Shaw of the Selma (Ala.) Press, just returned from his adopted State to recreate for a while among old home scenes, after an absence of four years. We believe the Alabamians have bestowed their confidence in our old friend's abilities and merits in such a manner as to entitle him to the prefix "Hon." to his name. Shaw being a modest man, however, prefers not high sounding titles, and is content with being editor and proprietor of a live paper, which is entering upon its second year with very satisfactory prospects for its enterprising projector. Long life to it and him!

☞ Messrs. Clarence B. Mason and John W. Seavey have purchased the Agricultural Warehouse and Seed Store of Messrs. Goodwin, Sweetser & Co., in this city, and will conduct the same henceforth. While we shall regret to lose the old and original firm from the establishment, we wish the new proprietors all success in their enterprise. Such an institution is needed in the city, and we have no doubt the new firm will develope its capacities.

☞ Attention is called to the change in the advertisement in another column for Proposals for furnishing Iron, &c., at the Navy Yard.

DECEASE OF A GOOD CITIZEN.—In the death of Capt. JOHN CHASE, which occurred on Wednesday, our City sustains the loss, not only of an eminent retired shipmaster and active business man, but also of an honorable citizen who has ably and faithfully served the city and the community in the duties of alderman, school committee and other trusts; and whose loss in the social and domestic circle will be severely felt. His age was 62.

☞ We agree with the Boston Transcript, that sportsmen should read the letter from the Sagamore House, which we copy, as it gives an amusing account of one of their number who did not go "on a wild goose chase."

Somebody also ought to write the history of that fishing voyage, which lasted from early morn till Dewey eve—and worried his Eve almost sick, too; and the Piper who played at imaginary fishing after he went to bed, should not be forgotten—nor Jim Peirce's gold fish excursion, and how the Judge decided on lemonade for the crowd, for the sell. As to the search for the location of the first house built in New Hampshire, it was suck-cessful.

☞ The Rockingham Agricultural Society have decided to hold their Fair at Exeter,—Sept. 16, 17 and 18, we believe, which will be on Thursday to Saturday, of the same week as the Strafford Fair.

The Exeter Horticultural Society hold their exhibition, the News Letter says, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 21 and 22—which if correct, will be the same days as the Piscataqua Fair in this city.

The Portsmouth Horticultural Society have decided to hold no exhibition this year—so the live members can do all the more for the Piscataqua Fair.

☞ Nellie Locke and Topsy (foolish change of name from Empress) are to trot for a match purse of $250 a side, at Great Falls on Friday. It will be a warm race, but we think Nellie can win, unless her recent sprain still lames her. She can bear the speed of either of her late competitors; but it is hard work to out-trot three or four horses about as good as herself, and to out-jockey their drivers combined against her,—not to mention judges a little partial adversely, with pool-sellers and buyers the same way, and all in a ring from which she is out.

☞ To-morrow the Pic-nic of Osgood Lodge I. O. of O. F. takes place at Wallis' Sands. About 250 brethren from Manchester are expected to visit Portsmouth by the morning train and return in the evening. The Osgoods will take charge of them and carry them down to the sea to partake of chowder.

☞ We are desired by the President, to notify a meeting of the Philharmonic Society, at Mr. Tilton's Music Room, this, Thursday, evening at half-past 7.

☞ Bishop Heber Kimball of Mormondom has frequent juvenile funerals. Out of a crop of 63 children he has lost 48.

☞ On account of scarcity of water, Philadelphia milkmen are obliged to raise their prices.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, a QUIETLY MAGIC TONIC, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap over the cork, and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London.....£7 85. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fr. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

SAGAMORE HOUSE, Aug. 22.

HOW WE SHOT A WILD GOOSE.—This is not an ordinary milk-and-watering place letter. I have some important news to communicate,— something "interesting to sportsmen."

Of course you know where the Sagamore House is,—just beyond Rye Beach, and about three miles from Portsmouth. You must not understand from its name that it takes second rank as a hotel. The guests have all given it Brevet rank as "Sachem" — for meritorious services during this season's campaign. It is, on the whole, as good a place in which to fool away your time, or develope your muscles as I know of on the New England coast.

We have a few notables: a railway king, a judge or two, some generals, a distinguished surgeon and quantities of pretty girls who come to breakfast in the most fascinating little scarlet jackets. We ride, we fish, we sail, we bowl, we carom on the red, we shoot. Ah! now I come to the wild goose story.

The Surgeon has a beautiful little rifle, which he cherishes, particularly, I think, as an instrument to obtain subjects for dissection. I don't think he would willingly shoot a single human being—even if he knew that he would be intrusted with the post mortem examination. But there are few persons in the vicinity of Frost's Point who have not become painfully familiar with the hum of the little lead pills which the Doctor deals from his iron tube. During the day he don't pretend to do any serious shooting; but after tea he means business. He goes "crane shooting." Last night was the first time he had any luck. I've been with him several times—toiling painfully over the rocks, weighed down by a fearful, death-dealing, double-barreled shot-gun; and the only thing that we did at the end of a two-mile walk was to get on a rock, and, after smoking an hour or two, and seeing the moon rise, walk home again. I haven't fired that gun yet; and, as time goes on, the less inclination have I to discharge it. I am sure it will kick frightfully. How long it has been loaded the bar-keeper only knows, and he gives evasive answers.

Last night I accompanied the Doctor as usual, but refused to carry the gun. Of course an opportunity occurred for distinguishing myself, and I was without the means. We had just got comfortably seated on a rock, when, from over the waters, there came a cry which the Doctor said was from the long-looked-for crane. Presently we made out two specks on the water, approaching the shore. They must be loons. With a desire to throw Murray into the shade, the Doctor descended upon them, with lips firmly compressed and murder in his eyes. I never saw birds so reckless before. They coquetted for a while, swimming in and out, but finally came boldly on to their death. The full moon had risen meanwhile, making a gorgeous pathway across the waters. The birds crossed that in their course; and as they came out in bold relief, about five hundred yards off, the Doctor banged away. For a minute they disappeared, and we thought they had gone under; but presently, to our surprise and admiration, they appeared dimly in the shadow of the rocks moving in still nearer to the shore. It was too dark to draw a bead, but the Doctor blazed away three times in quick succession. There was a "squawk," a splashing of water, and we saw one speck moving off, and the other remaining—still as death. How to get the game—that was the important question. In that moment of supreme excitement either would have given the contents of his pocket-book (and we hadn't paid our bills) to be able to put his hand on the thing, whatever it was.

The tide was coming in. We sat down and smoked and waited. It floated in very slowly. At last the Doctor could stand it no longer. He pulled off his trousers, and rolled over the slippery rocks into the water. "By Jove!" he shouted, "it's immense. Weighs at least fifteen pounds. He dragged it ashore, and we made a moonlight examination. He thought it was a wild goose. I deferred to his judgement, as I don't know a hawk from a handsaw — or any other tool. Heavens! how I envied that man, as I thought of his entering the house with such a splendid bird, and all the girls gathering about him — Ma Belle and St. Ives among them — and making a great hero of him. But I was elated too. Could I not say I was in at the death? On the whole I felt rather proud of myself for being discerning enough to follow a man who could shoot a wild goose.

We made excellent time over the beach to the house, and arrived very warm and excited. The Railway King was the first to greet us. He pronounced the thing a wild goose. "By George! boys," he said, "You've done well—we'll have a salmi to-morrow. His approbation was fame. We felt that there was little more to live for. The goose was carried in and laid in the centre of the great hall. The girls collected and admired first the goose,—then the Doctor. (He is young and unmarried.) Mr. Pierce, the landlord, asked me quietly if I shot the bird. I would have given anything to have been able to say "Yes;" for I thought I saw champagne and high honors for the lucky sportsman, in his eye. But I answered manfully in the Washingtonian way, "No, the Doctor did it." "Look here," said Mr. Pierce, drawing me away from the crowd, "it's all right, you know, but that's my goose."

I said nothing, but retired with a book into the farthest corner of the room. The goose was removed presently, but the ladies still stood in little groups discussing the important event, and the gentlemen were recalling remarkable shots that they had witnessed, when the Railway King appeared in the doorway, his white imperial standing out straight and his head thrown back, as you see him in his favorite photograph. I knew it was coming, and I looked nervously at the unconscious Doctor. "What do you think," said the King, in his loudest tones, "them d—d boys drove one of Pierce's geese down to the point and shot it in cold blood." "It isn't so," said the Doctor, indignantly, "I know it's a wild goose." "Pooh!" said the King; one of Pierce's is missing, and they've cut open the crop of this one and found corn in it."

The Doctor and myself have made arrangements to dine away from the house to-day.

THE HARVARD-OXFORD RACE.—The London Telegraph of Monday says many of the best judges of boating offer two to one on the Oxford boat. It predicts that the Oxonians will win, but believes that the Harvard crew will make a better fight than was anticipated by the supporters of the Oxford crew.

Mr. Simmons, of the Harvard four, has entirely recovered from his recent indisposition. The Harvard men desire that a contradiction be made of the rumors that they have adopted the English style of rowing. They maintain the match is to be a contest of styles as well as of men. They express themselves well pleased with all the arrangements that have been made for them, and are satisfied with the result of their practice on the Thames. The Harvards have not yet decided what boat they shall take for the race. Their coxswain will be lighter in weight than the Oxfords.

—Delirium tremens is generally supposed to be confined exclusively to excessive consumers of ardent spirits. Cases are not wanting, however, to show that light wines and tobacco, when used immoderately, will occasion the disease. In St. Louis, Michael Wigand, aged 33, died of apoplexy, after suffering from the usual symptoms of delirium tremens, and ale is supposed to have been the direct cause of his death.

—Copies of the will of Andrew J. Butler and of the inventories and schedules filed by his brother and executor, Gen. B. F. Butler, are published. The schedules show that the estate is insolvent and that no money remains to be divided among the heirs, who are Gen. Butler, Mrs. Butler (wife of the deceased), and George H. Butler, his son.

— Cornelius Kelleper died on Sunday in New York in terribly agony from a dose of tobacco juice and ale given him by an old lady named Manahan for fever and ague. An investigation is being made.

—About half a ton of small stones and gravel fell from a height of 25 feet upon Mr. Moses Boothby, of Saco, while digging a well, causing severe wounds and bruises, though not dangerous ones.

—The voice of the people cries aloud to magazine publishers to cut the leaves of their serials.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in saying I believe that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.—Ex-Secretary Stanton had an interview with Secretary Fish yesterday.—Sensation Telegram of Associated Press.

I was present at that interview. The subject of it was Warts.

Ex-Secretary Stanton said that when he was a boy he had sixteen on his left hand, one or two on his right thumb, and one on his elbow. He said he used to always hunt for old hollow stumps with rain water standing in them to soak his warts in.

Secretary Fish said he had millions of warts when he was a boy, and sometimes he split a bean and tied it over his wart, and then took that bean and buried it in the cross roads at midnight in the dark of the moon.

Ex-Secretary Stanton said he had tried that, but it never worked.

Secretary Fish said he could not remember that it worked—he only remembered trying it a good many times and in the most unquestioning good faith.

Ex-Secretary Stanton said his usual plan was to run a needle through the wart and then hold the end of the needle in the candle till it warmed the wart to that degree that it would never take an interest in this world's follies and vanities any more forever.

Secretary Fish said he thought likely he was the wartiest boy that ever—

At this opportune moment Ex-Secretary Stanton's carriage was announced, and he arose and took his leave. The next Associated Press dispatch that distressed the people through the columns of every single newspaper in America read as follows;

"The subject of the interview between Ex-Secretary Stanton and Secretary Fish has not transpired. There are various flying rumors. It is generally believed that it referred to the Alabama question, and was very important."

And yet they were only talking about Warts.

Hereafter when I see vague, dreadful Associated Press dispatches stating that Jones called on the Secretary of the Interior last night, or Smith had an interview with the Attorney General, or Brown was closeted with the President until a late hour yesterday evening, I shall not be so terrified as I used to be. I shall feel certain that they were only talking about Warts, or something like that. They can never fire my interest again with one of those dispatches, unless they state what the interview was about.

JOSH BILLINGS PAPERS.—A slander iz like a hornet, if yu kant kill it dead the first blo, yu better not strike at it.

I make this distinkshun between charakter and reputashun—reputashun iz what the world thinks ov us, charakter iz what the world knows ov us.

Vanity iz seldom malishous.

Put an Englishman into the garden of Eden, and he would find fault with the whole blasted consarn—put a Yankee in, and he will see where he could alter it to advantage—put an Irishman in, and he would want tew boss the thing — put a Dutchman in, and he would proceed at once to plant cabbage.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1869.

THE HEDDING CAMP MEETING, at Epping, has been the point of attraction this week, for all the vicinity; and the trains of the railroads leading thitherward, with vehicles of almost all sorts, elegant and otherwise, comfortable and comfortless, have been in requisition to convey the multitudes who have congregated there. The farmers in a wide circle from the grounds, have their stables, yards and sheds filled with horses,—and the feeding of five thousand people, (not by miracles, nor by bread alone,) is quite a work of necessity and toil.

The preachers, on Thursday forenoon, were attentively heard by the one or two thousand people who sat or stood within hearing distance and constituted the audience;—while the congregation seated farther off, and much larger, were orderly and quiet, conversing with friends and enjoying the scene;—and the outsiders, whose name was Legion, amused themselves by walking, pic-nic-ing, and so forth.

The large circle of tents and cottages, generally neat and convenient, and some really elegant, formed a very beautiful encampment, and the whole arrangement of the grounds is in good taste, reflecting credit on the denomination and its managers in this district.

RYE BEACH, Aug. 26.

The first grand ball of the season, came off at the Farragut House Wednesday evening, and was in every respect a most successful affair. For several days previous the ladies and gentlemen sojourning at this popular resort have been busily at work preparing decorations, &c., for the grand event; and on entering the spacious dining room, on the evening noted, the result of their efforts was at once evident. The hall was most beautifully trimmed with evergreen, and at one end three large American Flags were conspicuously draped, covering the entire side, and producing a very fine effect.

The dancing commenced at 8 1-2 o'clock, and the spacious room was well filled by as charming and select a company as ever was seen at Rye Beach. To enter into minute particulars in regard to the different dresses and faces, would make a long story, so let it suffice to say that the ladies looked charming, and were dressed with much taste and elegance. At half past eleven refreshments were served, which were highly relished by the company, and the getting-up of which evinced the skill of the popular proprietors of the house. The music by Mr. Knights of Boston, Pianist, and Mr. Brown, of the Brigade Band, and the cornet, was all that could be desired, and gave universal satisfaction. Great credit is also due to Messrs. Stetson and Parker, of Boston, for the able management of the affair, and to whose efforts in a great measure was due the perfect success of the last grand hop of the season of '69. It was indeed a very delightful occasion, and no doubt will ever be remembered as such by all who participated in it, and was also an agreeable close to the most successful season ever seen by the Farragut and Atlantic houses.

Yours, R.

TROTTING.—The best three-mile time ever made heretofore, was by Dutchman, several years ago, 7:32 1-2. Flora Temple and General Butler both attempted it, but failed; and Myron Perry of Boston is said to be now matched to try the same feat. But late reports from California say that Jas. L. Goff's brown mare Lady Dovley, recently trotted two three-mile heats against two pacers, in 7:29 1-2, 7:32 1-4 winning the race and $400. Truly a masterly performance.

THE HARVARD-OXFORD BOAT RACE takes place this afternoon, at 5 o'clock, and we hope to announce a victory by the Harvards in our issue of Saturday. We have made arrangements with the International Telegraph Company to receive the first advices of the result.

OUR LATE MINISTER AT MADRID, Mr. Hale, received a high compliment from an unexpected source, if we consider the character of the aspersions that have been thrown upon his official career, by persons interested in his removal from office, that they might put on the robes. He is now on retiring, highly eulogized by the Spanish press, which pronounces him "the Wilberforce of America." Mr. Hale is at the present time in Paris, and probably will not return before next season.

☞ Notwitstanding the many new and attractive Summer resorts in this vicinity, Cape Neddick still holds its own—and 75 persons dined at Marm Freeman's last Sunday.

The Concord People says that a large body of black ants were seen a few days ago in the highway between Loudon and Concord, formed in two lines extending entirely across the road to the bank opposite. Persons who saw them estimated their number by the million. A severe battle was fought, which lasted nearly an hour, after which both sides were occupied in burying their dead. The People spoils the story by saying that their weapons were their teeth (!) and they destroyed each other by biting their bodies open in the middle.

The annual Cheshire County Musical Convention at Keene last week was very successful. The gross receipts were $1300.

A confectioner of Nashua counted up his copper and nickel coins recently, and found that he had 50,000. They measured a bushel and a half.

On Sunday evening last Mr. B. J. Brown and a man in his employ at Tilton, named Adoniram Towns, went into an orchard to drive out some boys. They took different directions, and afterwards, Towns not returning, search was made for him and he was found dead near a stone wall. His death is thought to have been caused by heart disease. The deceased was from Monson, Maine, and about 40 years old.

SAYING "HATEFUL" THINGS.—What a strange disposition is that which leads people to say "hateful" things for the mere pleasure of saying them. You are never safe with such a person. When you have done your best to please, and are feeling very kindly and pleasantly, out will pop some underhand stab which you know you comprehend—a sneer which is masked, but which is too well aimed to be misunderstood. It may be at your person, your mental failing, your foolish habits of thought or some little secret of faith or opinion confessed in a moment of genuine confidence. It matters not how sacred it may be to you, he will have his fling at it; nay, since the wish is to make you suffer, he is all the happier the nearer he touches your heart. Just half a dozen words, only for the pleasure of seeing a cheek flush and eye lose its brightness, only spoken because he is afraid you are to happy or too conceited. Yet they are worse than so many blows. How many sleepless nights have such mean attacks caused tender-hearted idiots. How after them one awakes with aching eyes and head, to remember that speech before everything—that bright, sharp, well-aimed needle of a speech that probed the very centre of your soul!

—Rev. I. N. Tarbox has just been double d—d by two colleges and his friends don't know whether to write him Rev. I. N. Tarbox D. 2, or with both of 'em tandem.

PRACTICAL SCIENCE.—The proceedings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Salem are full of interest, mainly because so large a share of the essays and discussions has been devoted to live subjects. There is a flavor of practicality about these American savants which we wish belonged to their class all over the world.—N. Y. Tribune.

We regard the report we are now publishing, as one of the most interesting and important series of paper we ever laid before our readers. The citizens of Salem subscribed several thousand dollars towards the expenses of entertaining these men of science assembled in that city.

☞ The late American minister of Paraguay, General McMahon, is reported on his way to the United States. It is reported that when he approached the lines of the allies on his return from the headquarters of President Lopez, he was badly received by the Brazillians. His escort, bearing a white flag, was attacked by some cavalry, although Count D'Eu had notified the army of the expected arrival of the minister. The reported pillaging of the American legation at Asuncion is confirmed.

MUCK.—The use of good muck is profitable on all soils; on moist granite soils, on clay loams and especially on sandy lands. It adds vegetable matter, acts mechanically on heavy soils by separating the heavy particles and thus and lightening them, collects and retains moisture on dry lands, and is an excellent absorbent of ammonia and whatever other salts come within its reach. Its effects on sandy lands are usually more striking than on any other because such lands are lacking in vegetable matter. When added liberally, its influences are quite permanent, as after a lapse of more than twenty years, they may be distinctly seen. The blacker muck is, the better the quality. When it is reddish, or pale brown, and soft, it is less valuable.

An excellent way to use it is to have it where it can be thrown into the trench behind the cattle, and thus become thoroughly incorporated with the droppings of the cattle.

With most muck it is far better if thrown out and exposed to the atmosphere for a year before using it. In that condition it costs only about half as much to cart it. If you test old muck in the garden—whatever the soil may be—you will find the roots of nearly all plants clustering about and passing through it in every direction, and the growth of the plants will be vigorous. N. E. Farmer.

—Western papers are calling to mind the alleged prediction of the famous "sleeping girl" of Kentucky that after the eclipse the sun would never again shine so hotly. But as the girl did not die as related, and predict neither the eclipse nor the permanent weakness of the sun's rays, it is hardly worth while to discuss it.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

OPORTO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Grape Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of the vineyard, will be of interest to our readers: PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that Mr. A. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also informs me a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine full. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TERHUNE, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuci Wine.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine eleven years, for all sorts of family sewing, from the coarsest, even carpet-binding, to the finest worn by women, and requiring No. 300 cotton. It gives me still entire satisfaction, and I can not too highly recommend it to others as a family comfort. Solely from my appreciation of your machine above all others, I have been the means of selling more than a hundred of them.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Painless Digestion.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrium, a flushing of the face at meal times, and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, billiousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness, and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather. But now of summer is dreaded by dyspeptics, when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The standard remedy of the present age for indigestion, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid deifies its stimulating principle; its tonic constituents are the purest that human research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurent, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by poisoning the air or the wholesome water, that has ever been used either in the United States or Tropical America.

In cases of constipation resulting from a want of muscular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvelous; and without the dangerous sequence of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition. 2aug26

Holloway's Pills.—The hot months break down many systems that have been comparatively vigorous during the Winter and Spring. Stimulants so often resorted to, re-act and increase the evil. Regulate the disordered functions of the stomach and liver, and purify the animal fluids with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, and strength, animation, energy, will soon return. They restore the appetite, invigorate the digestion, and are an absolute specific for lassitude and debility. Sold by all Druggists. au25

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:—* * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it by me. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I feel sure that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Rush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which the dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this popular remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female constitution is peculiarly subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious aperitive and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, and throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has neat and healthy lungs begin to form.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made from, enters the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop the fever, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. He cures the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, plethra obstruction, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wrong, but all over the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way left is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he will be at his office at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y|a4

THE CREEK NUISANCE.—Messrs. Editors:—The nuisance at the Creek has troubled the neighbors and the city government for years. The railroad embankment enclosed a part of the Pond, and the drainage through the culverts is very imperfect; and the drains leading into and across it deposit large quantities of vile substances, which lie and ferment, until it is almost intolerable. The small portion of the Pond thus cut off is all above low water mark, and is understood to be the property of the persons who own the adjoining shore. If filled up, and of course it can be at a large cost, the land where made will belong to private parties. But the private sewer now emptying into it will have to be extended through it, likewise at great cost. Whether it is advisable for the city to make land which after it is made will not belong to them, is an open question. If it is proper that they should fill up this place, then the same rule will apply to other large tracts on the same Pond, and to Puddle Dock and the flats of the South Pond, and wherever such nuisances exist.

What the health officers have done about this nuisance I do not know, nor how they have thrown all the responsibility on the Mayor and Aldermen. I have understood that the adjoining land was sold a year or more ago for nearly two thousand dollars, and I have no doubt the owners will be willing that the city shall fill up the flats, and thus extend their property and increase its value.

THE WHALE'S BACK LIGHT, at the entrance of this harbor, is to be continued;—and the project of removing the litght to Odierne's Point is abandoned, as we learn from the best authority. Such a project has existed; and an officer connected with the service has been in this city, and consulted with many of our shipmasters, who strongly and unanimously advised against the change.

All persons who know our coast and harbor thoroughly, would be of the same opinion. Whales Back has a point of extreme danger; and before the erection of the Light House there, for a number of years there was the average loss of about a ship a year; but since that time a wreck there has been a rare occurrence.

The House was thoroughly built;—but of course needs repairs, somewhat frequent, and sometimes costly;—but it is too important to be dispensed with; and therefore should be made as solid and comfortable as it can be.

☞ There is too much loafing, playing and rowdyism in the South Street Cemeteries; and if the City can't afford to keep a Policeman there, we should suppose the proprietors or managers of the grounds would sustain a watch on their own account. Besides the vandalism which destroys everything,—the frequent noise and vile conduct there are outrageous. Among the injuries, we notice the covered wreath on the costly monument to Miss Anna M. Martin, has been ruthlessly smashed by stones thrown, recently.

On Sunday evening, as a gentleman residing in the vicinity, was walking by with his wife, they were grossly insulted by a parcel of great boys in the Yard; and springing over among the rascals, he captured a couple as witnesses, and will endeavor to put a little check on such conduct.

THE COMIC OPERA TROUPE gave a very acceptable entertainment at the Temple, Thursday evening, and a large audience was in attendance. Jennie Kimball was, of course, the centre of attraction; the company supported her well and is a good one. They give their last performance this evening. La Petite Corinne was as cunning as ever and the Olio of songs and dances at the conclusions furnished amusement enough. Go and see them.

☞ Mr. Lamprey seems to think Autumn is coming, as he announces the Fall Term of his Dancing Academy for Sept. 8th, which will as usual be welcome news to the young folks who wish to learn how to trip the light fantastic.

THE SEVENTH BAND CONCERT will take place on Market Square, this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock, weather permitting.

☞ City Marshal Johnson killed a mad dog belonging to Benj. Woodsum on Chapel Street, Thursday.

☞ On Wednesday afternoon Capt. Wm. B. Randall's pilot boat was capsized while trying to board a schooner which was passing Fort Point, lower harbor. The pilot was accompanied by Mr. James Linnehan, who was saved from drowning by the exertions of Capt. Henry Becker and Charles Becker. The pilot was able to care for himself, and gave directions to Linnehan, who could not swim, to keep above water until aid reached him. The boat capsized in a heavy tide way where there was a heavy gale of wind blowing, and the Becker brothers were obliged to wade into the water to their necks to get their boat at her moorings. This is the fifth person saved from drowning by the exertions of these hardy fisherman, who never hesitate to risk their own lives to save others.

The frequent accidents in that vicinity render it quite necessary that a lifeboat should be provided for the sole purpose of rescuing persons in danger of drowning, and in the hands of these brave fishermen it would be used faithfully. A subscription should be made for the purchase of a suitable boat to be presented to the brothers Becker, as a testimonial for their brave conduct, heretofore, and a safeguard to any unfortunate who may be in danger of a watery grave. COM.

☞ The city government of Concord, by an almost unanimous vote, has appropriated $228,000, to be invested in stock of the Concord & Rochester Railroad. This is the balance of five per cent. on the valuation of the city, $50,000 having been previously voted towards the completion of the Concord & Claremont Railroad. The individual subscriptions in Concord to the Concord & Rochester Road are said to reach $90,000.—How much will the City and citizens of Portsmouth vote and subscribe towards the Portsmouth & Dover Road? We should suppose every business or live man would do something.

☞ The new advertisement of C. E. Shedd & Co., sheds some light on the manner in which they propose to do business in the boot and shoe and furnishing goods line; and Mr. G. V. Rowe we doubt not will still show that he can hoe his row and make a V., in his new-old store.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some mild balm, will find in this preparation, a kind, mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, loss of memory, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations of the stomach, flatulency, costiveness, coughing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
Also for Liver Diseases of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirits.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1856, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all imitators of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.
We by leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as
A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net. while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK
at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 30 krtrs., "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,
in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential, even
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at
96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.
Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

Morning Chronicle.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. I. F. Holton. Concluded.

SALEM, Mass., 24th Aug.

SECTION B,—cannot be followed thro' the day. An attempt was made by Rev. J. B. Perry, one of the corps of Agassiz, to lengthen out our geology by putting under the Potsdam sandstone at least two faunas and a third sedimentary formation, which may be also fossiliferous. Lingula prima may no longer be the first of the Lingulas, and certainly not the first of animals by two or three ages. Probably most of the attempts to reduce to six the number of worts which have occupied our globe before the present have been already abandoned. But the paper is welcome in another respect, as it aims to relieve the geology of western Vermont of the opprobrium under which it has rested for twenty years, a puzzle which we hope is now solved. Agassis and others thought the conclusions of the paper sustained.

THE SALEM FIRE DEPARTMENT made a display at noon. The new water-system of the ancient metropolis of New England is nearly completed. The pipes are tapped at frequent intervals, perhaps at every street corner. Each hose-cart carries a hydrant which can be screwed into any of these openings, to deliver six streams. Five new hose carriages, built in Philadelphia, have just arrived, and at one o'clock the hydrants were all attached and forty-two streams of water were careering in parabolic curves through the air.

THE LEVEE OF THE BOARD OF TRADE was given at the Tabernacle Vestry. We had before thought that Salem knew how to stop just a little short of actually crowding. Or is it that the Salemites, like the audience in Milton's Pandemonium, can slip themselves—whistles we certainly saw there, not a few,—into any assignable space? In the spacious lecture-room we stood about one to the square yard. When they adjourned to a supper in a room of about half the size, with several long, heavily loaded tables in it, we went down to find such a jam as we never found before on such an occasion. We found everything else we looked for, but that pressure was an extra. When four-fifths of the company had completed their refreshment, a regular second table was spread, as abundant as the first.

The address of the President of the Board of Trade, Willard P. Phelps, Esq., was enjoyed by all who are interested in history. Salem has never had more tonnage than to-day, but since the opening of the California trade and the introduction of the warehouse system, the East India ship of 150 tons of the days of Billy Gray has given place to a class of vessels that demand deeper berths and a corresponding emporium. Salem's India trade is done for. Col. Foster, President of the Association, replied quite happily. A mock session was then organized, which proved as rich in fun as any of its predecessors had been in science. When Prof. E. S. Morse of Salem was unanimously elected "Designer," we understood what that black-board and supply of chalk meant. What we could not tell to the very last was which was readiest, the "designer's" hand or his wit.

But with all this there was sober solid science there. A range of tables were set out with one of the richest displays of microscopes ever gathered in one room. Several binoculars were among them. But the room held too much else, and so now does our paper.

SALEM, Aug. 25.

The penultimate day has evidently come. We have worked hard and visited diligently. A fourth subsection (microscopy) was organized in the Law library room, but its doings excited little attention.

IN SECTION A, Prof. P. H. Van der Weyde maintained that there were three octaves of rays, analogous to three of sounds. Only the one from red to violet is visible,—the one below red is manifested by heat, the one above violet by chemical action,—photographic power. Later he presented a curious contrivance for telegraphing tunes, interesting chiefly as illustrating the rapidity with which electricity makes and unmakes a magnet. You sing a note into a drum;—say middle do. This consists of 256 vibrations per second, and the drum quivers with them. In doing so it opens and shuts a current 256 times per second. Miles away just so many impulses are given to a sounding board, and a queer little tune of the same length and pitch is heard. The timbre, as it is called, is, if you please, that of a bee in a pumpkin-blossom, but the time and pitch are as exact as a photograph. It probably could be photographed.

Prof. Pliny E. Chase proposes to ascertain exactly how long the sun is in making a revolution on its axis, because it probably has one side permanently warmer than the other. The average of numerous observations of temperature at every part of periods of the conjectured time of revolution were composed, and with what he considered good results.

Mr. E. G. Farmer of Salem exhibited various electrical appliances. Among them was a pocket india-rubber electrical machine and battery, looking like a large tape-measure in its box, capable of working in the damp where glass could not, safe where glass would shiver, the best thing that is or can be for exploding blasts. It is used, with glycerine, in our great bore, the Hoosac Tunnel. Mr. Smith (you know him) invented it. A thermo-electric battery, run by merely applying heat to its axis, and useful in electro-plating, is an utter mystery to many well-read persons. A wire with core of steel and outside of very pure copper, is our present ne plus ultra of strength, lightness and conducting power. It is alike useful for suspension and submersion. The copper is a ribbon put on mechanically. He also showed us a battery of a thousand cups, perhaps about the most intense ever made,—but the cups were so small that a man might lift the box which contained it.

An interesting paper from Prof. Henry on light-house illumination was crowded out for want of time. Prof. Moyer on the thermodynamics of waterfalls shared the same fate, and whatever we are to know of the relations between a hideous appliance to the cranium and the brain within, we must learn without the aid of this learned paper.

SECTION B furnished little to report for the general reader. But it was not like both the others, the victim of axe-grinders, advertisers, hobby-riders and men who could tell nothing not well known already. The ungrateful task of protecting their precious time seems to have been nobly performed by their Standing Committee, Messrs. Agassiz Leakin, Marsh, Cope and Hamlin. On the other hand, it was complained that a well known lunatic was let loose on,

SECTION C.—Its chairman for the day, Prof. Guyot, was even able to read the title of the paper by Prof. Morse of Salem on "Evidences of high antiquity in the Kjoekkenmoedden Deposits of New England." A. S. Bickmore, the traveller, gave an interesting account of the Ainos, a race of men with a European cast of countenance but prodigiously hairy, savages who occupy the position of a subject race in northern Japan and the large island of Saghalien beyond. Cannot the opponents of the unity of man here find evidence that a race so strongly resembling our own could not have sprung from Adam? The Indians of South America and the mound-builders of the Mississippi Valley received the particular attention of the audience. It was well that they had this refuge; for seldom has there been so little for the public to enjoy in the others.

The Chronicle.

THAT VENERABLE ABOLITIONIST, and right hand man of Garrison, Gerritt Smith, has been giving his views on Prohibition over his own hand, and they are so perfectly distinct that any one can comprehend them who would see wither prohibitory legislation threatens to lead us. Mr. Smith proceeds to discuss the objection that such a law cannot be enforced. He admits that it cannot, by such governments "as the world is generally cursed with." To remedy this, he says a new style of government is needed. Nor will that need be supplied until we have a new style of people. Nor this, until there be a new style of politics. Nor will governments, people, nor politics be what they should, "until a new style of religion shall underline and remold them all."

—Happening into one of the colored churches last Sunday, we were not a little amused to hear the sable orator—his unctuous face glowing with piety and perspiration—exclaim in an agony of penitence: "O Lord, we know we are prone to stray into by and unforbidden paths—O Lord, have mercy upon us poor sinners, of which I am chief among ten thousand and altogether lovely!" Our risibles were excited, and fearing we might be guilty of a breach of decorum, we gently slipped out the open door, and left the prayer still ascending.—Leavenworth Bulletin.

REASSURING.—Nervous Old Lady—(Band in the distance). "Oh, there are those dreadful Volunteers, Joseph! I know the horse will take fright! hadn't you better turn him round?"

Coachman (who will have his own way). "Oh, let 'im alone, 'M; he'll turn 'isself round, and pretty quick, too, if he's frightened!"

—"Geo. H. Pendleton is the nashin's hope. His politikle principles are so near like mine that he could to-day carry Kentucky by a overwhelming majority. There ain't a confedrit soljer in that state who woodent vote for him cheerfly Therefore let the democrisy ny Ohio buckle on their armor and gird up their loins."—Nasby.

—Some of our friends express fears that we shall go over, hook, line, bob and sinker to the Democracy. Don't, gentlemen, Don't; we are not that bad yet, and hope we never shall be. It is possible his Satanic Majesty may come to us, since we know we shall never go to him. Not a single time.—Charlestown Adv.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Inferior Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you sent the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted to it at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants instructed as that sight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Telford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary of Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1869.

LADY BYRON AND MRS. STOWE.—The Boston Journal says of Mrs. Stowe's new book, "We have seen but one prominent newspaper in this country which gives credence to the statements made by Mrs. Stowe regarding Lord Byron. The New York Tribune has some faith in the truthfulness of the report, but the Tribune substantially regrets that the veil was ever lifted. Several newspapers censure Mrs. Stowe for having written the sketch, and many attribute to her motives which are too ridiculous for serious consideration. The article was not written from any desire to create a sensation, but was given the public to indicate the character of a woman whom Mrs. Stowe believed was greatly wronged. Many literary people of this country urged Mrs. Stowe to produce the story, and to their judgement she deferred, as to the propriety of its publication. The same article will appear in the September number of Macmillan's Magazine, tho' the purport of the article was telegraphed per cable to London, where the truth of the story is discredited by the Atheneum."

Burleigh, the well known gossip writer, says:—

Mrs. Stowe has produced as marked a sensation as when she wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Her name is in everybody's mouth, and her revelations in regard to Lord Byron are already household words. The subject of her revelation is the talk at watering places and camp meetings; in the courts and among the dry goods men; the newsboys bellow out the revelations, and they are known at the firesides. I never knew so unanimous a verdict. All classes, grades and ranks agree that the story is a malignant conception. Byron has more friends to-day in this region than ever. Nothing now would be received from Lady Byron without corroboration.

Why? And how is it, (asks Uncle Toby,) that everybody, according to Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, and almost all the prominent editors in the United States, according to the Boston Journal, are disposed to believe the drunken debauchee and known adulterer, Lord Byron, and his shameless paramour, and utterly to disbelieve the statement of Lady Byron, against whom he urges the great fault that she was not a congenial kindred spirit?

The prominent editors may be supposed to be admirers of Lord Byron's genius; but so far as they are virtuous or even decent men, we do not perceive how they can admire his life, or trust implicitly in his veracity. And those of them who are lawyers, would naturally hold his paramour's testimony against the wife and in favor of her keeper, in very light esteem, on a trial.

But is the verdict so clearly unanimous in favor of the Adulterer and Adulteress, as Burleigh supposes? We trow not. The fashionable bubbles that float on the surface of folly may be mostly on that side, and be forward to speak in that way:—but many sober thinking people will read Mrs. Stowe's sketch and weigh the testimony on both sides, before they join hands with the criminals.

MARRYING FIRST COUSINS. — Our Legislature passed a law against marrying first cousins. It is of doubtful propriety. It is in opposition to the opinions of many stock-raisers who go for in-breeding, and in opposition to the theories of many men in regard to the human species. An old number of the American Eclectic Medical Review has an article by the late Professor W. Byre Powel, in which he controverts the popular belief that the marriage of Relations deteriorates the species by entailing on progeny idiocy, insanity and scrofula.—He says statistics on both sides of the Atlantic have failed to sustain the truth of this opinion.

On the contrary, they show that there are more of the evils complained of outside the circle of consanguinity than within it, and that the cause of the evils named is more extensive than consanguineal marriages. Dr. Patterson, of the Ohio Idiotic Asylum, informed the Professor that, although he has been particular in his inquiries as to the progenitors of idiots brought to the institution, yet he has succeeded in finding but 2 per cent. of them to have had parents who were blood relations.—Mirror.

A REMARKABLE CASE OF LONGEVITY. There is now living in the town of Smithfield, R. I., a man and his wife, Jonathan and Soloma Buxton, he being 102 years old and his wife 101, both enjoying perfect health and able to attend the duties of a large farm. They have now living nine children, the eldest 76 years of age, and all enjoying a remarkable youthful appearance. The old gentleman and his wife have enjoyed an unclouded matrimonial life of 78 years, he never having had to call the services of a physician since his remembrance. His father being one of the early emigrants from England, named the town Smithfield and the street Buxton Street, after the place he left in England.

—An old French lady prophesied, when she gave her servant a lottery ticket as a present last New Year's, that it would make her rich. It has just drawn a prize of 20,000 francs.

—The population of Nashua is just about $10,000.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S VISIT TO NEW HAMPSHIRE.—At Nashua, Wednesday at 1 o'clock P. M. the President and suite were met by Mayor Otway, who, in an eloquent address, welcomed the distinguished visitors to the State and city. The President made no reply, but shook hands with many of the citizens.

At Manchester, General Grant and party at half-past one, were received at the railway station by Mayor Smith in a brief and unostentatious speech, to which the President briefly replied. The arrival was announced by a salute of twenty guns by the Manchester battery.

After the introductory ceremony, the party proceeded at once, under the direction of Col. Waterman Smith, and visited the print works, and passed up through the yards of the several corporations between thick ranks of the operatives, who were arranged by the sides of the mills. The party then took carriages at the Amoskeag Mills counting room and passed through the most important streets of the city. In the party were Governor Stearns and members of his staff, ex-Governors Harriman and Smyths, Secretaries Boutwell and Hoar, several ex-mayors, the City Government, and other prominent gentlemen from various parts of the State.

The city was tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and floral ornaments. Flowers were presented on the route by Mrs. Gov. Smythe, Mrs. Riddle, Miss Alice Dodge, Miss Emma Blood and by Mayor Smith's children, the youngest of whom the President took in his arms and honored with a kiss. Mrs. Grant and the children accompanied the party, and at the station took a hack and went directly to Governor Smyth's, where they remained for an hour, joining the procession at the corner of Hanover Square. At 3 o'clock the President waved his adieu and left for Concord.

At Concord, the President was immediately escorted to the state house, and introduced from the steps in front to the assembled crowd by Gov. Stearns, in a few well-chosen words. He was then introduced to Mayor Stevens, who welcomed him in a very neat address, to which the president replied, expressing his regret at not being able to spend more time among the Granite Hills.

At the conclusion, — nine ringing cheers were given for the President of the United States. An opportunity was then given the multitude to shake hands, and a very large number took him by the hand. Col. Tappan, Chief of the Governor's Staff, stood by the side of the President. Adjutant General Head and other military men were present and also the Executive State officers.

After the reception the President and party went to Governor Stearns' mansion, where they were guests during their stay in Concord. Subsequently the General and Secretary Boutwell were driven about the city by Mr. Nath'l White.

At seven o'clock the party sat down to a private dinner. Soon after dark the Brigade Band commenced playing in front of the Governor's, and discoursed some excellent music. A large crowd of people assembled in front of the mansion, to which the President bowed his acknowledgements from the balcony. During the evening quite a number of distinguished guests called upon the General. Among them were U. S. Senator Cragin.

Thursday morning at nine o'clock the Presidential party took a special train over the Montreal Road, via Plymouth, Littleton and the Crawford House, where the General stopped at night. On Friday he ascended Mount Washington by the railway, and then went to the Profile House. On Saturday he will go through some portion of Vermont, on his way to Saratoga.

☞ President Grant has been to view the mountains named in honor of the first five Presidents of the United States. The Boston Transcript says that even in Democratic times the people of the Granite State were too sensible to name mountains after President Van Buren, Polk or Pierce. One of the most brilliant sons of New Hampshire wrote a scorching protest against the profanation.

POLITICAL.—The Tweed Democratic Association of New York has unanimously adopted resolutions declaring August Belmont "inefficient, undevoted and unpopular," and calling upon him to retire from the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee. An Irish Democrat, in the Sun, also says that Belmont is generally recognized as "the little aristocrat," and that he speaks the English language indistinctly. All this is rather hard, but the same need or love or money which brought Packer to the Democratic front in Pennsylvania may still keep Belmont at the head of the National Committee.

According to the Houston (Texas) Times (Dem.) a feeling of apathy has taken possession of the ex-rebels of that State. That paper calls upon them to arouse and organize, or the Radicals will carry the day.

☞ We print on our fourth page this morning, extracts from Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's attack on Lord Byron's character and memory,—or rather her defence of his outraged wife,—which has made so great a stir in the literary world of late.

☞ It is plain enough that Jamaica Plain also is to be annexed to Boston.

A VALUABLE AGENT.—It is proverbial that advance Agents for travelling companies must have rare abilities and have their wits constantly about them to be successful. The value of the services of such men are beyond estimate, and none but the managers of the companies can thoroughly appreciate it. Manager Whitman, of the Comic Opera troupe which has just made a short stay here, is particularly fortunate in having a live wide-awake Agent in the person of Mr. Henry Tighe, a well known former resident of Portsmouth. The company visited this city without knowing two days in advance where they were to play, and Mr. Tighe succeeded, after only 24 hours notice, in getting out a large and paying audience for the opening night, which must have been peculiarly satisfactory to Mr. Whitman, who is one of the most successful of managers.

THE WATER FAMINE IN PHILADELPHIA.—The steam fire engines of Philadelphia are engaged in pumping water from the Schuylkill river into the reservoir at Fairmount water works. The raise 1,125,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. The water is forced through 800 feet of hose.

TREASURY OPERATIONS. — The New York Commercial says it has reliable intelligence to the effect that Secretary Boutwell will continue his policy of purchasing bonds and selling gold.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

OPORTO GRAPE CULTURE.—This country is becoming noted for the enterprise of wine growers. New Jersey particularly, where the celebrated Port Cute Wine is made purely from the grape juice. The following letter from an eminent physician who lives in sight of Speer's vineyard, will be of interest to our readers: PASSAIC, Oct. 20th, 1865.

I hereby certify that the Rev. Mr. Speer of this village has a large vineyard of choice grape vines which are looking very fine. He also purchases a great many grapes, not as yet producing as many himself as is required to keep his stock of wine on hand. He has the Port Grape, the wine of which is held in high estimation and of which he has a large quantity on hand lying in his cellars, requiring age before he disposes of it. R. A. TERHUNE, M. D.

The above wine can be procured of our Druggists. Also Speer's Sambuci Wine.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine eleven years, for all sorts of family sewing, from the coarsest, even carpet-binding, to the finest work by women, and requiring No. 300 cotton. It gives me still entire satisfaction, and I can not too highly recommend it to others as a family comfort. Solely from my appreciation of your machine above all others, I have been the means of selling more than a hundred of them.

DOVER, Del. MRS. C SLAUGHTER.

—A want has been felt and expressed by physicians, for a safe and reliable purgative; such a want is now supplied in Parsons' Purgative Pills.

Officers and Soldiers who served in the Army, Physicians, Surgeons, and mothers, fathers and women everywhere, join in recommending "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment" to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

All the yearround, "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" should be given to horses that are "kept up." To horses and cattle that graze in summer, they should only be given in Winter and Spring.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Painless Digestion.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrium, a flushing of the face at meal times, and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, biliousness, headache, low spirits, irritability, physical weakness, and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather. ☞The close of summer is therefore the season when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The standard remedy of the present age for indigestion, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid, distilled in stimulating principles its tonic constituents are the finest that botanical research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurgent, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by pestilerious air or unwholesome water, that has ever been used either in Europe or the United States or tropical America.

In cases of constipation resulting from a want of muscular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfect; it invigorates the digestive, and the dangerous sequences of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition. au26

Holloway's Pills.—The hot months break down many systems that have been comparatively vigorous during the Winter and Spring. Stimulants so often resorted to, re-act and increase the evil. Regulate the disordered functions of the stomach and liver, and purify the animal fluids with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, and strength, animation, energy, will soon return. They restore the appetite, invigorate the digestive organs, are an absolute specific for lassitude and debility. Sold by all Druggists. au25

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., Ex. M., Hammondsport, N. Y.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 134 pounds up to 153 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without your Pain Killer. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral medication of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal virtue of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an multibious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of regular pharmacopoeias.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has gist and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made from, enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption. Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some one or more places are tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesions, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, when all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 36 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

RYE BEACH.—Br. Clarke of the Manchester Mirror, has been at Rye Beach. He came from the Lake region, and thinks the Mountains houses have done the better business this year. Mr. Clarke left the Lake region, via the Concord railroad, for Dover, as the nearest point for Rye. He thus gives in his expence, another agument for the D. & P. Railroad:

Dover and Portsmouth, though geographically near together, are very far apart when you attempt to get from one to the other. At Dover at 10 o'clock in the morning the quickest way you can find to get to Portsmouth by rail, was to go to Berwick Junction and take the Eastern road and arrive there seven hours after. The shortest was to go to New Market Junction and wait for the train that leaves Manchester at 4 1-2 and arrives in Portsmouth at 7 1-2 in the evening. Time was too precious for that.

So we went to New Market and chartered a hack. The owner of the team lost his way and brought us out near to the Sagamore House, the new hotel at Frost's Point, about dinner time, just the place we wanted to see, as Judge Daniel Clarke and his family are spending the month there, and numerous friends who know what it is to luxuriate in clean and ample apartments supplied with fine linen, and who are big on big dinners, had advised us to visit the Sagamore.

Our driver was ten miles out of his way, and as it cost us nothing, and the driver seemed to enjoy his ill-luck and a dinner at our expense, we were all glad. This Point is three miles from Portsmouth, and sticks right out into the sea. It is a grand place. The dinner was superb. The hotel is elegantly furnished, and our short stay impressed us very strongly in its favor.

What grand farming towns are Rye, Greenland and Hampton! The sea furnishes an endless wealth of manure to the diligent and the enterprising farmer. The ever-flowing tide rolls upon the shore the seaweed in profusion, which, when gathered up and spread upon the land, alone or composted, is a rich manure. The refuse of fish is also a great fertilizer.

We enjoyed the ride hugely. During the first part of it the rain poured, but the ladies said they were glad of it, it was so odd to go twenty-five miles across the country in a storm from which they were sheltered, and upon which they could look through the glass panels, and see nature rejoice in the refreshing showers.

The fields and orchards were charming. How the apple trees flourish in that section, pretected from the severe cold of winter and scorching heat of summer by sea air! Is that all? We queried whether the saline qualities of the atmosphere might not be beneficial, and whether it might not be advisable to scatter salt upon our inland orchards. Can any of our agricultural writes give us statistics on that poini.

It is quite a number of years since we were at Rye. Job Jenness & Son have built the Ocean House since then. It is the largest hotel on our coast, and equal in size to the Profile, and is splendidly kept. Fashionable, aristocratic, prompt, methodical, and runniug like clock work, it pleases all but those who do not feel at home except in a poorer hotel.

Before we arrived there two different persons, supposed to be well informed, told us they heard it was about closing up for the season, its patronage was so poor. A large and fine band was playing upon the piazza as we drove up, and the beauty and gaiety scattered tnrough the large parlors, halls and retiring rooms, indicated anything but "shutting up."

It was a story to injure the house. Tall trees catch the lightning, and a man may be sure that he is making his mark in the world when many rail at him, either a red or black mark. Washington and Lincoln were cursed the most when they were the most worthy to be crowned with kingly power. The Ocean House is a target for the friends of smaller hotels to shoot at.

We had no time to go over to Boar's Head, one of the most delightful places on our coast. Dumas' is full as any sea-shore house. He is very popular with the crowd, and is crowded when fashion floats to the seashore.

☞ Those jolly, good-natured Odd Fellows, and their wives, sisters and sisters' lady friends had a pic-nic as was a Pic-nic at Wallis' Sands, Friday afternoon. A Manchester delegation of Odds and lady friends came down in an early special train, to the number of 250 or more, and brought with them the Manchester Cornet Band. Their brethren of the Osgood Lodge took them in charge and away they all went to the pic-nic. An immense chowder was cooked and the brethren and sisters did some immense eating. As to enjoyment they had enough of it, and the way the Manchester visitors went into the games and plays showed very well that they were having a good time. Of course the Osgoods and their friends did, for they always do.

The gathering was one of the largest of the kind ever held in this vicinity, and taxed all the passenger wagons all the morning and evening, to convey the crowds down and back.

☞ Gilbert's Fruit Store is getting to be quite an emporium for home and foreign fruits, berries, &c., both at wholesale and retail. The Dr. is a pleasant and reliable man to trade with and is content with a small profit.

☞ Mr. John Pennell, of Kittery, nearly 78 years old, walked from his residence at lower Foreside, to this city, and back, on Thursday. There are but two older men in the town, we are infor med.

☞ Rev. Massena Goodrich, is to preach to-morrow at the Universalist Church.

☞ The Base Ball Match at the Plains, to-day, between the Clippers of Newburyport and the Granite States of Portsmouth will be well contested. Game will be called at 1.30 P. M.

☞ We understand that competent parties contemplate making preparations for a Lyceum the coming season, which shall consist of lectures, concerts and theatricals,—all of the first order.

A MULE was vanquished on the Eastern Railroad near Boston on Wednesday. He undertook to kick the locomotive off the track, and was surprised to find himself tumbling down a bank with a broken hip. He departed this life shortly afterwards, because he wasn't of any more use.

☞ The great Rowing Match on the river Thames, came off Friday, 5 minutes after 12 at noon. The Oxfords won the race over the Harvards, by three boats' length, beating them six seconds. Time 22 minutes, 40 seconds. The Traveller's dispatch states that two of the Harvard crew were unwell; one suffered from a boil, another having the diarrhaea. The day was very hot.

THE ENTERTAINMENT at the Temple Friday evening attracted a large audience, and evidently gave full satisfaction to all. It will be seen by the advertisement that another performance is to be given this (Saturday) evening, with an entire change of programme, new songs, dances, &c.; and all who enjoy a good play or a good song may go to see Jennie Kimball in the Bonnie Fishwife, and have a laugh over the sparkling burlesque, Jenny Lind, assured of getting their money's worth of fun. The troupe is a good one,—if you doubt it, go this evening and see for yourself.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, as if yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dulness of hearing, and ringing in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red can and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. " "
" Frankfort..87 fl. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

LORD AND LADY BYRON.

BY MRS. H. B. STOWE.

From the height at which he might have been happy as the husband of a noble woman, he fell into the depths of a secret adulterous intrigue with a blood relation, so near in consanguinity that discovery must have been utter ruin and expulsion from civilized society.

From henceforth, this damning guilty secret became the ruling force in his life, holding him with a morbid fascination, yet filling him with remorse and anguish and insane dread of detection. Two years after his refusal by Miss Milbanke, his various friends, seeing that for some cause he was wretched, pressed marriage upon him. * *

So he determined to marry, and, in an hour of reckless desperation, sat down and wrote proposals to two ladies. One was declined. The other, which was accepted, was to Miss Milbanke. The world knows well that he had the gift of expression, and will not be surprised that he wrote a very beautiful letter, and that the woman who had already learned to love him fell at once into the snare.

Her answer was a frank, outspoken avowal of her love for him, giving herself to him heart and hand. The good in Lord Byron was not so utterly obliterated that he could receive such a letter without emotion, or practice such unfairness on a loving, trusting heart without pangs of remorse. He had sent the letter in mere recklessness; he had not seriously expected to be accepted, and the discovery of the treasure of affection which he had secured was like a vision of lost heaven to a soul in hell. * * * * * * *

Not all at once did the full knowledge of the dreadful reality into which she had entered come upon the young wife. She knew vaguely, from the wild avowals of the first hours of their marriage, that there was a dreadful secret of guilt, that Byron's soul was torn with agonies of remorse, and that he had no love to give to her in return for a love which was ready to do and dare all for him. Yet bravely she addressed herself to the task of soothing and pleasing and calming the man whom she had taken "for better or for worse."

There were lucid intervals in which Lord Byron felt the charm of his wife's mind and the strength of her powers. "Bell, you could be a poet too, if you only thought so," he would say. There were summer hours in her stormy life, the memory of which never left her, when Byron was as gentle and tender as he was beautiful; when he seemed to be possessed by a good angel, and then for a little time all the ideal possibilities of his nature stood revealed.

The most dreadful men to live with are those who thus alternate between angel and devil. The buds of hope and love called out by a day or two of sunshine, are frozen again and again till the tree is killed.

But there came an hour of revelation, —an hour when, in a manner which left no kind of room for doubt, Lady Byron saw the full depth of the abyss of infamy which her marriage was expected to cover, and understood that she was expected to be the cloak and the accomplice of this infamy.

Many women would have been utterly crushed by such a disclosure; some would have fled from him immediately, and exposed and denounced the crime. Lady Byron did neither. When all the hope of womanhood died out of her heart, there arose within her, stronger, purer, and brighter, that immortal kind of love such as God feels for the sinner, —the love of which Jesus spoke and which holds the one wanderer of more account than the ninety and nine that went not astray. She would neither leave her husband nor betray him, nor yet would she for one moment justify his sin; and hence came two years of convulsive struggle, in which sometimes, for a while, the good angel seemed to gain ground, and then the evil one returned with sevenfold vehemence. Lord Byron argued his case with himself and with her, with all the sophistries of his powerful mind. *

Lady Byron, though slight and almost infantine in her bodily presence, had the soul, not only of an angelic woman, but of a strong, reasoning man. It was the writer's lot to know her at a period when she formed the personal acquaintance of many of the very first minds of England; but, among all with whom this experience brought her in connection, there was none who impressed her so strongly as Lady Byron. There was an almost supernatural power of moral divination, a grasp of the very highest and most comprehensive things, that made her lightest opinion singularly impressive. No doubt this result was wrought out in a great degree from the anguish and conflict of these two years, when, with no one to help or counsel her but Almighty God, she wrestled and struggled with fiends of darkness for the redemption of her husband's soul.

She followed him through all his sophistical reasonings with a keener reason. She besought and implored, in the name of his better nature, and by all the glorious things that he was capable of being and doing; and she had just power enough to convulse and shake and agonize, but not power enough to subdue. * * * * *

During this time, such was the disordered and desperate state of his worldly affairs, that there were ten executions for debt levied on their family establishment; and it was Lady Byron's fortune each time which settled the account.

Toward the last she and her husband saw less and less of each other, and he came more and more decidedly under evil influences and seemed to acquire a sort of hatred of her.

Lady Byron once said significantly to a friend who spoke of some causeless dislike in another: "My dear, I have known people to be hated for no other reason than because they impersonated conscience." * * *

The biographers of Lord Byron and all his apologists are careful to narrate how sweet, and amiable, and obliging he was to everybody who approached him; and the saying of Fletcher, his man-servant, that "anybody could do anything with my Lord, except my Lady," has often been quoted.

The reason of all this will now be evident. "My Lady" was the only one fully understanding the deep and dreadful secrets of his life, who had the courage resolutely and persistently and inflexibly to plant herself in his way, and insist upon it, that, if he went to destruction, it should be in spite of her best efforts.

He had tried his strength with her fully. The first attempt had been to make her an accomplice by sophistry; by destroying her faith in Christianity, and confusing her sense of right and wrong, to bring her into the ranks of those convenient women who regard the marriage tie as only a friendly alliance to cover license on both sides. * * * When Lord Byron found that he had to do with one who would not yield, who knew him fully, who could not be blinded and could not be deceived, he determined to rid himself of her altogether.

It was when the state of affairs between herself and her husband seemed darkest and most hopeless, that the only child of this union was born. Lord Byron's treatment of his wife during the sensitive period that preceded the birth of this child, and during her confinement, was marked by paroxysms of unmanly brutality, for which the only possible charity on her part was the supposition of insanity. Moore sheds a significant light on this period by telling us that about this time Byron was often drunk with Sheridan. There had been insanity in Lord Byron's family, and this was the plea which Lady Byron's love put in for him. She regarded him as, if not insane, at least so nearly approaching the boundaries of insanity as to be a subject of forbearance and tender pity, and she loved him with that love resembling a mother's, which good wives often feel when they have lost all faith in their husbands' principles, and all hopes of their affections. Still she was in heart and soul his best friend, true to him with a truth which he himself could not shake.

In the verses addressed to his daughter, Lord Byron speaks of her as "The child of love, though born in bitterness,

And nurtured in convulsion."

A day or two after the birth of this child, Lord Byron came suddenly into Lady Byron's room and told her that her mother was dead. It was an utter falsehood, but it was only one of the many nameless injuries and cruelties by which he expressed his hatred of her. A short time after her confinement she was informed by him in a note, that as soon as she was able to travel she must go,—that he could not and would not have her about him longer; and when her child was only five weeks old he carried this threat of expulsion into effect.

Here we will insert briefly Lady Byron's own account—the only one she ever gave to the public—of this separation. The circumstances under which this brief story was written are affecting.

Lord Byron was dead. The whole account between him and her was closed forever in this world. Moore's "Life" had been prepared, containing simply and solely Lord Byron's own version of the story. Moore sent this version to Lady Byron, and requested to know if she had any remarks to make upon it. In reply she sent a brief note to him,—the first and only one that had come from her during all the years of the separation, and which appears to have mainly for its object the exculpation of her father and her mother from the charge made by the poet of being the instigators of the separation.

In this letter she says, with regard to their separation:—

"The facts are: I left London for Kirby Mallory, the residence of my father and mother, on the 15th of January, 1816. Lord Byron had signified to me in writing, January 6, his absolute desire that I should leave London on the earliest day that I could conveniently fix. It was not safe for me to undertake the fatigue of a journey sooner than the 15th. Previously to my departure it had been strongly impressed upon my mind that Lord Byron was under the influence of insanity. This opinion was derived, in a great measure, from the communications made me by his nearest relative and personal attendant, who had more opportunity than myself for observing him during the latter part of my stay in town. It was even represented to me that he was in danger of destroying himself.

With the concurrence of his family, I had consulted Dr. Baillie as a friend, January 8th, respecting the supposed malady. On acquainting him with the state of the case, and with Lord Byron's desire that I should leave London, Dr. Baillie thought that my absence might be advisable as an experiment, asuming the fact of mental derangement; for Dr. Baillie, not having had access to Lord Byron, could not pronounce a positive opinion on that point. He enjoined that, in correspondence with Lord Byron, I should avoid all but light and soothing topics. Under these impressions I left London, determined to follow the advice given by Dr. Baillie. Whatever might have been the conduct of Lord Byron toward me from the time of my marriage, yet, supposing him to be in a state of mental alienation, it was not for me, nor for any person of common humanity, to manifest at that moment a sense of injury."

Nothing more than this letter from Lady Byron is necessary to substantiate the fact that she did not leave her husband, but was driven from him—driven from him that he might give himself up to the guilty infatuation that was consuming him, without being tortured by her imploring face and by the silent power of her presence and her prayers.

For a long time before this, she had seen little of him. On the day of her departure she passed by the door of his room, and stopped to caress his favorite spaniel, which was lying there; and she confessed to a friend the weakness of feeling a willingness even to be something as humble as that poor little creature, might she only be allowed to remain and watch over him. She went into the room where he and the partner of his sins were sitting together, and said, "Byron, I come to say good by," offering at the same time her hand.

Lord Byron put his hands behind him, retreated to the mantel-piece, and, looking round on the two that stood there, with a sarcastic smile, said, "When shall we three meet again?" Lady Byron answered, "'In Heaven' I trust;" and those were her last words to him on earth.

He had tact enough to perceive at first that the assumption of the pathetic and the magnanimous, and general confession of faults, accompanied with admissions of his wife's goodness, would be the best policy in his case. In this mood, he thus writes to Moore:

"The fault was not in my choice (unless in choosing at all), for I do not believe,—and I must say it, in the very dregs of all this bitter business,—that there ever was a better, or even a brighter, a kinder, or a more amiable, agreeable being than Lady Byron. I never had, nor can have, any reproach to make her while with me. Where there is blame, it belongs to myself.—Atlantic Monthly for Sept.

TO ——.

You sent us flowers
To lay upon our daughter's silent breast;
We dare to call her ours,
Although the little hands have put aside
Their childish treasures, and grown sanctified,
Of the eternal gifts possessed.

Not fairer they
Than the pure eyelids folded still and white;
All mystery swept away;
As if in shutting, they had shut in peace,
And the eternal rapture of release
Had glorified her sight.

We laid them down,
Meet, in their beauty and their freshness given,
Her loving heart to crown;
Since her young soul, so beautiful and true,
Grew white with soaring, as the angels do,
Until it reached to Heaven.

Oh! noble heart,
Forevermore to breathe Immortal flowers,
We bear to dwell apart,
Because in that diviner life begun,
Your soul transfigured with its light, has won
A Greater Love than ours.

New Hampshire Items.

The Nashua Telegraph says that Mr. DeWolfe, the "lightning poet," recently walked from Nashua to Keene, a distance of 50 miles, in 10 hours, carrying a valise weighing 21 pounds.

The Rochester Courier noticed Solomon Hartford in village Saturday, with his old Morgan horse which he has driven for the last twenty-four years. The old horse is now in his 27th year, and goes more like a colt than the veteran he is. Also a horse belonging to the W. B. L. Hodgdon estate, who is 28 years old. He has been a noble animal and is now able to draw a larger load than most horses.

The grandparent of all the black snakes were killed not long since by Mr. Azariah Pearl, in his pasture on Dry Hill, Rochester. They were both killed at the same time and were doubtless mates, as each measured 8 feet and 8 inches in length.

Blueberries have been scarcer and higher than ever before known in Rochester market. They have not been sold cheaper than 15 cts. a quart more than double the usual price. Blackberry crop promised to be large before the drouth.

A singular accident occurred to Mr. James Trickey, a young man living about a mile from Rochester. He run against a clothes-line, the line striking him under his chin, with such force that he was thrown down and his shoulder broken. His father wanted to harness the horse and get a doctor, but the young man thought as the distance was only about a mile, it would hardly pay to go to that trouble, so he footed it down to Dr. Sargent's office, had his brake mended and about half past ten was ready to start for home.

Mrs. Coney, wife of an Englishmen, living in Nashua, on the Dunstable road, having had a violent fracas with him in consequence of her being intoxicated several weeks, stealing his money, &c., set fire, about three o'clock Monday afternoon, to a barn on the premises, which was consumed, with two wagons, farming tools, harnesses and three-fourths of a ton of hay. Her two children, ten and twelve years old, saw their mother light the hay, but were prevented by her from trying to extinguish the flames. She subsequently fled to the woods.

Dr. Tewksbury the oldest resident physician in Manchester, died Thursday, of supposed cancer of the bowels. He was fifty years of age.

The apple crop will be almost a total failure in New Hampshire the present season and from what we learn it will be a failure all over New England.

James Galvin, a steady "helper" for the Nashua Iron Company, and seemingly in perfect health, suddenly broke an internal blood vessel, at 11 o'clock Monday night, and bleed to death in five minutes. His age was 50.

A valuable bright bay gelding, for which Mr. Robert Harris recently refused $300, was stolen Tuesday evening from a pasture near his homestead, on the Concord road, in Nashua.

The manufacturing of prints was commenced in Dover about fifty years ago. The shoe business has been started in Dover only about twelve years, yet it is now almost equal to the factory business of that city. There are more shoes manufactured at Dover than any other place in the State.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Aperitifs," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulant. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off the poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, and will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight and deceive under the fancy, but a medicine, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was sent to all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Tv ford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, AUGUST 30, 1869.

The News.

The Empress Eugenie has embarked at Toulon for the east.

A schooner which had recently landed arms at Zevilla Bay, on the southern coast of Cuba, has been captured by the Spaniards.

New Yorkers talk of raising $20,000 to pay the expenses of the Oxford crew coming here to race with the Harvards and making the same concessions which the Harvards have made in the present race.

The Spanish Cortes has adjourned.

President Grant was on Mount Washington on Friday.

A man named Jenkins crossed the gorge below Niagara Falls on a tight rope on Thursday, using a machine of his own invention. It is a bicycle, with wheel three inches wide, grooved one and three-quarters of an inch deep, and made heavy and of wood. The two-inch hemp cable was fastened on the American shore, but on the Canada shore coiled around a windlass to facilitate tightening. The man mounted his machine, moved slowly forward, the rope swaying gently from side to side until the rider had passed out about 50 feet, when he was photographed, after which he crawled along at a snail's pace to the middle of the abyss, where he raised and waved his hat. From the centre to the American shore it was evidently hard work to propel the bicycle. The time occupied in passing over the rope was just 11 minutes. The crowd of sight-seers was very small, and the receipts were only $350, while the expenses were $1000.

The Result of the Harvard-Oxford Race is a great disappointment to Americans in this country and Europe. The exact time made by the Oxfords was 22 minutes and 40 3-4 seconds. The Harvards took the lead at the start and held it for two miles. Loring, who pulled their stroke oar, gave out before the race was decided, and it became necessary to refresh him with an application of river water. The delay retarded their boat. Simmons, the heaviest puller of the four, nearly fainted after the race was over.

A London dispatch states that the race was a fair one, and that the Oxford boat was steered best. A million spectators witnessed the race.

Now let the Oxonians return the compliment and come to America to row the Harvards on their own practice ground, Charles river. The plucky Harvards gave up all except their own style of rowing and their American built boat for the sake of the match. They will come home defeated but without having dishonored their countrymen or themselves.

☞ At the Great Falls Trotting Park Friday afternoon, the first purse of $500, mile heats, best 3 in 5, was won in three straight heats by Topsey (Empress) of Boston, who was matched against Nellie Locke of Portsmouth. Time, 2:38, 2:40 1-2, 2:45. Said to have been a put-up thing, arranged between the owners of the horses, before the race. Such sells as this on the public are what kill racing. Nellie can beat Empress every day in the week; and the public present, who paid their money to see racing and not hippodroming, ought to have demanded a change of drivers, and that the horses should be put upon their speed. The thing was evident enough upon the ground before the race, for the betting by the knowing ones was heavy in favor of Empress.

The next match for $250 a side, mile heats, best 3 in 5, (Lady Wilkinson of Dover and Jack of Trumps of Great Falls,) was won by the latter, who did the third, fourth and fifth heats in 2:54, 2:56, and 2:58 1-2, Lady Wilkinson winning the first and second heats in 2:53 and 2;50.

☞ We have already chronicled the death of a valuable gray mare belonging to Mr. C. W. Smith of So. Newmarket, and the suspicions that she was poisoned. This occurred during the late races at Dover; and a correspondent of the Rochester Courier says (we know not how truly) that pending the undecided race from Saturday to Monday, between Black Walnut of Boston and Nellie Locke,—"Nellie was kept at the stable of W. H. Smith, and next to a horse of about her size and color; and some one thinking to keep Nellie from winning, attempted to poison her, but by mistake poisoned the horse next to her."

—Cotton Manufacturing has been hard for some time, and the Fall River Mills have decided for the present to run half time.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science. Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. I. F. Holton. Continued.

SALEM, Aug. 25.

The Last Day passed off as did the others, most pleasantly. Section C held no session. The microscopy section did nothing visible to the naked eye. And as the night before had no grand doings,—the only night which had not,—members started off one by one and five by five, in pretty good case. There were however two general sessions. Previous to the last, were the sessions of the sections A and B.

Section A, as usual, had some tough matter before it. Prof. Van der Weyde almost proved that there is no electric fluid. He calls it some force of motion in particles of matter. We are familiar with the fact that a current of electricity will pass through a partially exhausted receiver far more readily than through the air. But when the receiver be filled with dry carbonic acid gas, and then that gas absorbed by caustic soda, we have an almost perfect vacuum; and then a spark of electricity that will leap through ten inches of air cannot traverse an eighth of an inch. So we conclude that electricity cannot pass thro' a vacuum.

Mr. Elliott showed that the laws of trade are amenable to mathematical investigation. The basis was the changes produced on prices of tea, duty paid and in bond, by the reduction of duty. About half falls to the holder of the tea.

Prof. Holton undertook to explain the proper size of the unit of currency. It should be of gold, nine-tenths fine; it should weigh some even number of millegrammes; it should be exactly a hundred times the size of the smallest coin in circulation. The dollar is too large, for we use half-cents in our prices. The pound is much too large, and the franc utterly too small, for its hundredths are two mills. But a coin of a gramme, 1000 millegrammes, would be exactly right. As bullion is sold by grammes, and will be exclusively so, the proposed coin becomes the international measure. Prof. Holton also maintained that it was much better to number the days of the year continuously than to break them up into months of unequal length. It saves room on stamps; June 27th, 1869, is much more cumbersome than 1869:178. You reckon intervals that show a month easier. It is at once seen that a week after 178 is 185; it is not so clear that a week from June 27 is July 4. We keep the run of the week and the moon better: in 1869, if the number of the day can be evenly divided by 7 the day is Thursday; if by 30, the moon is from 5 to 8 days past the full. Its greatest advantage is in reckoning considerable periods; a note for ninety days given 1869:185, matures on the 275th. You can obtain the exact date from imperfect data. To-day is Wednesday, from five to ten weeks past independence, (185) and the moon nearly or quite full. It is between 223 and 255; 240 is 3 times 30,—to-day must be about 236, four days short; 210 and 21 make 231,—these numbers are divisible by 7, so 231 is Thursday and to-day is Wednesday; we guess the full moon to be 235 and that we are four days short of the full. The almanac shows that full moon will be next Saturday, three days hence. The worst result of the change would be the obsolescence of dates in family records and on tomb-stones.

Prof. Peirce of the Coast Survey presented a paper on quintuple algebra. He did not read it, no one could understand it by hearing it,—in fact mathematics had reached that point at last in which the ablest of its devotees could not study out each other's writing, and there remained to them but the poor hope of being understood after they were dead. [Reporter thought he might as well "strive to enter into the kingdom of heaven" if he had effort to invest in a stock that paid no dividend till so late.] Prof. P. had received a communication from an eminent fluxions on a branch of mathematics of which he even now knew not even the meaning, pneumatic algebra. [Reporter suggested that perhaps it meant gaseous fluxions.] He proceeded to lift the veil just a little from quintuple algebra, and there rushed out upon us rays of the quintessence of darkness till every eye was dazzled. It seemed to demand the absolute unconditional repeal of the multiplication table, and resembled it about as much as an opium-eater's dream would an hour spent in cookery or gardening.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

BUDA, ILLINOIS, Aug. 23.

Dear Chronicle: We would reccommend, in good faith, travellers bound West, to go over the N. Y. Central and the Michigan Central Railroads, as then they will be sure and make connections. From this day a Pullman Palace Car will run over the above named Roads, and the Hudson River R. R., from Chicago to New York direct.

At the County seat, Princeton, last week, was held a Teachers' Institute, at which the attendance was 108 Teachers and those who are becoming such. The cause of Education in this State is in the ascendant.

There will be an Industrial Fair of the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco, open on Sept. 14th.

An Excursion Train will leave Chicago, on Sept. 4th, with Pullman sleeping and Commissary cars, to be absent about one month. The expenses of the round trip by rail, will be about $250 each person, including railroad fare, meals, servants, and sleeping accommodation.

The farmers in this section will only realize from one-half to two-thirds of a crop of wheat and corn, to what they would if there had not been so much wet weather. Wheat is worth here from $1.05 to 1.10 per bus—Corn 80cts.—Eggs 10 cts. per doz. Yours truly,

CARROLL

—Two miles of snow-sheds on the Central Pacific road between Cisco and Summit were burned Wednesday night. Considerable iron was badly bent and a great number of ties burned. Eastern and Western trains are delayed. A large force is at work cleaning the track and repairing the road. The passenger mails and luggage were transfered across the breaks in wagons.

General Association of New Hampshire.—The sixtieth annual meeting of the General Association met in Keene, at the First Congregational Church at ten o'clock. There are in New Hampshire one hundred eighty-six Congregational and six Presbyterian churches. The Association is composed of lay and clerical delegates from these churches. According to the last report these Congregational churches represent a membership of 18,291. Of the six Presbyterian churches there are 852 members. Seventy-four of these one hundred and ninety-two churches have settled pastors. Seventy-five have what is known as "stated supplies;" thirty-eight are "vacant," while there are within the State forty-two Congregational ministers, "without charge." Some of the last are professors in the college at Hanover, and some of them are secretaries and treasurers of benevolent societies, while some of them have done their work on earth, and are waiting to be "called up higher."

The sermon was preached by Rev. Henry E. Parker, formerly of the South Church, Concord, more recently professor of Latin in Dartmouth College, from Heb. 13: 8: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, to-day and forever."

At the close of the sermon, the association was organized by the choice of Professor Henry E. Parker of Hanover, Moderator, Rev. Daniel E. Adams of Wilton, Scribe, Rev. Moses T. Runnels of Sanbornton, Assistant.

Rev. H. A. Hazen of Lyme read a manly address, called "The Pastoral Letter," in which he considered the increasing deficiency in ministers and the duty of the churches, in view of the apprehended evil. The subject led him to speak most enthusiastically of Dartmouth college, and its relations to the growth of piety and sound morality throughout the State.

A Splendid Ornament to Broadway.—It must be a pleasant thing for that venerable individual, the oldest inhabitant, to run back in recollection to the days when our now palace-beautified Broadway was in a much more crude condition than it is in these days of progressive utility. Such improvements have taken place within the past few years in the appearance of that favorite thoroughfare that it seems as if some arch enchantress had produced the change by one motion of her magic wand.

All along that great avenue, from Bowling Green to Union square, are to be seen some of the most magnificent structures that ever sprung from the trail of art and architecture. And imposing as they are externally, they are equally so within. Some of them are fitted up in a style which would draw tears of ecstacy and admiration from the eyes of the most extravagant Parisian whose life is devoted to the study of luxury and magnificence generally.

Recently another novel improvement has been ushered into existence on Broadway. We refer to the splendid new Temple of Pharmacy (the doors of which were for the first time opened to the public but a few days ago) of Mr. H. T. Hembold, at No. 594 Broadway, and adjoining the Metropolitan Hotel. Ever since its opening day it has been favored with full houses (to use the language of the dramatic critics), its unique splendor daily and nightly attracting large crowds of admirers.

The entire building is 28 feet front, 235 deep, and 5 stories in height. The street floor has been most tastefully fitted up, the front half being used as a retail department, and the rear portion for wholesale business and as a laboratory for the manufacture of his celebrated Fluid Extract Buchu, Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla, &c. There is probably no drug store in the world more beautiful and luxuriously furnished than this new acquisition to our Broadway attractions.

Connected with this establishment is a reception room, which is intended for the comfort of those obliged to wait while the prescriptions they desire to purchase are being prepared. This is something which has been a desideratum, and which Mr. Hembold has supplied. The room is furnished with costly lounges, sofas, and velvet carpet. Taking this new establishment altogether, it deserves to rank as one of the magnificences of our city.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser, Oct. 31.

Painless Digestion.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrium, a flushing of the face at meal time and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, biliousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness, and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of Dyspepsia, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather. ☞The close of summer is therefore the season when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The standard remedy of the age, for all forms of indigestion, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid defiles its stimulating principles; its tonic constituents are the finest that botanical research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurative, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the strongest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by pestiferous air or unwholesome water, that has ever been used either in the United States or Europe. aug26

In cases of constipation resulting from a want of muscular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvelous; and without the dangerous sequence of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition. au26

Holloway's Pills.—The hot months break down many systems that have been comparatively vigorous during the Winter and Spring. Stimulants so often resorted to, re-act and increase the evil. Regulate the disordered functions of the stomach and liver, and purify the animal fluids with Holloway's Pills, and strength, animation, energy, will soon return. They restore the appetite, invigorate the digestion, and are an absolute specific for lassitude and debility. Sold by all Druggists. au25

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1836 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better, and from when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 192 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

Manayunk, Philadelphia, April 17, 1868.

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M.D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in time, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficacious than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two opaline extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an anti-bilious purgative and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. Erasmus Winslow's Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 4t28

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite become good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon healthy. The stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use even with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, enters the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made healthy blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they cause a cough to be too loose, when they then stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and the effect will cease of course in accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, plenty of matter, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but all the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way Dr. Schenck, Doctor Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 32 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, are Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

☞ The News Letter states that "the Rockingham Fair and Cattle Show will be held in Exeter, at the Gilman Field, near the site of the old Depot. This spot was selected by the Executive board of the Society, subject to certain proposals, which proposals were made within 24 hours by the citizens of the town." These proposals no doubt were the agreeing to furnish funds to hire and fence the grounds, &c., which the citizehs of almost all cities except Portsmouth are expected to do by subscription, whenever and wherever the Fairs are held.

The News Letter further says, mysteriously, that "they are authorized in stating that this Fair will be no 'puppet show,' and not altogether an agricultural horse trot, although there will be good trots, one each day of the Fair."

☞ U. S. S. Palos arrived at the Navy Yard on Saturday from Charlestown with Ordnance, Equipment and Steam Engineering Stores. She returned the same day.

☞ U. S. Steamer Tallapoosa, with Secretary Robeson and party, arrived in Portsmouth harbor, Saturday Evening.

☞ A clergyman who attended the Hedding Camp meeting at Epping, refers to the fencing of their ample and beautiful grounds, (several new acres having been bought this year, laying out new lots for tents, cottages, &c., and doing all possible for the convenience of the thousands who annually attend this popular resort, and for the good order of the meeting—which he says was generally excellent, but the tent companies were more noisy than has been wont in camp meetings of modern date.

Mr. Pike, he thinks evidently more at home in leading this "Sacramental Host," than he was as Col. in the army of the late war, though his duty was done faithfully there also.

—An exchange says "Portsmouth hopes to be the western terminus of the proposed German American Atlantic cable."

That's the place. There is in the city a score of office seekers, besides those in the pay of Uncle Sam, who would gladly practice the "sweet German accent" for a twelve month, if they could possibly be ensured a chance to help operate this end of the cable.—Exeter News Letter.

We presume there are none in Exeter.

—It is said that along the rebel breastworks before Petersburg has grown up a continuous line of peach trees. The rebs having eaten the fruit while on picket duty, they cast the seed, and now they appear in one continuous line of forty-five miles in beautiful trees, yielding the greatest variety of the finest fruit."

John C. Perkins has been appointed Postmaster in Hampton, vice J. R. Moulton, resigned.

Mrs. Sarah, wife of David Whitton of Wolfeboro', while engaged in churning on the forenoon of the 21, st fell into the arms of Mr. Whitton, who happened at the moment to step into the room, and instantly expired. Mrs. Whitton has had some heart difficulty for some time past.

Wednesday evening last, as Mrs. Mary E. Robinson was passing on Water street, in Exeter, a large black dog ran against her, with sufficient force to throw her to the ground. The left side of her head was somewhat injured by the fall.

Considerable inquiry is made about town, why the Unitarian Church is not included in the list of Sunday services in a weekly cotemporary?—Chronicle.

The announcement for the Unitarian Church is omitted from our list of Sunday services at the suggestion of the Pastor and Wardens.—Journal.

A CHURCH CENTENNIAL.—Rev. Wm. H. Alden of this city, on Wednesday 18th preached the centennial discourse on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Baptist church in North Attleborough, Mass., of which he was pastor about twelve years since. A historical sketch of the church by the present pastor, and other interesting exercises, gave much interest to the occasion.

GOSPORT.—We learn with something of Dogberry's "odorous" satisfaction, that the rapidly increasing demand for more accomodations at this favorite summer resort will be generously complied with ere another season sets in. Among other plans which are intended to make this island second to none on the Coast in attraction, arrangements have been nearly completed for extensive additions upon the Atlantic House and its surroundings. The travelling public will also be glad to learn that a first-class steamer, with all requisite and ample accommodations for safety and comfort, is to be run the coming summer, by the landlord of the Atlantic, which will insure the public against those tedious delays which have, in the past, been so unavoidable under sail. We trust the recent explation so strenously urged upon the genial proprietors of the Atlantic House, by the talented Doctor of Newburyport, respecting the better facilities offered by the latter city to this contemplated new line of steam travel, will not prevail. We acknowledge from personal intercourse with the Doctor's ability and keen foresight, but we hazard; the assertion that he intended no reference whatever to the Newburyport bridge elephant, as an instance. ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dulness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction labels bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for
"Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net. while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fl r, 30 krtzs., "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,
in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at
96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.
Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

Horse Talk From Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 24.

Editor Herald:—I see you report the sale of old "Fearnaught; and as I was at the farm where he was bred, last Monday, perhaps a few notes on the subject may interest your readers. We call Fearnaught old, it may be, because he has a splendid black son here, who more than fills his place in our esteem. Besides, that life is long which answers life's great end, you know; and Fearnaught has won fame and money and posterity. He is called 9 years old by you; his former owner, who raised him, says he is 11. But to his origin and history which we have never seen recorded.

Seventeen years ago there lived at the foo of Stratham Hill, nine miles from Portsmouth, an intelligent and well-to-do farmer, named Greenleaf C. Brown, who has always resided on the fine old homestead where he was born, and which beautiful location seems well adapted to the propagation of stock of almost any kind, for besides the horse, here were reared seven brothers Brown, all of whom have turned out well in the world. But Greenleaf alone remained at home, and to-day owns the farm; and although now well three score and ten years old, is hale and hearty, and sound in wind and limb as Fearnaught himself.

Well, as we were saying, seventeen years ago, Mr. Brown bought a little bay mare, four years old, which was raised in Pittsfield and brought to Newmarket for sale—paying the enormous sum of $200 for her, in spite of the protestation and remonstrances of all his friends. She proved an excellent horse for all farm uses, and ere long was known as a great roadster, and her owner tells me now, that although Exeter, Newmarket, Greenland and Portsmouth were always rather a good horse region, yet in all the brushes on the road, through all these years, not one team ever passed her, when her driver was not willing it should. For my own part, your correspondent remembers with admiration, that several years ago, before I ever heard of Fearnaught, when on my way to a Fair at Exeter, with what I considered a pretty good trotter of my own, I turned out on a quiet-looklig farmer's team—but it was this old mare, and I never got by her. I relate this to show again how blood tells; and shall also show how kindness tells.

A son of Mr. Brown—Wm. G. Brown—when he grew up, was minded to take this mare to Young Morrill; and from their union came the sorrel stallion now called Fearnaught. His friends could not dissuade young Brown (our Bill) from keeping this colt for stock; but after using him considerably for breeding—when the was five years old Mr. B. put him in the hands of Henry Smith at Newmarket for training. Smith pronounced him a trotter, and told Mr. Wright of Boston about him; but although Wright authorized and insisted on Smith's buying the colt for him, Smith took no steps towards it; and in a short time, Mr. Brown not knowing anything of Mr. Wright's desire to buy, sold the horse to other Boston parties for $1800. This was a good sale for him, perhaps, but a far greater purchase for the buyer; as Mr. Wright bought him soon after, it was always reported, for $12,000. Young Mr. Brown then purchased at Newmarket a year old colt by Fearnaught, all black, out of a well bred mare, and him he has at the farm to-day, five years old. He is a superb animal, too, rightly named Fearnaught Prince. He is 16 1-4 hands high; a magnificent trotter, sure breeder and astonishingly gentle and docile. Mr. S. R. Perkins says he has more of the looks and action of Morrill than any horse he knows. And as to this question of docility, for which we believe all the Morrill breed are noted, we think much of it, in this as in all cases, is due to the kind manner of treatment and training. The old mare has scarcely been tied in her stall a month of her life, and her owner can catch her or any of the colts anywhere; while the Prince is also kind and easy to handle anywhere and by anybody, although all, from the old mare (now 21 years old) down, are very high spirited and impatient of the whip.

Besides these stallions, there are in Mr. Brown's stables and spacious pastures, quite a herd of colts and fillies of the breed, four years old and younger, including an own brother of Fearnaught, a yearling, also black, and of great promise and expectation. Boston parties offered $1500 for him at the weaning, but he is worth more than that. I called him up to me yesterday in pasture, and handled him over as you would an old house dog. There is also a bay stallion, two years old, by a horse called Black Prince, out of the old mare; and she is again in foal to Young Morrill.

Fearnaught colts are getting to be quite common in this region, and I think Mr. Brown's good sense and liberal pluck almost twenty years ago have thus benefitted the County as much as the action of any man in it. And horsemen will find Stratham Hill stud-farm a pleasant place to call at.

The Piscataqua Horse and Cattle Fair in this city next month will call out the best display of horses ever seen in this section.

The several recent trots between Black Walnut, Empress, McClellan and Nellie Locke in this vicinity, satisfy some folks at least, that when all are driven fairly, Nellie can stand her hand with the crowd. HORSE MARINE.

—It is said that of the half a dozen or more strikes which have occurred in New York during the present summer, not one resulted satisfactorily to the men. Many of the plate printers are talking of a compromise.

NEW ENGLAND GIRLS WORKING WESTERN FARM.—In our rambles "Up the Chippewa," a few days ago, we chanced upon a brown-faced girl plowing out a twenty-acre corn field. She was rigged in a snuff-colored "bloomer," with a straw hat and good honest number seven boots. There was no sham about her. She was evidently working with a will. She had been in the field since morning, taking long strides behind a spirited horse, with the lines thrown across her shoulder, and both hands firmly at the plow. It was just "good fun," she said, to take care of twenty acres, and away she strode through long rows—turning corners, kicking over sods, and never a thought of rest or "whoa," till the dinner horn sounded across the field.

On inquiry we learned that our corn field heroine was one of two New Hampshire girls who migrated with their parents to Eau Claire some dozen years ago. They had little means, but were of good working stock. They bargained for a quarter section of wild land and set about making a farm. There were no boys in the family. The girls were young, bright, healthy and full of pluck and vigor.

Their mother dressed them in bloomers, and gave them their choice indoors or out. From the start they took the place of boys; they were not afraid of dust or sunshine; they never complained; they never tired out; they seldom missed a day from the fields through all the seasons, from earliest spring to the latest autumn. As they grew older they grew tough and wiry, and were alike ready at handling teams, breaking colts, building bridges, opening roads, fording creeks, clearing meadows, loading hay, binding grain or mounting a straw stack.

In good seasons they cut eighty tons of hay and eighty acres of grain. In rainy seasons they had to bring out their hay "by hand," carrying it on poles, knee deep through sloughs and marshes. In winter they attended school and took care of sixty head of cattle, drawing hay from the swamps in the coldest weather. They hired no help except at harvesting. They did their own marketing and trading, and could never be outwitted by any of the store chaps at Eau Claire.

The girls are now eighteen and twenty years of age, and have done more farm work than any two boys in the county. Their father, beginning with nothing, is now rich, with broad fields and thousands of ready stamps, mostly achieved through the grit and energy of his daughters.

During the present season the girls have "let up" a little on their out door accomplishments, and are only cultivating twenty acres of corn for their own amusement. They have built them a spacious residence. They attended balls and parties, go a trouting, drive their own teams, and occasionally give the boys a chance to show their gallantry.

Of course such girls are objects of excitement and interest in their neighborhood. They are looked upon as "capital prizes," and young fellows are ready to break their necks for them. They are now in their freshest bloom, but they are neither coarse nor masculine in appearance; they are simply round, trim, sprightly, full breasted girls, with resolutions in their eye and plenty of good sense in their heads.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

—With that supreme self-complacency which once was characteristic of a large number of the Southerners, the Charleston News says that the main objections to the West is that, like all new countries, it has no society and little culture, that it will be many years before it can have any which will compare to that of the Southern States.

—London Fun has this squib—"It is rumored that one of the conditions on which Mr. Motley is instructed to insist with regard to the settlement of the Alabama claims, is that we shall receive George Francis Train in England—and keep him here. The condition is a hard one.

—On Thursday, at Biddeford, the wife of Rev. Mr. Senter hung herself. Her husband was at camp meeting at the time. He was a Methodist minister, but is now in business. The cause given is despondency or insanity. She was an excellent woman.

—Mr. Robert Mills of Reading, Pa., has on his premises a curiosity rarely met with, a duck having the feet of a chicken—the feet being without webs, and the head graced with combs. The other part of the fowl is like an ordinary duck.

—A Charlestown paper tells of an ex-rebel soldier whose leg was amputated near the thigh during the war. It is now growing out again rapidly like a lobster's claw, and if nothing happens he will have as good legs as ever.

—Mr. John C. Hawkes of Biddeford, who was for several years in the employ of Shaw & Clark, on sewing machines, and latterly foreman of the Collar Co. there, died last week.

—General Stoneman has issued an order that no more beef shall be furnished to the garrison at Wilmington, California, because of disease among the cattle there.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Bonic," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the taste or please the fancy, but a medicine preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
A SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Tr ford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1869.

The News.

Mrs. Margaret Pike of New York, 26 years of age, arrived in Boston, last week, in search of a truant husband. She found him living with another woman and, instead of attempting to wreak vengeance on the vilain, procured ten grains of sulphate of morphine and swallowed it. She was discovered in a state of stupidity, and by the application of a stomach pump and antidotes still lives and will probably recover.

Resolutions have been passed at a meeting in Berlin, Prussia, favoring the suppression of convents and the expulsion of Jesuits.

The Harvards are to receive a rousing reception at New York on their return from England.

J. Ross Browne denies the truth of the report of the rejection of the Burlingame treaty with China. He says it is only deferred until the return of the embassy.

The society of Californian Pioneers are organizing a party for a visit to the East.

The Wyoming district coal miners have sent over to the Scranton district to prevent the miners there from resuming work, and it is doubtful if work will be resumed for some time. The Pine Ridge colliery, near Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, is on fire and serious consequence are apprehended.

Twenty-two sailors of the United States frigate Sabine attempted to blow up that ship in the harbor of Cherbourg by setting fire to the powder magazine; after the fuse was lighted it was discovered by a cabin boy. Seven of the crew have been hanged at the yard-arm.

THE GENERAL ASSOCIATION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, representing the 189 Presbyterian and Orthodox Congregational Churches, held their annual meeting at Keene on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The reports of the churches were favorable. Quite a variety of subjects were discussed. Rev. J. F. Norton of Fitzwilliam, thought New Hampshire ministers were free from that tendency to avoid strong doctrines which he feared was found in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Rev. R. M. Sargent of Princeton, being called upon, said he thought from his short acquaintance, the fear that ministers in Massachusetts were not orthodox was needless.

Resolutions were passed, approving Total Abstinence from Intoxicating Drinks, and recommending a State Constable law. The resolution on Temperance included one against the use of tobacco, which was reported by a majority of the committee, yet on which there was little difference of opinion in the body, those opposed being careful to say that they did not use it, and had a wish to have nothing to do with it in any way.

After much discussion on amending the Constitution, it was voted that the Association hereafter be composed of one Minister for every three belonging to the local Associations, and one Delegate for every three Churches.

The action also secures the membership in this body of the chief officers in the State Benevolent Societies, Home Missions, Bible Society, Education Society and Minister's Fund. It thus very greatly enlarges the membership of the body, and though no more may actually attend than formerly, yet the number having the right to vote and act is much larger. The Meeting next year is to be at Rochester.

☞Gen. Sherman, Vice Admiral Porter, Commodore Alden and ladies arrived on the Tallapoosa. Secretary Robeson went back to Washington to be present at a Cabinet meeting, Tuesday, and did not come with the party. The Speedwell took them out on an excursion on Monday.

The following is a list of the officers of the Tallapoosa:

Commander, Ralph Chandler; Master and Executive Officer, Charles Jones; Master, A. B. Carter; Surgeon, W. Parker; Paymaster, Charles Hobbs; 1st. Ass't Engineer, in charge, C. Lindsley; 2d Ass't Engineers, John Lowe, Jacob Bright, G. W. Baird; Mates, W. S. Baldwin, Francis H. Poole, Charles Myers, James Young; Captain's Clerk, S. Tabor; Paymaster's Clerk, John Coop.

☞Dr. S. Gilbert will receive, today, 50 crates fresh peaches, just the thing for eating or canning for preserves.

J. B. Sargent, a drover, had his his pocket picked of $45, in Concord, Wednesday evening. His pocket-book, with notes for $1600, was thrown away by the robber, and found next morning.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—The Manchester Mirror speaks thus glowingly of this institution:

The Fall Term of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts will commence Sept. 3d. There are twelve free scholarships, one for each Senatorial District, the incumbent to be nominated by the Senator from the District. Any one needy and desiring a scholarship in the College should apply immediately to the Senator of his part of the State. We hope each of our Senators will see to it that some one goes from his District.

The new building for the College, to which Dartmouth College has given $25,000 and the State $15,000, will have its foundations in this Fall, its brick made and frame ready, and will be completed next Spring. It is to be called Culver Hall, in honor of the late Hon. David Culver, of Lyme, who took great interest in establishing an Agricultural College, and who bequeathed part of his property with that view.

The bricks are to be made near the College. The Hall will be four stories, 102 by 55. It is much needed, and will be a place of great interest. It will be the storehouse of the Agricultural and Mechanical productions of the State.

Land has been secured for an experimental farm, if thought desirable.

At a meeting of the Trustees, on the 18th inst., Dr. Thomas R. Crosby was appointed Professor of Animal and Vegetable Physiology in this College. It is an admirable appointment. He is an interesting and able writer and a popular speaker. His lecture on the Anatomy of the Horse, before the Farmers' Convention of this State last December, was very fine, and highly commended by Dr. Loring, Col. T. S. Lang and other good judges. He was the editor of the first farming paper in the State, the Granite State Farmer, and has written much since upon farming topics.

Prof. Dimond is a zealous worker in the Agricultural College, a learned and scientific gentleman, and we predict for him and the College a brilliant future. President A. D. Smith believes thoroughly that "faith without works is dead," and the splendid results of his labors are seen in Dartmouth College, and the same we believe will appear in the Agricultural College, of which he is President. We regard the inauguration of the Agricultural College as of the highest importance to the farmers of this State. It will not be many years, we think, before nearly every town in the State will be represented by some one in the Agricultural College.

Not per contra exactly, but in rather a different vein, the New England Farmer, of Boston, thus alludes to these new colleges, and the proposed plan of running them:

The third annual report of the trustees of the N. H. College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is before us. Most of its pages are occupied by the report of Mr. E. W. Dimond, Professor of General and Applied Chemistry. There are brief reports from President Smith, Prof. Crosby, Instructor in Animal and Vegetable Physiology, the report of CHARLES A. YOUNG, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, and that of Charles F. Emerson in the Department of Mathematics.

These reports, severally, are mainly devoted to an expression of the anticipated results of the workings of the College, and to a statement of Professors Crosby, Young and Emerson, they merely state that certain classes have gone over certain studies in a creditable manner. But the reports, like all other reports from the colleges established under Mr. Morrill's bill, are devoted to statements of immediate wants and future needs, as though there were no ground to stand upon for instant and vigorous action.

This has been the great mistake in the management of the Agricultural College in Massachusetts. There were buildings on the land which,—probably, at an expense of one-tenth of what a single new building has cost,—might have been made suitable for the reception of any good republican professors of the State. There was the land waiting for the labor and skill of hundreds of young men, and yet very little has been done to make it productive and an example worthy of imitation by all the farmers in the State. The effort seems to be with nearly all who manage these institutions, to spend large sums upon buildings of various kind, instead of striking vigorously into the soil, and making provisions for the students to engage in the several arts.

New Hampshire Items.

A Miss Grinnell of New York, now at the Kearsarge House, North Conway, has become insane since hearing of the recent accidental death of her brother by falling from a window, at the Isle of Wight.

The three story tannery of J. B. Moulton of North Weare, was burned to the ground on the 26th. Fire was first discovered in the upper part of the building about three o'clock, P. M., and in ten minutes from its first discovery the roof had fallen in. A considerable amount of stock was lost. The fire spread to the fields in the neighborhood and the people had to turn out and fight it to prevent further damage.

The following are the patents issued to citizens of New Hampshire for the week ending Aug. 24; Horace Call, Concord, assignor to self and J. B. ☞The masterly reduction of our debt begins to be held up as an example in the English Parliament. It appears that England reduced her debt only £38,000,000 in ten years. Yet English three per cents. sell higher in market than our six per cents. Why? Simply because no public man in England has the temerity, the meanness or the down right rascality to even hint at any form or degree of repudiation. But for such threats in Democratic quarters American stocks would command a premium in London to-day. The man ought to be set down as a dangerous public enemy who proposes anything short of complying in the fullest sense with the letter and spirit of the law, according to its universally understood meaning at the time the debt was contracted.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The blood will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, not only for family sewing, but for all the stitching I could get to do, from the heaviest leather to the finest muslin. In six months I made alone on the machine twenty-five coats, seven vests, ten pair of pants, twenty-four shirts, and a number of cloaks, etc.

North East, Pa. MISS L. HARRIS.

The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's "Sambuci Wine," and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to important wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. "Persons' Purgative Pills" are free from all impure matter, and are mild and healthgiving in their operation.

At this season of the year, cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family.

A gentleman writing from the far west says: "I must have Renne's Pain-killing Magic Oil in the house. It is the best family medicine for curing all kinds of pain I have found, and this is what I will. I must have it." And who blames the man? Do you use it, reader?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Painless Digestion.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrium, a flushing of the face at meal times, and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, billiousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness, and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather. The effect of summer is therefore doubly dangerous when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The standard remedy of the present age for indigestion, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—by a spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid defiles its stimulating principle; its tonic constituents are the finest that botanical research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurent, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is attested both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by pestilentious air or unwholesome water, that has ever been used either in the United States or Tropical America.

In cases of constipation resulting from a want of vascular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvelous; and without the dangerous sequences of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition. au26 down many systems that have been comparatively vigorous during the Winter and Spring. Stimulants so often resorted to, re-act and increase the evil. Regulate the disordered functions of the stomach and liver, and purify the animal fluids with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, and strength, animation, energy, will soon return. They restore the appetite, invigorate the digestion, and are an absolute specific for lassitude and debility. Sold by all Druggists. au25

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I died and was twelve hours on the way, I weighed a healthy man—my weight having gone from 138 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and as a family medicine, I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent me recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally efficinal in checking the disorder.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

Try them, and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Phillips, P. Smith and young Race Course, Fordham, N. Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring the centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been undistinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female system is subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal of other among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drought or pill.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all that is to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in health; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by the aid of expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

When using the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon healthy, stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which is the preparation by nature for the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they want to stop the cough too soon, they want to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking in the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and these will stop of themselves, of course. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are diseased, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way to cure is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives no advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

For the Chronicle.

THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, of this city, will commence regular weekly meetings, Wednesday evening, Sept. 1st, the usual summer recess being ended. The Library however has been open every Saturday evening, and well patronized by the lovers of good books, of which the shelves contain a large number, in a tolerable state of preservation. It is the purpose of the Board of Directors, to add to those now on hand, the best of the recent publications, and as many of the standard works of modern literature, as the increased prosperity of the Association, and the demands of the times, will warrant.

It is a very gratifying sign of progress, that so much interest is manifested in the association, as is at present apparent. The library room is thronged Saturday evenings, by wide-awake members selecting books, and agitating the question How to promote the influence of the institution. It is expected that matters of importance will be acted upon at the next meeting, and measures adopted to keep alive, and increase, the newly-awakened zeal of old, and meet the reasonable expectations of the newly-elected members, thereby to show our appreciation of the favors received from friends and patrons, whose generous contributions of books, pictures, and money have been carefully preserved and judiciously applied, as well as gratefully remembered.

The property of the Association amounts to many hundreds of dollars, and is sufficient to form the nucleus of a powerful and influential agency in the cause of popular education and social improvement. The Association combines the advantages of a library and a debating club, affording opportunities of becoming acquainted with the world and our neighbors, knowledge worth more than Government Bonds, or stock in the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

Quite a large number of young men have joined, and many old members renewed their connection with the Association, since the late revival. Financially we are in easy circumstances, situated in a good locality, and having ample accommodations for the present needs. Young men desirous of joining the Association, are cordially invited—the only qualifications required are "eighteen years, good moral character and three dollars." Any ambitious youth thus endowed, and recommended by a member, may be sure of a welcome. ROCKWOOD.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors.—Is it not a burning shame, that the hundreds of well-appearing people, of whom any community might well be proud, who are in the habit of frequenting our chief Cemetery every Sunday afternoon, should be choked by inhaling for the space of a quarter of a mile, the infernal stench which comes from the Slaughter-Houses on South Street and Richards Avenue,—more particularly from the former? Is this like the intolerable Creek nuisance, nobody's business.

With a southerly wind, the stench from these foul fever-engendering places, obliges residents on Court and Pleasant Streets, to close their windows.—What must be the opinion of the multitude of strangers who visit this vicinity at this season, at finding three of our principal avenues disgusting to every one of the least sensibility? Can the meat be wholesome, after absorbing for hours the vile gases of these places?

Let every meat-buyer ask who sells it, and avoid it—unless he wants it for his dog; and it would not be long before the sensitiveness of the pocket would effect, what has yet failed to be done by the sense of DECENCY.

☞ Another Match Trot is announced at the Piscataqua Fair Grounds for Friday next—and it would seem to be pretty evident that both horses (General Scott and Canada Boy) will do their best to win the money this time, at any rate. Admittance low. See advertisement. These matches, wherein the backers of each horse actually put the money up, and go for it, are full as likely to make sport, as the races for purses offered by track managers, which are often divided pro rata before the start, by the drivers.

☞ There is to be a "grand" convocation of Free Masons at the Sagamore House and grounds, this week, commencing Wednesday. The big tent (on the beach, almost,) will be spread for the Massachusetts Templars, and the Grand Lodges of that State and Rhode Island and New Hampshire will all probably be there, or many representatives of them ☞ Whitman's Comic Opera Troupe gave a third entertainment at the Temple Saturday evening; but owing to some disagreement among the company, and the non-appearance of the pianist, the performance did not pass off quite so well as on the previous evenings. Miss Kimball was in no wise to blame, we are assured, and did her best to entertain the audience, as she always does. The Troupe, newly organized, play in Lowell this week, and then go east into the Provinces; after which, on their return to Boston, they will appear again in this city, where they have many friends and are always well received.

☞ Mr. J. C. Butler's third excursion party of the season will go to the Shoals in Steamer Appledore, to-day, at 10 1-2 o'clock, returning about 3.30, P. M. Tickets, 50 cents for the trip, for sale at No. 18 Daniel St.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.—Lewiston, Me., is a growing place, and its citizens know how to help each other along. Young men are encouraged and aided. A former resident of this city, who is now doing a prosperous business there, writes to a friend here that he has frequently had customers come to him and say "I want you to do business for me. As you are a young man and have just started in business, I want to help you along." These are not isolated cases but are of frequent occurrence. If such good will and kindly disposi- should be displayed in Portsmouth, there would soon be signs of increased prosperity, but the man who should first manifest his desire to be of some use to his neighbors would be deemed a fit candidate for a lunatic asylum. And that's why Portsmouth doesn't grow and business is dull. Will there ever be a reaction?

From the Journal.

The carrying business between Portsmouth and Boston has become very large and has for years been constantly increasing. When the Eastern Railroad was first opened to Portsmouth about 1840, Messrs. P. C. Hale & Co., commenced the Express business, occupying the old building which was afterwards taken away to make room for the original Congress Block. After two or three years they were succeeded by Mr. Jeremiah Prescott, who has since passed the various grades of service on the Eastern Railroad, and is now Superintendent. Express business did not suit him and he entered with all his soul into the work and management of railroad business—success following of course his energy and ability. About 1844, Messrs. Walker & Jackson took his office and business. This firm continued in prosperous business together until the failing health of Mr. Walker caused him to retire, and soon afterwards, Mr. Joseph D. Ackerman, previously one of the best and most popular conductors on the E. R. R. (who laid by his whip when the old Eastern stage route was superceded by the railroad, and became conductor,) became the partner of Mr. Jackson. The firm Jackson & Co., is thus constituted. The gradual increase of their business now requires three carriers daily each way, and a force of twenty-five or thirty men. At times they have brought a load of over two tons; their average freight is of course much less. The Railroad receives a large income from their business.

Mr. Wm. H. Laws's express is his own, started and built up by himself. He commenced the business about fifteen years ago, and has been a most persistent follower of it. Some years he has not missed his trip to Boston for a single day, and he too is reaping the reward of steady application.

Excursions and picnics are raging at present. Almost daily we meet parties going or returning—riding or on foot. Verily we have delightful summer resorts all about us. A gentleman, as young now as many active business men, who was in business here about sixty years ago, suggests that one of the wants of Portsmouth is a complete bathing establishment, as an inducment for visitors to Portsmouth. We intend to have something to say about a bath house and gymnasium soon.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, mineral or vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," some of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy right, in the United States Courts, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon Rolling Stock and Franchises of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" " London. . .67 cts. 10. "
" " Frankfort. .87 fir. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

Morning Chronicle.

Am. Asso. for Advancement of Science.

Reported for the Chronicle, by Prof. I. F. Holton. Concluded.

SALEM, Aug. 25.

SECTION B was entirely given up to geology. Prof. Verrill, of Yale, had compared the marine animals near the isthmus of Darien, and had found evidence of some slight connection between the oceans in former times, but never much. [As a million accidents happen every hour, it would not be surprising that every five years an animal should be transferred involuntarily from one ocean to the other.] The only other thing of interest to others than geologists, was a vigorous attempt to arrest the wanton waste of the time of the section, after a worthless paper had been placed on the programme for the day by the Standing Committee. It was the first failure of the committee of this section to do its duty. The chairman himself had the reading arrested, and it was cut down to ten minutes. They were spent in an attempt to overthrow the principles of geology.

THE GENERAL SESSION was the centre of interest. The annual business consists of an election of officers, and selection of a place of meeting. About the former there was no difficulty. Prof. Wm. Chauvenet of St. Louis was nominated for President by the Committee, and Prof. T. S. Hunt of Montreal for Vice President. Of course the whole ticket was carried unanimously. In the place of meeting they were less fortunate. Niagara was the place reported. It was adopted unanimously, out of courtesy to the committee, but a re-consideration moved immediately. It was feared that the question would remain undecided till after adjournment. Niagara would precipitate the finances of half the members down the gulf. Troy came to the rescue and will prove an excellent place. West Point will do when Government spreads our table for us.

THE COINAGE QUESTION did not reach unanimity. Four counsels divide the community. 1, Let alone. 2, Go to the French. 3, Make a slight change. 4, Change to the best system that can be devised. No advocate of Nos. 1 and 2 appeared. No. 3 they went blind. It is a very ingenious scheme of Mr. E. B. Elliott, which would be the parent of a future recourse to No. 4, or a permanent use of six different units. Each os these could have a coin identical in value: 3 dollars, 4 thaler, 7 gulden, 6 florin, 15 franks, 150 pence. No. 4, proposing a common unit of an exact fifth of this,—one gramme of gold, with coined hundredths,—was not read in section till after this was forced through the General Session without even an explanation. I will try to show you what exceedingly slight changes No. 3 demands as soon as I can. Or you can study them out by the aid of the Counting House Webster.

THANKS were voted as usual, but they were felt to be inadequate. The railroads exercised their usual liberality, though I afterwards saw one venerable member, with his pass to New York in his pocket, invest $7 in what he considered [comfort and respectful treatment on the Fall River or Bristol or Narragansett line, which I believe are all the same. Particular thanks were due to the Eastern, for not only carrying for half fare, but actually furnishing us a free road from Salem to Boston all through the meeting. We shall be apt to remember this if we have occasion to go from Boston to Portland. Perhaps the same individualization is due a county officer whose name I took and lost. I think it was Mr. Godell, Clerk of Probate. I mean the gentleman to whom we owe a free lunch, morning, noon and night, served by Salem ladies, in which bread, meat, coffee and tea were always ready and good. It cost us but a quarter of the time which the equally ready hospitality so profuse around us would have done. The four receptions were double in quantity and more than four times the value that is customary. For those who met only strangers at the first, had an increasing list of acquaintances at each successive one. Whipple took two excellent photographs of us. For two dollars the purchasers can have the faces (in menimo) of more eminent men than can often be seen on one plate. Most of them stood very well and the artist's work was capital.

The "Field Day" of the Salem Naturalists takes them to-day, by further kindness of the Eastern Raiload, to Rockport. A splendid day they will have of it,—another of those perfect ones we had on the "Escort." A few are invited to-day to the cable at Duxbury. Your correspondent is doubly unfortunate: no one can be at both places, but he has been compelled to decline both. Lastly, to-morrow noon the meeting is to die away amid the strains of the great organ of Music Hall in Boston,—but SALEM will be a long perfume, fresh for years to come.

AN ASSASSIN IN A BERLIN CATHEDRAL. The Berlin correspondent of the London Times writes:

"I believe in God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost."

"You lie!"

A shot, a cry, general commotion.

On Sunday, August 8, in the presence of a numerous congregation, this sacrilegious scene was enacted in the Cathedral Church of Berlin. Rev. H. Heinrei was standing before the altar, reciting the Belief, when a young man, rising from a front seat and interrupting the clergyman, gave him the lie, and at once discharged a pistol at his breast. The next moment he was in the hands of the sexton, and quietly suffered himself to be led away to the vestry. He was a religious monomaniac. The ball passed near the priest's head, and slightly wounded a boy in the choir.

STORM IN VERMONT.—The storm in Vermont on Friday of last week did great damage in some parts of the State. In Morristown several saw and clapboard mills were swept away, bridges were carried off, and the highways were badly damaged. The damage in that one town is estimated at $15,000. The rain was accompanied by lightning, which also did considerable damage.

☞ Rev. Willard Spalding has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Universalist Society in Salem, to take effect November 1.

Gen. J. C. Abbott, U. S. Senator from North Carolina, and formerly of this State, having assumed the authorship and declared himself personally responsible for an article reflecting upon the character of the editor of another newspaper, who had published some abuses of Abbott, was called upon by the latter to retract his charges or fight. Gen. Abbott, after considering the matter, made the necessary retraction, whereupon his rival also made the amende by saying that he intended to make no assult on the private character of the Senator, and expressing regret that it had been so construed. Gen. Abbott has been quite successful for a Northern man in his political aspirations in North Carolina. He will not improve them by putting on any of the former accomplishments of the chivalry — as he very sensibly concludes.

—At Cincinnati, Aug. 26,—Honeau & Co., private bankers, suspended. Their liabilities are about $125,000. Their assets are unknown, but probably small.

—It is reported that the Pennsylvania Coal Miners are going to work on Monday. Let Congress lighten the duty on imported coal;—and they will keep at work.

—The Croton water is getting low, and the Water Board have notified the New Yorkers to be sparing in the use of it.

RETROTHAL.

O! for one hour of such enchanted light
As made a fairer daytime in the sky,
When on the willow-bank we sat that night,
My old-time love and I!

A while we talked so slow and tenderly,
We felt the listening trees above us lean;
And louder far the silence seemed to me
That fell at last between.

Her her heart lay floating on its quiet thoughts,
Like water-lilies on the tranquil lake:
And Love within, unknown, because unsought,
Lay dreaming half awake.

Ah, Love is lightest sleeper ever known!
A whisper, and he started plain to view;
Old as the heavens seemed our story grown,
While yet the moon was new.

And when she spoke, her answer seemed the while Sweeter for sweetness of the lips that told,
Setting a precious word within a smile—
A diamond ringed with gold.

Then bloomed for us the perfect century-flower;
Then filled the cup and overran the brim;
And all the stars processional, that hour,
Chanted a bridal-hymn.

Ah, Time, all after-days may fly aw-y,
Such joy as that thou hast but once to give,
And Love is royal from his crowning-day,
Though kingdomless he live.

☞ Gen. Rosecrans' full letter declining the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio has been published. The substance of it is, that though he is a Democrat, he is not exactly of the kind that nominated him, and to whom he proceeds to deliver a long lecture. The following, especially, is a severe cut:

"Every Democratic platform should tend to raise higher and higher the public credit, and to satisfy the people of Europe that the Democratic is the last party in the United States that proposes to whine or act reluctantly about paying the public debt, even though present holders should have bought it below its fair value."

A GOOD HIT.—Don Piatt, in a speech before the Colored Educational Convention the other day at Louisville, said:

"This probably is the only opportunity I shall have to address you, for the Fifteenth Amendment will soon be the law of the land, and I will find myself crowded off the stump by the Democratic orators, who will address you from every cross-road as 'our colored fellow citizens,' precisely as they now address the Irish as 'our Irish fellow citizens,' and the Germans as 'our German fellow-citizens.'"

—A New York merchant who failed some years ago, but is now in prosperous circumstances once more, has lately astonished his creditors by paying in full the old claims from which the law had released him; as an honest man would. But, with greater "thrift" than taste, he is now publishing the newspaper puffs called out by this conduct, as advertisements for his present business, which reminds us of Whately's remark, to the effect that "Honesty is the Best Policy, but he is not an honest man who acts on that maxim."—Advance.

—The New York Evening Post referring to the removal of the national capital, thinks that small places are not fit to be seats of government, and says: "If the capital of New York were in this city, the greater part of the corruption in our legislation would be prevented by the mere publicity which would be given to the schemes of rogues against the State." We suppose this accounts for the pre-eminent purity of the city government of New York.

—The Newburyport Herald says that last week a young man of Irish persuasion had prepared for a wedding on Sunday, and purchased a barrel of beer to treat his friends, but as he was on his way home with the fluid a State Constable seized it, and the wedding has been indefinitely postponed. Pat won't proceed without the liquor.

—The Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette, a Democratic paper, says of the rebel armies: "the men who compose them yet live. The truths which animated them in the struggle still live, and will continue to live as long as the constitution of our great Republic shall stand."

—The trichina spiralis, or something like it, is to be found, according to Agassiz, not only in pork, but in fish, flesh and fowl, so that to escape from such little creatures we must abstain from all food, or insist upon its being cooked.

—The civil case for damages against H. G. Woodward of Greenfield, who killed Walter S. Coons last year, was settled last week without trial. It is understood that the defendant pays the administratrix of the plaintiff $3000 and all the costs of the suit.

—A rich man who died lately in Independence, Mo., left ten dollars each to his two sons, who are working on a farm at twenty dollars a month, and the rest of his property, worth more than half a million of dollars, to a married niece.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true, Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you kindly gave me to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We received it at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear Sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. T. Lord, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most efficacious to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then sitter about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The London Rowing Club gave a complimentary dinner to the Oxford and Harvard boat crews at London, Monday evening. Millan of the Oxfords in a speech said that of all the races in which he had participated he had never been so hard pressed as in the race with the Harvards.

The whole entertainment wound up with a splendid display of fireworks in front of the Crystal Palace, which was given in honor of both crews, and which was witnessed by vast numbers of people.

Mr. Samuel Preston, conductor of a freight train on the Boston & Albany, was fatally burned in an oil tank. The oil had been emptied and Mr. Preston was passing an open tank with a lantern. The gases from the residuum in the tank caught fire from the lantern and an explosion ensued. He fell in and was burned so severely that he lived but a few hours.

☞ On Monday a drove of ninety head of Texan cattle, that had been landed from the International ferry boat at Buffalo, stampeded and ran in every direction through the streets at a furious rate, goring and trampling everything that came in their way. One man was tossed by a mad bull into Niagara street Park. A woman was fatally gored at another point. A number of persons were more or less injured. Five or six of the infuriated animals were shot by citizens. About forty head are missing. Some of the cattle swam Niagara River, and scattered on the Canada side. Others are still running in the suburbs.

☞ For the New England Fair at Portland, Sept. 7th—10th, the transportation arrangements are that nearly all the lines in New England, will carry and return stock and articles for exhibition, on condition that freight shall be prepaid, when shipped, and the money refunded by the railroad companies, on presentation of a certificate from the Secretary of the Fair, stating that the stock or articles have been on exhibition, and have not been sold; and most lines will carry passengers during the week of the Fair, at one half the regular rates, or one fare for the round trip.

☞ A shoveller named John Marshall while engaged in loading a boat at the Niagara Elevator, Buffalo, after having become exhausted by a day and night's continual labor, lay down in one of the compartments of the boat and went to sleep, about 4 o'clock, Saturday, and was smothered by a deposit of grain upon him. After the removal of 2000 bushels of grain the body was recovered.

At Bartlett, on Saturday night, Aug. 21, Geo. Abbott and Elden Eastman went to the house of Francis Dollaff, and invited him out to go to a neighbor's, and drink with them. He was abed, and declined. They went away, but soon returned and renewed their call. He declined; they demanded admittance, and threatened to break the door if he did not open it. He warned them not to do it, or he would shoot the first one that entered. They broke the door open; Abbott stepped in, and Dollaff fired his gun, loaded for a bear, through Abbott's body, killing him instantly.

Hon. Moody Hobbs of Pelham, picked up a six by four inch yellow spotted "box turtle," so called, in that town the 23d. The species is rarely found this side of Virginia. Its peculiarity consists in having the power to completely enclose vulnerable portions of its body by means of an inwardly shutting shell, hinged at both ends equidistant from head to tail.

Patrick Conner, of Concord, stole a valise on a Railroad train near Manchester, and was arrested by Conductor Colby: it is said Conner was drunk; but that is no excuse.

The Nashua Telegraph reports that Rev. Wm. L. Gaylord is invited to a pastorate at Cincinnati, at a salary of $4,000 and parsonage.

Correspondent of Chronicle and Gazette.

GOSPORT, N. H., Aug. 30.

Last Sabbath, Mr. Barber, the resident Missionary, announced in his Congregation that F. T. Thomson, Esq., of Canandaigua, N. Y., had donated the goodly sum of $90 for the purpose of extending the term of the school on Star Island 3 months beyond the 6 months schooling already provided for by the Ladies Circle, through their late Fair. It seems that a Mr. Bates, as Agent of Mr. Thomson, had been corresponding with Mr. Origen Caswell for some time on this subject, but not even the accomplished teacher, or the Missionary had any inkling of the matter till the time of announcement.

The numerous guests of the Messrs. Leighton are gradually thinning out, and Caswell's, on Star Island, is becoming quiet, and the most active of the managers of both Hotels were seen at religious services, last Sabbath, with many of their guests. Several clergymen were at the prayer meeting last Thursday evening at "Billy" Downs', tho' the pastor was absent at Campmeeting. The season was an interesting one. Rev. Dr. Hepworth and friends have furnished our Sunday School with juvenile papers and Mr. Porter and Dr. Osgood with hymn and tune books for Congregational singing.

THE BYRON SCANDAL.—A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says:

Mrs. Stowe may have fallen into error as to dates. I trust she has, and that, as the Nation asserts, Lady Byron will be acquitted of any knowledge of her husband's real character until the moment of separation. Seventeen years ago I heard this fearful story of incest from an Englishman of the very highest character, mental and moral. He repeated to me the facts communicated to him by Dr. Lushington, and within this year his narrative has been confirmed by an Englishwoman who received her information from Trelawney, Byron's comrade. The discussion now going on will probably bring forth the proofs from those to whom they have been intrusted. One of them will be Byrog's own confession.

NAVAL.—Admiral Lanman's flagship, the Lancaster, went into commission at Norfolk, last week.

The Navy Department has ordered that the steamers Monocacy, Ashuelot, Aroostook and Maumee be sold in the Chinese waters if possible.

☞ An Indiana clergyman attended a Black Crook exhibition. An ecclesiastical court recommended that he be admonished for not closing his eyes during the ballet.

☞ A lubberly Baltimorean tumbled into a big chest, the lid fell and he was locked in. He was nearly dead when found.

☞ Portland has been surfeited with peaches, and competition drove the price down to 25 cents for four dozen.

☞ Young Coker's voice is developing into a rich tenor.

AN INCIDENT OF A PRESIDENTIAL RECEPTION.—At one of the Presidential receptions in Vermont, on Saturday, the President and his wife alighted from the cars and were about to be conducted to carriages in waiting for them. The crowd gathered about in their eagerness to catch a glimpse of the General, and Mrs. Grant was for a moment lost in the throng. Her simple, unpretentious dress and manner prevented her from being recognized, and while one person forced a bundle into her hands to hold, she was told from another quarter to "stand back and let the President's party pass." She was soon extricated however, and is said to have laughed quite heartily over the ludicrousness of her position.

The London Quarterly Review for July, (American Edition,) contains 9 articles; among them, Eastern Christians, and the Argument of Deory's, are of much interest in a religious view.—The political and general articles are, as usual, high toned and able.

The Coach Maker's Journal for September, completes vol. 4 of a very able monthly, whose use is well expressed by its name. Published in Philadelphia.

A son of Rev. S. M. Whiting, of Windsor, Vt., aged 14 years, left his home on the 18th inst., and has not been seen nor heard from since. It is believed that he went in the direction of Newport, and that he left in consequence of a foolish threat by which a thoughtless man terrified him.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Machine for nearly six years without repairs, not only for family sewing, but for all the stitching I could get to do, from the heaviest beaver to the finest muslin. In six months I made alone on the machine twenty-five coats, seven vests, ten pair of pants, twenty-four shirts, and a number of cloaks, etc.

North East, Pa. MISS L. HARRIS.

The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

New York, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's "Sambuci Wine," and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to important wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. "Parsons' Purgative Pills" are free from all impure matter, and are mild and healthgiving in their operation.

At this season of the year, cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family.

A gentleman writing from the far west says: "I must have Renne's Pain-killing Magic Oil in the house, it is the best family medicine for curing all kinds of pain I have found, and cost what it will I must have it." And who blames the man? Do you use it, reader?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of the most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many aggravated concomitants such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and mental imbecility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a narcotic, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the natural spirits. No other remedy possess such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is a harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.—Indolent sores for which the regular pharmacopœia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable qualities have a most wonderful effect upon the diseased flesh and should completely extirpate the virus which feeds the ulcer or sore. As a morbid condition of the whole system is generally a concomitant of slowly healing ulcers, an occasional dose of Holloway's Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., Ft. M., Hammondsville, N. Y.

"In 1835 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 121 pounds up to 153 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. It deserves a place in every household medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without Pain Killer in the house. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in time, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocuous; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs, and also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. R. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has always permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the poisonous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female system is more subject, the Lozenge will be infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered as cathartics. As an anti-bilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative pill, powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and thereby producing comfortable sleeping hours. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has reached the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use,) which will great cleanse the liver, will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to restore the digestive organs, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcers, Tetter, Boil or other Liquid Humors, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, plethora of the lungs, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not the lungs that are wanted to be healed, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only change is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjas1

THE FREE MASONS are great fellows to Lodge, but do not seem to like a vast wilderness for this purpose. The Salem Knights Templar, with the splendid Germania Band of Boston to whistle and keep their courage up, are to come to town in Conductor Philbrook's train this afternoon, for a two day's camp at the Sagamore House. And a grand gala time they will of course make of it, for themselves and visitors, who will doubtless be counted by thousands.

The Salem Veterans, who were there last year, have also made arrangements to visit this favorite Hotel and camping ground, about the 15th Sept.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.—During his visit at the Navy Yard, Vice Admiral Porter gave a verbal order for the immediate discontinuance of work on the U. S. S. Pawnee. It is said this vessel will go to Norfolk as a Receiving Ship at that Naval Station, and that the New Hampshire will return to this Yard.

An effort is being made to establish a Post Band at this Naval Station.

The Tallapoosa sailed for Portland, Tuesday morning, at half past 6 o'clock, with Admiral Porter's party. Gen. Sherman and daughter had gone there by rail, Monday evening. From Portland the Tallapoosa will go to Eastport. Gen. Sherman will pass through Portsmouth on Friday next, en route to Washington.

☞ The old dark red horse so long owned by Mr. N. G. Mason of this city, was kicked a few days since by another new horse of his, in the field, and a leg broken, so that the faithful veteran had to be killed. Old horses, if not worn out, are like old people—often more valuable than young ones, because so much more trusty and reliable; and we have no doubt Mr. Mason could have better spared a better animal than this old favorite. And while it is true that man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn, it is also a fact, and a strange one, that horses entirely kind in every other respect, are often cross to their own stable companions, as in this case, in which the old fellow began the fight.

PROFESSOR GARDNER, the eloquent lecturer on Religion, Temperance, Republicanism, and his unrivalled Soap, is in town. The Professor is recommended by the most distinguished men of the country,—by autograph letters,—including the late President Lincoln, President Grant, Adm. Farragut, Adm. W. D. Porter, Gen. O. O. Howard, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and a host of others, too numerous to mention.

☞ During the Masonic Camp at the Sagamore House, Omnibusses and Passenger Wagons will run from Portsmouth to Frost's Point each hour during the day; and for the last trip, will leave the Sagamore at the close of the Promenade Concert by the Germania Band, Wednesday and Thursday Evenings. Fare only 25 cts. each way. Passengers taken and left at Market or Haymarket Squares.

☞ The last day of Summer was Fallish enough. In fact, if Winter did linger in the lap of Spring, brown Autumn did not wait for Summer to go out in good style, but pushed himself in rather rudely before his time. So the sunny season, like Charles Lamb, makes up for coming late, by going early. If the terminal rose has not already withered and gone, it will certainly now embrace the first opportunity to do so.

DON'T KILL THE BIRDS.—Messrs. Editors:—Will you in your valuable paper give us the Law which prohibits the shooting of Robins? The destruction of these desirable and useful birds within a few weeks, by reckless boys, has been very great. FARMER.

Reply.—Below we publish the law:

If any person shall, at any season of the year, take, kill, or destroy any of the birds called robins, thrushes, larks, bluebirds, sparrows, swallows, martins, woodpeckers, bobolinks, yellow-birds, linnets, fly-catchers, or warblers; or shall sell, buy, or have in possession any of said birds, taken or killed in this state, he shall forfeit for each of the birds named above, the sum of two dollars.

Any person owning or occupying land may forbid the destruction of birds on the same at any season of the year, by public notice in any newspaper published in the county, or by posting notice on the land; and any person taking or destroying birds on said land in defiance of said prohibition, shall be subject to a penalty of one dollar for each bird so destroyed, in addition to the penalties named in the preceding section.

BASE BALL.—In noticing the recent game of ball between the Lebanon and Concord clubs, the Patriot speaks of the first nine of the former as meeting a "picked up second" nine of the latter, and while owning to defeat, falls into the common error of making matters worse by misrepresentation.

A challenge to play best games in three, first nines participating, passed between the two clubs, and on Friday last the first of the series was played resulting in victory for the Lebanon club. The feeling of disappointment on the part of the Kearsarge nine can be easily understood, they seemingly having an easy victory within grasp, but after having been fairly and squarely beaten, was it manly for them to raise the cry of "second nine?" That this was a mere subterfuge to conceal their defeat, may be discovered by reference to the score.

It is said that the bearing of the Concord "second nine," so called, toward the Mascomas, subsequent to the game, savored little of the frank and manly generosity generally awarded on such occasions. We would recommend to other clubs going to Concord to play with this famous "second nine" to be sure and give them the game if they would secure honorable treatment.

On their return from Concord, on Saturday, Mascoma Base Ball Club stopped at Franklin and played a friendly game with the Winnepesaukees. The latter beat, the score standing 44 for the Winnepesaukees to 30 for the Mascomas. The game was fairly won, but it is only fair to say that the best player in the Mascoma was unable to participate.—Free Press.

Editors of Chronicle: Please tell us when the new milk Law takes effect. MILKMAN.

Reply.—All laws of the N. H. Legislature, unless the time of their going into effect is expressly stated in the law itself,—take effect on the 15th September. So the new act to sell Milk by wine and not beer measure, as they do in all other States we believe, (which enactment we publish in the Chronicle and Gazette of this week,) dates from the 15th inst. And a just law it is too.

☞ On Thursday, the great day of the Epping Camp Meeting for visitors, it was estimated there were from 12,000 to 15,000 persons present. The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad conveyed fifty car loads to the meeting, and the line of carriages from the surrounding towns was almost innumerable. Friday morning there was an interesting Love Feast, at which over 300 persons spoke in an hour.

☞ Vanderbilt gave $500 as a wedding fee to the clergyman who married him. Van goes up stairs since his wedding two steps at a jump. The reporter who discovered the sprightliness of the happy Commodore, fails to state how many steps he takes at a time when going down stairs. Mrs. Van will receive an annual income of 7 per cent on $33,333,333.33 1-3 after the old gent goes up the last time.

☞ Gov. Chamberlain of Maine having declined to deliver the oration at the New England State Fair in Portland, Dr. Geo. B. Loring of Massachusetts has been invited to do so and accepts. And he can't be beat.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noise in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued agues attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $25 (gold) each half year.
" London.....£7 sh. 10. "
" Frankfort..57 kr. 57 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

New Hampshire Items.

The favorite seaside resort of Nashua people is Marblehead Neck, an island of about 240 acres which separates the harbor of Marblehead from Massachusetts Bay. Eighteen cottages have been built there by citizens of Nashua, forming a little hamlet known as "Nashua Village," and fifty different families have occupied them the present season, many of their owners renting them after a few weeks' stay. The Telegraph says that ten additional houses will be built there next year, a boarding house among the number.

Diptheria has prevailed in Littleton and vicinity, recently, to an alarming extent. Week before last, three children of Mr. Hilo Hatch, from eight to fourteen years old, died of this disease on three successive days, and other members of the family are now prostrated with it. Typhoid fever is also prevalent, and, altogether, Littleton is more sickly than it has been for many years.

In Littleton, a short while since, Mr. George L. Russell was "tackled" by a large dog attached to the Lancaster Express, and severely bitten in the leg. He suffered very severe pain for some time, but is now doing well. The owners of the dog have been prosecuted by Mr. Russell, who naturally questions their right to keep an animal of that character loose.

A man in Tunbridge, Vt., named Diamond, is the father of fourteen children by his first wife. About a year ago he married a widow who was the mother of fifteen children, and a few weeks since she presented him with another.

John Brugger's Stocking Mill, at Manchester, was damaged by fire on Saturday night, to the extent of $25,000 or more. Insured $40,000.

Some of the buildings connected with the Bennington powder mill were burned last week.

It is feared that another slide will soon take place near the Willey House, White Mountains.

The landlord of the Crawford House, at the White Mountains, has changed the name of Mount Pleasant to Mount Peabody, in honor of the philanthropist. Snobbery.

HANDS AND FEET.—I went into a shop the other day to buy what the drapers call "gents' hose." A smiling young lady was behind the counter, and when I had made an appeal to her to show me some socks, I was somewhat doubtful what course of action I ought to pursue in order to demonstrate to her the length of my foot. As I am not a burlesque writer, it was clear that I could not lay my boot on the counter and say "with all my sole;" nor could I paraphrase Dibdin's Jack Tar, when he spoke of the dancer who "so daintily handled her feet." The little woman, however, speedily removed my first perplexity, though only to plunge me into another.

"Will you," said she, "please to double up your fist and lay it on the counter?"

I replied that I did not want gloves, but socks.

"And I want to take your measure," she replied.

"But" I urged, "it is the measure of my foot that you require."

"Yes," she replied, "and I can get it equally as well from your hand. Once round your clenched fist at the knuckles is the length of your foot."

And she took the measure of my fist, and I took the socks on the faith of the damsel's representation; and, in due course, I found that it was quite right, and fitted me to a nicety.—Curiosities of Shopping.

☞ Here is a sermon short enough to satisfy any one. The most busy mortal in this most busy age can find time to read it. But to fathom its significance will require more time and profound thought than falls to the lot of many. The clergy cost the United States $12,000,000, annually; the criminals, $40,000,000; the lawyers, $70,000,000; intoxicating beverages to satisfy and to increase depraved appetites, $600,000,000.

—Dutchman — "Goot morrer, Pat; how you tuz?" Irishman—"The top o' the morning till ye, Smit; d'ye think we'll get rain the day?" Dutchman—"Kess no; ye never hash mooch rain in der dry dime." Irishman—"Faith, an' ye'r right there, Smit, an' thin whiney-er it gits in the wey o' rainin, the divil a bit o' dhry wither will we git as long as the wet spell howlds."

—The New York World has the following stunning rigmarole: "John Quincy Adams' name goes back into and is the brightest jewel of the past. His nomination for Governor controls and electrifies the present. His farseeing, living principles take hold and rule the future."

—A learned doctor, referring to tight-lacing, avers that it is public benefit, inasmuch as it kills all the foolish girls and leaves all the wise ones to grow up to be women.

—Knox, the celebrated New York hatter, is now a millionaire, and his success in life may be fairly laid to the result of peculiar and judicious advertising.

—Why are girls in Missouri always sweet? Because they are Mo. lasses.

FOREIGN SCRAPS.—Kenelin Digby and two other well-known Englishmen have started for the opening of the Suez canal, on an elegant little steam launch of about four tons burden, and expect to traverse 3000 miles on the great rivers of Europe.

An Englishwoman has just been sent to jail for refusing to have her child vaccinated, claiming that the practice is dangerous, and breeds ill health faster than the much dreaded disease itself.

The English gentleman who was nearly killed by a mob in an obscure Spanish town, because they suspected him of being "one of those child stealers who use the fat of children to grease the telegraph with," has at last been released from the prison into which he was thrust, and is in London.

—"Cosmetic patches" of black court-plaster are now worn on different parts of the face by some fashionable women, for the purpose—not of concealing pimples, but of setting off by contrast, the comparative whiteness of an otherwise tawny complexion. We suggest that the same persons might complete the absurdity by attaching an inflated bladder to the outside of the head, by way of proving to the public that some things are even more empty than Flora McFlimsy's cranium.—Chicago Adv.

Such black patches (says Uncle Toby) were worn as beauty spots on the faces of young ladies, sixty years ago; and they were as ornamental then, on the face of the grandmother, as they are now on that of the granddaughter.—That dab about the bladder is not in good taste. The Chignon is ornament enough in that line: generally a little too much, we think. False hair, wigs, &c., are all very well for the bald heads,—but for others, the less falsehood the better.

BAD SMELLS.—Drains, cess-pools, vaults, and the like, need looking after daily. Deodorizers should be freely used. The best we know is the following:

"Green copperas dissolved in water will effectually concentrate and destroy the foulest smells, and if placed under a bed in hospitals and sick rooms, will render the atmosphere free and pure. For butchers' stalls, fish markets, sinks, and wherever there are offensive, putrid gases, dissolved copperas sprinkled about will in a day or two purify the atmosphere, and an application once a week will keep it sweet and healthy."

—The "coaches" of the English raceboats are said to be like the knights of old, because they are crews aiders.

—Since short dresses have come into fashion, the ladies' motto has been 'bootee and beauty.'—N. Y. Mail.

—Mr. W. E. S. Whitman, of Gardiner, Me., has purchased the Bath Times.

—When teetotalers talk about drunkenness, they are apt to indulge in bitter rail.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with unbounded success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Sets extant. Several hundred persons, including patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is now using Pink Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work in the shortest time, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due when the work is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. SAD CASE.—It is with mournful pleasure that I bear witness to the virtues of Bro. James S. Selma, of the Alabama Press, and record his untimely fate. Coming from the sunny South, our cold north winds so chilled him that he gained five inches in shortness in three days; he was shocked by the odors from the slaughter-houses on South Road and Richards Avenue, pretty nearly poisoned by the smell from the Creek cesspool, and utterly demoralized by the fearful hogo from the breweries. Finding no refuge in town, he joined the expedition under Admiral J. C. Butler, and went cruising for fish-chowder, in the flagship Appledore.

On the outward passage, Bro. S. was much annoyed by the ocean, and cast contempt and insult upon the same,—after which he felt better. On arriving at the place where the fish-chowder was found, he attacked and vanquished a large assortment of it, afterwards drinking three bottles of pop beer,—which occasioned this obituary; for the chowder, floating on top of the beer, was so dashed about by the motion of the steamer on her return as to break many large holes out through his sides, shatter all of his ribs, and unhitch every joint of his spinal column.

He was a young man of energy and ability, and of most gorgeous moral qualities; he could repeat nearly the whole of the Ten Commandments, (with a little occasional transposition,) and so much did he regard them that it is said that when he was a boy, he would accept nothing else for a Sunday School lesson for more than two years; and he was the worst billiard player in the world,—or that ever was, or will be. He enjoyed a good time; and, in view of what has happened, it is very fortunate that he has for some years been living in a hot climate,—the change will be less violent than it would have been had he always resided at the North. Choked with grief, I stop.

PARKHA.

P. S. Since the above was written, Bro. S. has been in to state that there are several mistakes in it, and that the chowder did not leave his custody thro' holes in his sides. I am happy to be undeceived. P.

"Cannot you fancy the ancient editor of the Hartford Courant of a hundred years ago, in round Ben Franklin spectacles, wig and cue, lace cuffs, coat-pocket flaps like cellar doors, long waistcoat, knee breeches, stockings, low quarter shoes with buckles on them like a window sash, a man gravely culling 'news' three weeks old and 'per latest advices' about Col. Bouquet's forces having crossed the river at Pittsburg fully thirty days gone by; and thrilling rumors of war from Madrid, London Versailles, Stockholm and the Hague, with the mildews of four awful months on them; and venerable canards a hundred days from Naples, telling how 'between three and four hundred thousand citizens had lately died of plague in that little kingdom'—a man exulting over his little old sensation despatches and late dates, and never, strangely enough, never having a vision of 1869 flash thro' his complacent brain with its revelations of telegraphs and locomotives; I say, can't you fancy this old muff sitting at his desk and getting off a bit of sarcasm, and holding it up and cocking his eye at it, and reading it again, and chuckling to himself, and reading it again, and calling in the devil and inflicting it on him, and then sending it to the printers perfectly satisfied that it is the best and boldest and the awfulest crusher that ever thundered from the press—can't you? I don't wish to be too hard on him lest I meet his musty old ghost prowling about his ancient haunts in Hartford here, some night. Where be his comrades? Whither went he to take his ale? Who was he anyhow?"

—A correspondent of the New York Herald wants the truth of the Byron scandal to be settled by summoning the spirits of both Lord and Lady Byron from the the "summer land," and procuring their testimony.

—At a stable near St. Louis there is a little pony of the Shetland breed, three weeks old and weighing 16 1-2 pounds. The Lilliputian animal is only twenty inches high, and jumps through a fence like a cat. It is a great pet in the neighborhood.

—Mrs. Patrick Haley and one of her children were burned to death, Monday night, in Chicago, and another of her children seriously injured, by the explosion of a kerosene can, the contents of which her husband was pouring on the fire to make it burn.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FUSEL DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medicine of extraordinary value, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the receipt of Pain Killer which I had sent me to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We reported at once to the Pain Killer manufacturers and directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it had been prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. S. Ford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most efficacious to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

Benj. Brown of Stapleton, N. Y., a Harvard graduate, offers to give $5000 towards defraying the expenses of the Oxford crew, if they will row the Harvards on the Hudson or Charles river the coming Autumn.

Joseph Boynton, a wealthy citizen of Watertown, Mass., has been sentenced to the House of Correction for 60 days for committing an assault on a young lawyer of Brighton, who had sued him in behalf of a client. Boynton kicked the young man out of his house after inviting him in, and the kick cost him $200, besides the imprisonment.

Messrs. Loring, Fay and Blaikie of the Harvard Club, Mr. Elliott their boat-builder and Mr. Ticknor sailed for New York, on Wednesday.

The brewery of Kerschoff & Co., at Melrose, Westchester County, New York, together with one hundred thousand dollars' worth of lager, was seized, Tuesday, for violation of the revenue laws.

The freight depot of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, at Quincy, was burned on Monday night. Several cars and a large quantity of freight were also burned. The loss will amount to $100,000.

The loss by the fire at Cape May, Tuesday, is estimated at a quarter of a millions dollars.

The Turkish troops have been concentrated in the vicinity of Constantinople for review, in honor of the Empress Eugenie.

The Hyde Park, Pa., coal miners have voted, 441 to 221, to resume work.

Rains continue in Oregon.

Indian difficulties still continue in New Mexico. Trains are frequently attacked and much stock is being run off.—Ditto in old Mexico.

The McKay & Aldus Machine Shops and tools, at East Boston, were sold at auction on Wednesday for $77,000. The proprietors of the Atlantic works are the purchasers.

THE BYRON SCANDAL.—The Nation says:—

We were told the main facts of this history something more than ten years ago, and this was how it was told to us; At whatever time the incestuous connection between Byron and his sister may have begun, Lady Byron knew nothing of it, as we heard the story, until after the birth of her child. Some time after that event, probably about the beginning of January, 1816, Byron told her of the intrigue, saying that he had never loved any other woman than the partner of his guilt. She naturally supposed it to be a delusion of insanity; and it was under this impression that she consulted Dr. Baillie about him, which is one of his main charges against her in his letters and in Don Juan. It was while under this belief that she wrote the playful letter to Byron, after leaving him, which is also one of the counts in the indictment against her. After reaching Kirby Mallory, her father's house, she had certain proofs of what her husband had told her, from which time she left him forever.

Now, we do not affirm that this version of that story is absolutely authentic. We tell it as it was told to us; but most certainly it is inherently more probable than the one given by Mrs. Stowe. It is a key to the whole mystery, and the solution is greatly honorable to Lady Byron. It accounts for her silence as to the cause of the separation. Her lips were sealed as long as Mrs. Leigh lived. It accounts for her consulation with Dr. Baillie, and for her letter after leaving Byron, and before knowing that a separation was inevitable. It accounts, too, for Dr. Lushington's statements confirming her own saying that "a reconciliation was impossible," and that "if such an idea should be entertained he could not, professionally or otherwise, take any part towards effecting it."

Mrs. Stowe has found a bold champion in the brilliant and eccentric John Neal of Portland, who has, it is said, facts in his possession to corroborate her statements. Mr. Neal was present at Lord Byron's funeral and acquainted with his friends.

☞ Quoggs deeply sympathizes with the Harvards because he wished them victory and they got defeat. Quoggs, however, is of a philosophical turn of mind and thinks it would have been as he wished had it not been otherwise.

Margaret Clancy of Boscawen was brought before Justice Fletcher charged with being a common drunkard, plead not guilty, but was sent to the county jail for thirty days and ordered to pay her costs.

John Foss of Fisherville was brought before the Court on four complaints, viz: keeping a grogshop open on Sunday, selling liquor to Joseph Baker, also to George Cushing, and for being a common liquor seller. He was found guilty on all the complaints, and was ordered to pay costs and fines amounting to $334.12, which he did forthwith. He was sentenced to jail for thirty days, but the mittimus was stayed on condition that he would quit the traffic.

At East Wilton, a horse standing in front of the Whiting House ran away and cleared himself from his wagon. In passing the depot he frightened one of the six-horse teams loading with cotton for Peterborough, just missed a child at the crossing, and was finally brought up after this furious rig. The cotton team started on a run, but one of the pole-horses became entangled in the harness, and was quite severely injured by being thrown under the wagon and dragged some distance. One of the teamsters was knocked down and the pole of the wagon was broken. Fortunately no person was seriously hurt.

Major Osborn of the New Haven Register, now among the White Mountains, gives quite a notion of the steep grade of the pony road up Mount Washington in this anecdote:—"A Hartford friend, whose humor it would be difficult to Hyde (A. P.) under any circumstances, was coming down the declivity with every indication that he was about to slide over the horse's neck. Looking back, the guide hailed him, 'All right up there, Mr. H?' 'Perhaps so,' was the reply; it all depends upon the tenacity of the animal's tail; if that wavers an inch, I'm over the precipice!"

☞ The Jackson Whig states that a colored man named Henry Exam was murdered last week by two men named James Young and Henry Longmires. Exam had been speaking at a political meeting, and on his return the murderers rode up to the wagon in which he was riding with some others, and knocked his hat off, and on his getting down to recover it he was shot and killed. The murderers were arrested, but through the negligence of the coroner and sheriff they subsequently escaped.

EXETER, Aug. 31.

Mr. Gardner Sleeper, of Fremont, while harnessing a pair of horses to go to the camp meeting at Epping, one day last week, was kicked on the abdomen by one of them; but feeling no serious inconvenience at the time, went to the meeting as though nothing had happened. On arriving at the camp ground, however, he was scarcely able to walk, and was obliged to return to his home. An examination revealed the fact that some of his intestines were broken. Everything possible was done for him, but mortification ensued, and he died early on Sunday morning.

Mr. Sleeper was by occupation a farmer, and dealt extensively in wood lumber. He was a stirring, energetic man, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. His funeral occurred yesterday, and was very largely attended.

I see you have dropped from your list of Fairs that of the Exeter Horticultural Society, Sept. 23 (evening) and 24. It was thought when it was decided by the Rockingham County Society to hold a Fair in this town, that the two would unite, as they did in 1867, and such an arrangement was considered; but I learn that no arrangement can be made satisfactory to both societies,—so each will "paddle its own canoe."

The Exeter Horticultural Society offer premiums amounting to $75 or $80, exclusively for a hall show. I learn from the officers of the Rockingham Society, that their list of premiums will amount to about $1500. Several purses will be offered for trotting horses owned in the County, and one of $150, open for all horses.

Apropos of horses, I am informed that Nath'l Churchill, Esq., of this town has a Fearnaught colt, 15 months old, for which he has recently refused $1000.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, not only for family sewing, but for all the stitching I could get to do, from the heaviest beaver to the finest muslin. In six months I made alone on the machine twenty-five coats, seven vests, ten pair of pants, twenty-four shirts, and a number of cloaks, etc.

North East, Pa. MISS L. HARRIS.

The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

New York, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's "Sambuci Wine," and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to important wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which grine and rack the system. "Parsons' Purgative Pills" are free from all impure matter, and are mild and healthgiving in their operation.

At this season of the year, cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family.

A gentleman writing from the far west says: "I must have Renne's Pain-killing Magic Oil in the house. It is the best family medicine for curing all kinds of pain I have found, and goes what it will I must have it." And who blames the man? Do you use it, reader?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through those natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the digestive organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants,—such as an unpleasant breath, a yellow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a narcotic, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It invigorates the activity and energy of the liver, and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy posses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is a harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the younger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.

—Incoherent sores for which the regular pharmacopœia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable ingredients have a wonderful effect upon the diseased flesh and completely extirpate the virus which feeds the ulcer or sore. As a morbid condition of the whole system is generally a concomitant of discharging ulcers, an occasional dose of Holloway's Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammond, N. Y.

"In 1833 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 135 pounds up to 192 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1868.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two vegetal extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the medicinal properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous cathartic is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the delicate fairer sex are subject, this Lozenge is infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As a sanitarium specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. o25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a strong cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, receiving a substance sanitized from the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which we prefer not to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and to make into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they change the whole digestive system, and mixing up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

When a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decay. In such cases what food can be digested, absorbed only the lungs that are wasting, but its the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. Dr. C. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

☞ Mr. E. A. Joy announces a Juvenile Singing School to commence next Wednesday afternoon. The course is to consist of 12 lessons for $1, which is cheap enough for the valuable and much-needed instruction gained. Mr. Joy's former success in teaching is recommendation sufficient for the future, and the young people who become his pupils will learn much from their genial teacher, and have considerable amusement. By all means let the little folks learn to sing.

☞ The Salem Templar Masons, with the Germania Band, arrived in town Wednesday afternoon, and proceeded to camp at the Sagamore House. They mape a fine appearance, in the rich and elegant uniform of the Sir Knights, as they marched through the streets, to the inspiriting and almost unceasing music for which the Germanians are famous; and at the Baptist Church they took carriages for Frost's Point, where they will remain two days.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN meet this evening, and we trust they will take action on the various nuisance cases reported to them publicly and privately. If there are any of them who hesitate to take active measures to abate the nuisance at the Creek, we would recommend them to camp out within a half mile of the abominable spot for twenty-four hours.

Decision was reserved.

A RHYMING WRETCH thus bursts forth into verse;—

"Tis midnight, and the setting sun
Is rising in the wide, wide west;
The rapid rivers slowly run,
The frog is in his downy nest;
The pensive goat and sportive cow,
Hilarious hop from bough to bough.

And having run out of ideas, changes the subjectly slightly and invites criticism from Sorosis this way:—

Woman to woman seldom shows
The inmost thoughts her spirit heaves;
But sits she like some desert rose,
And maketh many gowns with sleeves.
Her spirit like a vast balloon
Rises triumphant o'er this sphere,
And dashing wildly at the moon
Affects that 'are and quits this 'ere?

TO BREAK A HORSE OF PULLING AT THE HALTER.—Procure a small rope, (about three-fourth inch is best, although a strong bed-cord will answer,) put the middle of the rope under the horse's tail, as one would the crupper, cross the ropes on the back, bring the ends forward and tie so as to form the lower part of a breast collar. To hitch, put the halter-strap down through the ring, and tie to the rope collar.—Rural New Yorker.

—While skilled workmen in most of the handicrafts are getting good wages and plenty of work this summer, thousands of clerks and book-keepers have lost their situations. Dull times come, and they are shoved off, as their places can be filled at short notice from the multitudes who are ever greedy to get a precarious situation behind a counter. The most pitiable object to be found, when hard times come, is the man who knows how to do nothing for self-support but sell goods—a fact which young men who feel above "learning a trade" should remember.

Nor is it much better with employers than employees. A New York merchant of thirty years' experience says that he can count up only four houses which have run the gauntlet of that 30 years without failure! The notion that there is any easier and surer way of making an honest living than in the sweat of the face is a great humbug, and it is a pity that young men so often allow themselves to be fooled by it.—Advance.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT finds considerable difficulty at present in procuring seamen for the government vessels. Some endeavor to account for the fact by stating that there is a general impression among seamen that there is a great deal of cruelty, which never comes to light in the newspapers, practiced on our vessels on distant cruises and stations.—Boston Herald.

The seamen are the ones most likely to know whether these reports are true, as their impressions certainly are derived from experience. If there is a growing inclination to abuse the seamen, it is high time that examples be made of those found guilty of cruelty. Congressional interference will be necessary if the frequent cases of oppression reported are found to be true.

—A double-headed locomotive of an improved design and great power, has been some months in process of building at Wm. Mason's locomotive manufactory, Taunton, for the Pacific Railroad. It resembles two engines connected together as one, which will travel either way, obviating the necessity of turntables. It has six pair of 3 foot 9 inch wheels, three at each end and each group driven by a pair of fifteen inch cylinders, 24 inch stroke, combining a power of 25,700 pounds. The whole weighs 54 tons, with tanks holding 3000 gallons of water, and carries 2 1-2 tons of coal.

—The present production of the White Pine mine is about $86,000 a week, and for the whole district about $100,000 a week. In a month or two the production will be increased to the rate of six millions a year, and the yield for 1870, it is confidently believed, will reach ten million dollars.

—A young German has lost his eyesight by an attempt to win a bet to swim a certain length of time on his back in the Schelt with his spectacles on. A hot sun acted on the spectacles as on a magnifying glass.

—Blackberries are three cents a quart in interior Pennsylvania, and so plenty that bushels rot on the bushes.

☞ During the Masonic Camp at the Sagamore House, Omnibusses and Passenger Wagons will run from Portsmouth to Frost's Point each hour during the day; and for the last trip, will leave the Sagamore at the close of the Promenade Concert by the Germania Band, Wednesday and Thursday Evenings. Fare only 25 cts. each way. Passengers taken and left at Market or Haymarket Squares.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power; these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1865, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap seal and my seal, printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 s5. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust and the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

CHAMPAGNE CHARLIE. — His Royal Highness Prince Champagne Charlie has an enormous fortune for an income, but Parliament is to be asked to pay some of his travelling expenses. He also married a lovely Danish Princess a few years ago, and all the poets sang in her honor like all the wedding chimes pealing together; but it is now whispered that "a lady of title, who recently disgraced her family, owes her ruin to her future king." That he is fond of cider-cellars, and the songs that are sung there, and the people that congregate there, is also subject of common rumor. That he is mentally a dull young man, of whom no generous word or action has ever been made public, is not denied. He seems to show all the qualities that are most to be deplored in the worst of his ancestors; and a more humiliating family for a royal family than the German kings of England it would be hard to find.

There are many private gentlemen who already avoid the Prince as much as they can. It it unpleasant to have to deal with a man who insists on playing cards for money, carefully takes all he wins, and never pays a shilling he loses. This is no meaner than his great-uncle Adonis, Prince Regent; but now all the glamour is gone. The wig is no longer a halo, but a wig. When you believe in a Pope it is very well to bear of the Holy Father that he commits a crime as a man, and not as the Pope. But when you believe in a Pope no longer, a cruel and treacherous pontiff is merely a bad man. Prince Champagne Charlie's grandfather, the dull old George, was as little royal perhaps as Charlie; but people believed in royalty then, and they do not believe in it now.

While the poverty and suffering of England increase so rapidly that they leave the strongest and most painful impression of all upon the minds of strangers; while the problem of crime becomes more pressing every day, and there is a general impression that the country is moving before the breath of an undeclared revolution; while the House of Lords has but to take an attitude of opposition to the popular will to hear the universal growl of popular displeasure, and the frank declaration that it exists only by popular sufferance, it is not to be supposed that the follies of a Prince Champagne Charlie will be tolerated beyond a certain point. If the House of Lords, now much more does the throne, survive only by popular permission? And in England the question has very nearly become one of economy merely. Is a permanent executive preferable? Is the pageant of royalty desirable, or even longer practicable, for such an executive?

Champagne Charlie had better be satisfied with a salary of seven or eight hundred thousand dollars a year for doing nothing in the most offensive manner. There were Englishmen living in America who asked, "Why should we be taxed without representation?" and there are Englishmen living in England who ask, "What do we gain by paying such enormous sums to such a Champagne Prince Charlie?"—Harper's Magazine for September.

A SPEECH ON WINE.—Hon. Charles L. Woodbury was President of the Massachusetts Democratic State Convention. In his opening speech he said:—

You are responsible to God for your own conduct in this world. It is on your self-government that you are to be judged, and not on anybody's else. Can the State Temperance Alliance absolve you from your liability for your own individual conduct? Can the State Temperance Alliance save you if you commit a sin against God by following their lead? ("No.") Well, if they cannot do it, then where is the divine right by which they claim to regulate your conduct in that one thing which is a matter of private judgement? (Applause.) In their Convention at Boston they proclaimed some of the great axioms on which they had founded their power, and one of them said that they had driven wine from the churches of Massachusetts.

Gentlemen, I beg to differ from that statement. So far as my humble knowledge of the churches of Massachusetts goes, they have not driven wine from the churches; but if they have, they have not driven from the great book of Christ's revelation the injunction of St. Paul: "Let no man judge you in what you shall eat or what you shall drink." (Tremendous applause.) They have not driven from the Holy Evangelists the narrative of the Last Supper, when Christ took the cup and gave it to his disciples, saying: "I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine until I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom." (Renewed applause.) They may pile statute upon statute, until the statutes of Massachusetts reach higher than the dome that is over the State House, but they cannot erase from my heart nor from your hearts the fact that the Apostle Paul told us, and tells us to day, speaking in that same living inspiration in which he spoke 1800 years ago: "Let no man judge you in what you shall eat or what you shall drink." (Applause.)

—A curious scene was lately witnessed in Paris. A girl was observed on the street with a wooden leg under her arm, while a gentleman was calling to her from a window on the other side of the street, gesticulating fiercely and demanding her return. To the large crowd which the scene attracted, the girl made explanation that she was washerwoman to the gentleman, that he would not pay her, that she visited his lodgings to demand her money, and that on his refusal she had taken possession of his wooden leg purposing not to return it until she received her money.

TEMPERANCE — a foe to poverty.— About thirty years ago a few citizens of New Braintree, in Massachusetts, met together and resolved that the best interests of the town required a tavern in which spirituous liquors should not be sold, as the fact was patent to all that too many of the young men in the place would congregate at the "village inn" and were forming habits of social drinking. After talking over the importance of the matter, and satisfying themselves that the enterprise they proposed would not prove a paying one, they subscribed some $7,000, built a hotel, furnished it, and engaged a landlord to run it free of rent. Soon after this reform, the people of the town came to the conclusion that it was an unprofitable business to farm out the poor of the town, as had long been the practice, to the lowest bidder; and at a town meeting they voted to buy a poorhouse farm, and put the poor at work. This was also carried into effect. Twenty-five years have passed away, and going to that quiet, thrifty town not long ago, the stage driver said to us, on passing the "poorhouse farm," "That is a funny place." "Why so?" we asked. "Because, it is a poorhouse farm, and not a pauper in it. And I suppose the reason is, some years ago a temperance tavern was started here—no liquors have been sold, and there is no drinking, nor drunkenness, and not a pauper in the town."—Post.

—It is to be hoped that the friends of the Harvard crew will behave with as much discretion as they have done. The effort made to explain why they were defeated and how they could have won, is mere idle talk. They were whipped fairly and squarely, and there should be an end of it.—Boston Journal.

The term whipped is misapplied here, as it very often is, in the newspapers and in low conversation. The Boat Race was, or should have been, a friendly competition between two boat's crews of scholars; and the word whipped is as much out of the way there, as it would be in the case of two classes of school boys, where one spells better than the other. But then, in almost all cases, rivals or competitors are apt, we perceive, to become enemies, or act and speak as if they were so.

A TOUCHING WAR INCIDENT—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, at his Friday evening prayer meeting, related the following:

"Not long since I found myself at Cincinnati, with a little spare time, and I thought I would improve it by visiting some of the Southern battle fields and burial places. I first proceeded to Nashville. On going out to the Soldiers' Cemetery, I observed a man planting a flower over a grave. I approached him and asked him if his son was buried there. "No," was the response. 'A son-in-law?' 'No.' 'A brother?' "No." 'A relative.' "No.,' 'Whose memory, then, do you cherish?' I ventured to ask. After delaying a moment, and putting down a small board which he had in his hand, he replied: 'Well, I will tell you. When the war broke out I lived in Illinois. I wanted to enlist, but I was poor, and had a large family of children depending on me for their support. Finally, as the war continued, I was drafted. No draft money was given me: I was unable to procure a substitute, and made up my mind to go. After I had got everything in readiness and was just leaving to report for duty at the conscript bank, a young man whom I had known came to me and said: 'You have a big family whom your wife cannot support while you are gone; I will go for you.' In the battle of Chickamauga the poor fellow was dangerously wounded. Owing to Bragg's offensive demonstrations on Chattanooga, he along with others, was taken back to the hospital at Nashville. After a lingering illness he died and was buried here. Ever since hearing of his death I have been desirous of coming to Nashville and seeing that his remains were properly buried. Having saved sufficient funds I came on here yesterday, and have to-day found the poor fellow's grave.' On completing his story the man took up the small board and inserted it at the foot of the grave. Turning to look at it, I saw this simple inscription, and nothing more: 'He died for me.'

UNDER DRAINAGE. — The months of July and August are most commonly dry. On most New England farms there are swales and low-lands that suffer from an excess of water at most seasons of the year, though, as a general rule, they consist of the best soil on the farm. It appears to us that although a great deal has been done to reclaim these soils, very much more could be done to advantage and profit. We believe the testimony of those who have experimented in reclaiming low-lands is almost if not quite uniform, that it pays better than any other work on the farm. If this is the case, if one man by judicious management has made it pay, why may not all who own this kind of land?

It must be borne in mind that in running a ditch through such land, the owner kills two or three birds with one stone. He takes off the superfluous water which only injures his land, and makes it comparatively unproductive, and in doing this he throws out a great mass of rich manurial substances which are valuable as an absorbent in the yard or the stable, or which may after a few months of weathering be applied directly to the uplands with very great and manifest advantage. Either of these objects is sufficient in itself to pay for the labor bestowed, especially as this labor comes at a comparatively leisure season of the year.

If every farmer would take hold and drain his low lands, he would not only increase the productive area of his farm, but add vastly to the aggregate products of the State. Nor is the increased healthfulness of a region of welldrained land to be left out of the account. Lands covered with water for a considerable part of the year are proverbially malarious and unhealthful for those who dwell in their vicinity. Probably, if the truth were known, a large proportion of the fevers which prevail in the spring or the fall are due directly or indirectly to the exhalations or evaporations constantly going on from low marshy land and swamps. These vapors extend to greater distances than people suppose, and infect the atmosphere to a much greater extent than most people imagine.

We hope the simple allusion to this important subject will induce some to go ahead in the right direction. There is plenty of room for improvement on all our farms, but the reclaiming of low and wet lands seems to offer greater inducements to effort than any other. If any one doubts as to the reality of profits, we would refer him to many statements of practical men who have tried it, and who are ready to testify to the success they have met with.—Ploughman.

TOADS.—Don't kill the toads. They are among the very best friends of the gardener. They are the uncompromising foes of insects and worms, and aid materially in keeping these pests in check. Protect them, carry them into the garden, and never drive then out or injure them.

—Revenue Cutters—men who skirk their revenue tax.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by disease, or the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when you find it foul, and your health will follow. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
A SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with
Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Tedford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer; clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The News.

The public debt on the first of September was $2,475,962,501 50, which is a decrease for the month last past of $5,604,334. 79, and for the six months past $49,500,750 51. Amount in the Treasury, $150,691,368.81.

Work has been resumed in the Wyoming coal mines, in Pennsylvania, and it is believed that no more strikes will occur for a long time.

An extensive vein of bituminous coal was discovered about twenty-five miles from Buffalo, on Tuesday last.

General Fairchild has been renominated for Governor of Wisconsin by the Republicans.

A desperate fight has taken place between a squad of United States troops and a band of outlaws, headed by one Jack Helm, near San Patricio, Texas. The soldiers endeavored to arrest the desparadoes, who resisted, and a bloody encounter ensued, in which four of the outlaws and one soldier were killed and several on both sides wounded.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y. had a frost and ice Wednesday morning.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. J. N. Rand, of Warner, writes that from one Early Rose tuber, weighing less than two ounces, he has raised thirty-five pounds of potatoes. One of them weighed a pound and a half, and several weighed upwards of a pound. They were grown in six hills, and the yield was at the rate of four hundred and nineteen bushels per acre. There was no manure of any kind put in the hills, and only a slight dressing of horse stable manure plowed in.

Two citizens of Wolfeborough, named Champion and Parrs, laid a wager on the university boat race, the losing man to wheel a bushel of apples to Farmington, a distance of twenty miles, as a present to Postmaster Scruton. Mr. Champion, who patriotically backed the Harvards, will start on the trip some leisure day.

The apple crop throughout the State will be a total failure.

The officers of the State militia met at Concord, Friday, and resolved to bear all the expense of sustaining the volunteer force of the State, rather than accept the meagre and utterly inadequate allowance which the last legislature fixed as the limit of the military expense. The officers say "that it is the spirit of the measure, and not the dollars and cents involved, to which we object," and promise their best endeavors to sustain the organizations which have been a credit and an honor to the State.

Charles Leslie Miller, aged 15, died at Alton Aug. 10, after long and painful suffering, occasioned by an enlargement of the heart; he suffered greatly for two years, and the heart which would in a healthy state weigh about 13 ounces, weighed 40 ounces at his death. He was the son of Mark C. Miller, a volunteer, who died during the war.

SLAVE MARRIAGES.—A paragraph has been going the rounds of the Northern papers, to the effect that a colored couple, who had been slaves, after living together as man and wife for twenty-seven years, have, much to their delight, had the marriage ceremony performed.

We have a nicely printed and edited exchange from Darlington, S. C., called the Southerner, which explains thus:

We would say for the information of our Northern friends, that there was nothing to prevent this couple doing this even when in a state of slavery. That they did not have this ceremony performed sooner was their own fault, and not the fault of their master.

Many of the Southern slaves were regularly married by a clergyman, either white or black. * * * In Scotland, at one time, the mere consent of parties was deemed sufficiently binding, —so it was among the slaves of the South. Some of these marriages, tho' lacking form, lasted for life.

There are many very wrong ideas prevalent regarding the institution of slavery, and this is one, that the slave was not allowed the privilege of having a marriage ceremony. This was a right of which no attempt was made to deprive him; and it was his own choice, when he dispensed with clerical assistance or the magistrate's in entering on the married state.

Among the many wrong ideas of slavery, we never heard any complaint that the slaves had no Marriage Ceremony—but only that it was mere ceremony, as the husband and wife could be separated, by the sale or gift of one or both, by the master or mistress, or their heirs or creditors. No doubt many of the unions were for life—but the difficulty was, simply, that the slave did not own himself nor his wife.

Illegal Husbandry—Thrashing a wife.

A RACE FOR LIFE ON A RAILROAD.—To make it an intelligible matter to the reader, let me say that the Buffalo, Corry & Pittsburg Road intersects the Lake Shore Road at this place. The station at the junction is called Brocton. Now let it be understood that from this point to Mayville, at the head of the Chautauqua Lake, a distance of only about ten miles, a train is carried over an elevation of 700 feet. From the station to the summit the grade is about 80 feet to the mile, with curves which increase the distance by four miles. It is over this road that the immense quantities of petroleum are brought.

On Tuesday evening about nine o'clock, a train consisting of six oil cars and two passenger cars reached the summit on its way to the junction. Here, by some cause as yet unexplained, one of the oil tanks took fire. The passenger cars were at once detached and the brakes stopped them. Next the oil cars were cut off, and the locomotive, tender and box car containing two valuable horses and two men passed down the road, the engineer supposing that the brakemen on the oil cars would arrest the course of those, but what was his horror on looking back, to see the six cars in pursuit of him down the grade, enveloped in flames. They not only pursued but overtook him, striking the box car with inconceivable force, knocking the horse and men flat upon the floor, and yet almost miraculously not throwing the engine from the track.

It was now with the engineer a race for life, and he gave the engine every ounce of steam. Looking south from the place of my residence at that juncture, one of the most magnificent spectacles was witnessed that a man sees in a lifetime. A sheet of intensely bright flame, sixty feet high, was seen coming down that southern slope, apparently with the speed of a hurricane (eighty miles an hour), for pursued and pursuer flew over the course, or rather down it and around the curves, at the rate of seventy miles an hour, as the engineer declares, and as everybody can believe who witnessed the spectacle. The heavens were illumated, and the landscape was lit up as by the noonday light. Onward and downward flew the engine, and behind it flew and thundered the huge fiery demon.

Twice its prodigious weight was driven against the fugitive, as if instinct with a purpose to drive it from the track. It seemed as if to the heroic engineer and fireman there was a perfect environment of peril. The speed of the engine was such that it ceased to pump; then again, the Cincinnati express was due at the junction at this time. The engineer of the oil train whistled "open switch," and shaking hands with the fireman, they bade each other farewell, knowing that their lives depended on the opening of the Lake Shore switch by their friends below, and this was to imperil the express train coming down the west with its living human freight.

The engineer on this train saw the summit, and supposing he could clear the junction before the flaming terror reached it he, too, put his engine to the utmost speed on a level grade. A mile short of the junction he saw that the effort was a vain one, for the flying conflagration had rushed out upon the Lake Shore track and was roaring onward in the direction of Dunkirk. He checked the onward course of his own train to a stand still. It did not proceed until three o'clock in the morning.

The case took in another danger, and it was imminent. A heavy freight train was coming up the Lake Shore Road. All I will say of the escape of this is that it did escape to the side track, and only escaped by the last minute of possibility.

Running on to a safe distance from the depot the engineer of the oil train detached his engine and left the six cars to consume. He says his situation was fully realized by him. He expected to lose his life. At every moment he expected the engine to leave the track. He saw he was going at a perilous rate of speed, but there was no help for it. The demon was behind him, and he declares that it looked like a demon. With that fondness or real affection for his engine, which these men display, he said: "I thought everything of my engine, and was determined to stay by it to the last." The fireman made one attempt to escape by jumping from the tender, but the engineer restrained him.

Altogether the occurrence was a remarkable one, and in part remarkable for this, that no lives were lost. The brakemen on the oil cars had gone back to the passenger cars, when the oil cars started. It was well they did. Unless those rear cars had been detached and stopped, their inmates, would have been burned to death.—Grand Rapids Eagle.

IN TROUBLE.—A Catholic Priest giving his name as Father Fitzmyers got very drunk Tuesday night and visited a house of ill-fame on Utica street, Boston, where he was relieved of his watch and put out of the house. He was found in the street by the police by whom he was taken to the lockup. He was released next morning without any further punishment than he already received.

☞ The Boston Daily Tribune is a new paper, commenced Sept. 1; published in Boston by James M. Usher, devoted to Temperance and General News; furnished to subscribers at 50 cents per month; and sold by the newsdealers at 2 cents per copy. Mr. Batchelder has it for sale in this city.

☞ The citizens of Barrington have bought a large tract of land, and are laying out the grounds (including a trotting track) for a Park, in which to hold a Town Fair this Fall.

STILL THE GREAT HERO AMONG THE PEOPLE — General Grant. This has been made manifest in his popular receptions at every point in all his late excursions. As in Pennsylvania, for instance, so en route to the White Mountains of New Hampshire, at every stopping place the people have turned out en masse to welcome the President with cheers, salutes and the ringing of bells. The faith of the people in General Grant is unshaken, nothwithstanding the croakings of disappointed politicians.—N. Y. Herald.

☞ Mark Twain's editorial labors on the Buffalo Express are seen in the column headed "People and Things." Here is one of the best paragraphs in a recent issue of the paper:

John Wagner, the oldest man in Buffalo—one hundred and four years—recently walked a mile and a half in two weeks. He is as cheerful and bright as any of these other old men that charge around so in the newspapers, and is in every way as remarkable. Last November he walked five blocks in a rain storm without any shelter but an umbrella, and cast his vote for Grant, remarking that he had voted for forty-seven Presidents—which was a lie. His "second crop of rich brown hair" arrived from New York yesterday, and he has a new set of teeth coming—from Philadelphia. He is to be married next week to a girl one hundred and two years old, who still takes in washing. They have been engaged eighty years, but their parents persistently refused their consent until three days ago.

HOW TO GET SLEEP.—This is, to many persons, a matter of high importance. Nervous persons who are troubled with wakefulness and excitability usually have a strong tendency of blood to the brain, with cold extremities. The pressure of blood on the brain keeps it in a stimulated or wakeful state, and the pulsations in the head are often painful.

Let them rise and chafe the body and extremities with a towel or brush, or rub smartly with the hand to promote circulation and withdraw the excessive amount of blood from the brain, and they will fall asleep in a few moments. A cold bath, or a sponge bath, and rubbing, or a good rub, or a rapid walk in the open air, or going up and down stairs a few times just before retiring will aid in equalizing circulation and promoting sleep.

These ru les are simple and easy of application in the castle or cabin, and may minister to the comfort of thousands who would freely spend money for an anodyne to promote "Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep."

CURE FOR HEAVES.—Heaves can be nearly or quite cured. Cut cornstalks or good straw and mix up with boiled or steamed potatoes; if boiled throw the water away.—Pound them when hot. Horses that do not work hard, can be kept cheaper and in more flesh on the above feed, than on any other feed for the price. Shorts or grains ground, added to the above, will of course improve the quality.

—Coal or gas tar applied about a corn crib will keep the grain from devastation by rats.

—The oldest business in the world—the nursery business.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, not only for family sewing, but for all the stitching I could get to do, from the heaviest beaver to the finest muslin. In six months I made alone on the machine twenty-five coats, seven vests, ten pair of pants, twenty-four shirts, and a number of cloaks, etc.

North East, Pa. MISS L. HARRIS.

The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

New York, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's "Sambuci Wine," and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to imported wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. "Parsons' Purgative Pills" are free from all impure matter, and are mild and healthgiving in their operation.

At this season of the year, cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family.

A gentleman writing from the far west says: "I must have Renne's Pain-killing Magic Oil in the house. It is the best family medicine for curing all kinds of pain I have found, and cost what it will I must have it." And who blames the man? Do you use it, reader?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, and many disagreeable concomitants,—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful remedy. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relaxes the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these combinations that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is a harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as much sought after by the weak as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass is engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.—Indolent sores for which the regular pharmacopoeia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable qualities have a most wonderful effect upon the diseased flesh and completely extirpate the virus which feeds the ulcer or sore. A morbid condition of the skin which is generally a concomitant of discharging ulcers, an occasional dose of Holloway's Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 190 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1868.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:—* * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in this country, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any of Brandreth's pills. I used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India."

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of rhubarb, and destroys in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand expectants

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irritability of temper which feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in the pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing obstructions and giving a healthy flow of gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; mandrake has never been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is were dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup and digest it into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they disorge the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia or Scrofula, if ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years, and who, from weighing 125 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. Of G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements To-Day.

☞ The First National Bank and the Portsmouth Savings Bank, after occupying the same premises for many years —now propose to separate; and we understand that it is probable the National Bank will retain its old officers and location, while the Savings Bank may be removed to another situation, and must elect new officers to the places so long and ably filled, but now declined, by Messrs. Shackford and Lord. The present Bank building was bought jointly by the two companies, several years since, for $5000, and is a neat and creditable structure of its kind.

NUMISMATICS.—Mr. James F. Jenness, book-keeper for Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge of this city, has a collection of rare copper and silver Coins, old and new, numbering about 800. These are arranged on a handsome black walnut frame or tablet, with heavy moulding, and the coins are placed in circular rows about a fine large gilt deer's head, —the whole being the work of Mr. Jenness, and very creditable to his skill and good aste. This display, with some antique documents, dead issues of bank bills, &c., may be seen at the counting-room above alluded to.

SINGULARLY UNFORTUNATE.—A worthy young Irishman, of this city, lost his wife by her being killed on a Railroad, a year or two ago. His second wife, with her first child, died in childbed a few days since, after a terrible surgical operation. Within a few hours of this, a good horse belonging to him fell and was very severely injured; and somebody stole from $50 to $80 belonging to him and his late wife, from a drawer in his house.

☞ An unknown dog killed one of a flock of sheep of Mr. Sheldon's, in pasture on Richards' Avenue, a few nights ago—and of course the City must pay for it, according to law. The only wonder is that the useless cur didn't kill more.

☞ The Masonic Camp at Frost's Point will break up this afternoon. The visitors met a cool reception from the elements and did last year, but not so from mine hosts of the Sagamore, whose attehtion to company gives entire satisfaction.

☞ The third Piscataqua Fair to be held at Portsmouth Sep. 21st to 23d, is not "cabin-cribbed, confined" to any one or two Counties or States, but is open to the competition of the world. This ought to call out such a Fair as was never seen in New Hampshire.

"No pent-up Utica contracts our powers,
But the whole boundless universe is ours."

☞ Prof. Carpenter's Historical Diorama of the World will be again exhibited this evening at the Temple. It comprises views of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, illuminated by a powerful Calcium Light. We commend the exhibition to our readers as an entertainment worthy of patronag.e

☞ The Match Trot which was announced at the Piscataqua Fair Grounds for this afternoon, is postponed until further notice, on account of accident to one of the horses, and sickness and death in the family of one of the principal parties interested.

☞ The papers everywhere are publishing an absurdly false item, that Portsmouth is very sickly. Some Portsmouth may be, but this city was never more healthy—even the amount of infantile disease usual at this season, being much abated.

☞ Farmers or others in want of a close box wagon, for the conveyance of liquids, would do well to look at the new one advertised by Mr. Moses Lord, very cheap.

☞ Let us have peace—let us also have rain. And why not hold the Republican party responsible for the drought of water, as well as the dearth of business, which now prevails in some localities?

☞ The Boston Post says Henry Bartlett ran away from this city six years ago, went to sea as a cabin boy, tried waiting in a New Orleans saloon, then in Kansas city, and now turns out as the heir to $75,000.

☞ A rare chance to purchase a nice and reliable Piano, is that advertised by Mr. T. P. Moses.

☞ Rather tough weather of late for beaching and boating, picnics and camping out.

☞ The loser of a Bunch of Keys can procure them at the Chronicle office.

☞ The National Peace Festival, concerning which, New York was so jealous, was nothing to Bo(a)st-on.

☞ The east wind of Thursday fooled people. It brought clouds and a few rain-drops. Umbrellas and overcoats were in demand, and people generally prepared for a soaker — when the sun came out and grinned at disappointed humanity.

☞ The President has recognized Edward M. Brewer as consul of his Hawaiian Majesty at the ports of New Bedford and Boston, Portsmouth, and Portland.

☞ We learn that Mrs. C. A. Barry, (formerly Mrs. Cary,) is to give a Concert one evening next week at the Temple.

STEAMER APPLEDORE will make a trip down the harbor on Sunday at 2 o'clock, P. M. Tickets for the trip 75 cents.

WAGES of operatives at the Kearsarge Mills were reduced about 14 per cent. on the first of September.

THE NINTH PUBLIC CONCERT by the Cornet Band will be given this evening, somewhere,— we don't know exactly the spot.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle

Morning Chronicle.

The Beauties of Polygamy.

The Utah correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes:

There are several cases of a man marrying both mother and daughter, and the marriage of two or three sisters by one man is quite common. Robert Sharkey, a merchant of this city, married three sisters, one of whom was divorced from her first husband to marry him. They all lived in one house and quite happily, it is said, for several years, when, in some strange manner, they all became convinced that polygamy was wrong. One of the sisters started East, but soon returned and endeavored to make some arrangements for him to put away the other two. There were difficulties in the way, and Sharkey's trouble was so great on the subject that his mind became disordered, and last August he committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. The widowed sisters still live together, and are determined opponents of polygamy. Two of Brigham Young's favorite wives, Clara Decker and Lucy Decker Seely, are sisters, the second having been the widow of Dr. Isaac Seely, of Nauvoo, Illinois.

The Mormon leaders advise a man to marry sisters whenever it can be done, as they usually agree better than others. One family within my knowledge consists of two men and four women, the men's first wives being sisters, and their second wives each a sister of the other man, all living in one house. Or to state it mathematically, A and B first marry sisters, then A marries B's sister and B A's sister. Here is no marriage of blood relations, and yet it looks like a terrible mixture somewhere. The question arises for lawyers; suppose each of the women to have children, what akin are they respectively? And which of them could lawfully marry, according to Levitious and Chancellor Kent?

If polygamy continues, these mixtures are nothing to what must take place in the next generation, for without a chemical analysis, no "heraldry Harvey" could ever succeed in finding the consanguineous circulation, to say nothing of the collateral. "As it now is, it seems like half the children in the city are related in some way or another to the Kimball's, the Pratts or the Youngs, and many of them to all three."

Among my acquaintances is a middle-aged lady living just over the Jordan river, who was the widow of an apostate who died in California, but is now the third wife of a Mormon. The brother of her first husband, now living here, is also an apostate and a personal friend of mine. The lady has a handsome daughter now seventeen years old, the offspring of her first husband and the neice of my friend.

The lady is kind-hearted and hospitable, and in company with my friend I enjoyed a visit at her house very much, as long as we could avoid the subject of Mormonism. Lately this lady's husband has proposed in form for her daughter to marry him, and I can see that it is the strongest trial the mother's faith has had, but such is her devotion to the doctrine that she has given her consent, "if Brother Brigham says it is the will of the Lord."

The daughter, however, assures her uncle that she "will die before she will marry him or any other Mormon." For the sake of peace she says nothing at home, but declares her intention to run away rather than submit. The mother, like many others, says she "would rather see her daughter in the coffin than married to a Gentile, for that would be her eternal ruin for both worlds."

All, however, are not so zealous on this subject, and there is quite a number of Mormon women who think that a mistake has been made somewhere, that polygamy is not of the Lord, that it is not true Mormonism, etc. Those who believe in it speak of it as a "great cross, laid upon them in this world for their exaltation in the next," etc.

Many persons here have told me that they often heard Brigham Young say, in a public sermon, that "the day would come when brothers would marry their sisters, in order to raise up a pure priesthood." One man, an apostate, offered to make an affidavit to that statement, if I desired it.

Time would fail me to tell of the cases of misery brought to my notice, resulting from neglect with which the first wife is too often treated. The Mormons claim that an equal love is shown to all the wives, and that the women are satisfied with this affection. But that this is not and never can be the case, I need say to no one who has the slightest knowledge of the female heart. That polygamy sanctifies the standing of the race is the wildest notion that ever entered the brain of a fanatic.

This city already shows its bad effect of the offspring. The site is 4,400 feet above the level of the sea, in a dry and bracing country, equally free from extremes of heat and cold, and consequently it should be one of the healthiest cities in the world. Exactly the reverse is the fact. The death rate of all the ages is a little more than twice that of the State of Oregon, and greater than that of New York or New Orleans. When we come to children the disparity is still more frightful. By actual statistics it is shown that the mortality among children is greater in Salt Lake City than in any other in America, except New Orleans, and the death rate of Utah is only exceeded by that of Louisiana.

The Mormons have greatly exaggerated the population of this place, which really contains a little less than 18,000 souls and in this small number the sexton's report for October last, the healthiest month of the year, gives the interments at sixty, of which forty-four were children. Last year was unusually healthy, and yet the death rate exceeds that of any other State or Territory west of the Mississippi. The Mormons explain this by saying that their people are generally poor and exposed to hardships, but much of that poverty is directly traceable to their religion.

Another sad fact is the general neglect of medical care, or rather a general tendency to run to wild and absurd schemes of doctoring. They claim that "laying on of hands and the prayer of faith" will heal the sick, and yet no people within my knowledge are so given to "Thomsonianism," "steam doctoring," "yarb medicine," and every other irregular mode of treating the sick. But a few days ago three young children died in the Seventeenth Ward of scarlet fever. In neither case was a physician called; the bishop came and "laid on hands, with the holy anointing," and an old woman treated two of them with a mild pallative, such as is used for a sore throat.

If the patient lives, after such treatment, it is a miracle; and if they die, it is "the will of the Lord." Two-thirds of the polygamists do not and cannot attend properly to their children. Heber C. Kimball had sixty-three sons, of whom only forty-eight are now living. The bishop of one ward, the Fourteenth, has thirty children living, and nearly twenty dead. Joseph Smith had half a dozen spiritual wives; but two sons survived him—both of his legal wife.

There are five men in the city who have, together, seventy wives; they have all told, less than a hundred and fifty children.

A Mormon graveyard is the most melancholy sight on earth. One bishop has seventeen children buried in one row, and the longest grave is not over four feet! If the men have but the common feeling of humanity, how fearfully they are punished for the crime of polygamy. Brighams children are generally healthy, except that the girls mostly have weak eyes, and two of them are nearly blind; but they are well fed, housed and clothed. But such is the exception, and I could mention a dozen men whose houses are full of women, but their children are in the grave.

The Asiatic institution was never meant to flourish on American soil, and has resulted here in a "slaughter of the innocents" which is saddening to contemplate.

MORE CROWDING.—VERITAS writes us follows to the Brooklyn Eagle:

"Doubtless you have heard that we are to have a Torpedo Corps in the Navy, and that circulars from the Honorable Secretary were addressed to the officers of the Navy, giving all who cared to compete for the privileges and honors of that corps an equal opportunity, without regard to rank or position in the service. But perhaps you have not learned that the officer in command at the Norfolk Navy Yard dares to make a special exception in favor of the Line officers, by withdrawing the circulars from the Staff after they were issued.

I deem the presence of Secretary Robeson in our city a fitting opportunity to ask through your columns the cause of the exclusion, and make bold to ask if there is anything in the conduct of the Staff during the war that militates against their success in this field opened to them by the Secretary of the Navy, and closed by the arrogance of the Porter behind the door?

Who projected the torpedo boat that destroyed the ram Albermarle, and to whose untiring energy is due all the honors reaped by Cushing?

A staff officer well known in this vicinity, and a member of the hated Engineer Corps of the Navy, whose offence is that they know too much for their bigoted adversaries of the Line.

But this is not the time or the place to revive the feuds of Line and Staff, and the case of the commanding officer at the Norfolk Yard is only cited as the latest one of the many injuries suffered by the staff officers, and which can only be redressed through the instrumentality of the press, that mighty calcium expressly made to illuminate the dark caverns of wrong, tyranny and fraud."

CHANGE AT NIAGARA FALLS. — The theory that has for some time been discussed with regard to the caving in or wearing away of Niagara has this season found new fuel to add to the argument in its favor. Considerable comment has been going the rounds of the papers for a few weeks with relation to the changed appearance of the Falls from that of last year. The Horse Shoe, it is stated, has evidently given away some thirty feet to the part of the cone where the "green water" is seen, so that the horse shoe appearance is metamorphosed to that of a triangular shape. It is thought that about one hundred and fifty tons of rock must have fallen in on the Horse Shoe alone, and old habitues are taking landmarks to notice the recession that may take place before another year. The American Fall, also, has evidently given way at points to a considerable extent. There is no doubt but that the Niagara is crumbling away and falling back, but the present recession is probably the greatest ever witnessed by any one generation. The heavy ice fields which pass over in the spring, the strong currents and ceaseless wear and tear of time, and the mighty thundering cataract, must inevitably tell heavily upon the rocky crest of the grand old shrine; but of course its falling away must be so slow as not to be observable to the eye, except when, from time to time, some of the immense boulders give way.

LABOR IN KENTUCKY.—Don Piatt gives the following incident of a trip by boat from Cincinnati to Louisville:

A gentleman of tall, portly figure sat near me. He had a rather good head, inclined to baldness, a hooked nose, prominent chin, fresh complexion, and wore his clothes as no other creature born of woman can do, save a Kentuckian. He looked like a lord of creation and talked like a negro.

"Thar they go," he cried, resting his legs upon the guard of the boat and squirting tobacco-juice with the accuracy of a rifle through the opening before him; "thar they go, wheat, oats, corn and grapes, up the sides of the hill till clean over. Don't see anything of that sort over t'other side—not by a long shot. Our cussed fellers in Kentuck don't scratch about in that ar way."

"Probably they enjoy themselves, in their way, quite as much as their more industrious neighbors."

"Yes. When it comes to enjoyment our fellows count ten. They hold full hands, I tell you. But enjoyment is gettin' too costly, you see. It ar'n't what it once was, when a fellow could get blind drunk on a dime. We haven't the niggers, and our cusses find it root hog or die. But they don't root much."

"What do they do for a living?"

"It's hard to tell, stranger. If a chap has any land he's apt to sell it for what he can get. Good many go to the far west; some tend bar or keep billiards—mighty few work. That's about the last thing a Kentucky cuss thinks of."

CROPS IN NORTH CAROLINA.— Gov. Holden says of the crop prospects in North Carolina that they are fully equal to those of 1860, the best ever produced. The wheat crop is larger. Corn also promises to be much larger than that of any previous year. If nothing happens to injure the cotton he thinks it may reach 200,000 bales—the quantity produced in 1860 — which at present prices will bring more than twice as much money into the State as did the crop of that year.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when, to keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medicinal preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
A SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, Missionary in China.
From Rev. R. Tv ford, Missionary in China, now visiting his home in Washington, Pa.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of the Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

BUSINESS AND CURRENCY IN CALIFORNIA.—A San Francisco correspondent of the Providence Journal says that the utter prostration of business there is the all-absorbing topic of conversation. Loans are negotiated at most unheard-of rates. Stocks of every sort are tumbling, and about three hundred per cent. below last year's prices. Building in San Francisco is at a stand-still, and the real estate market is on the decline with nothing doing. Nobody wants to buy, while hundreds are anxious to sell, although not as anxious as they probably will be in a few weeks or days hence. The writer says that the Californians are slowly coming to the conviction that, to supply their great lack of currency for the transaction of business, and to disguise the inevitable decline in prices, they must give up gold and adopt greenbacks. The Sacramento Union, in a recent article upon this general subject, says:

"The real difficulty is that our prices are high, our production is costly; so that when brought into competition with the east we find that we can sell nothing at our rates, and can buy there half that we consume cheaper than we can produce it. Why growl at competition with Chinese labor when it is cheaper labor in the east that beats us? Why thrust from us the west, with its capital and labor, when it is the east that outbids us? Here is our real trouble. Our prices have been high, because we had money more plenty than anything else; our profits have been large, because we had no competition; our capital has failed to accumulate, because we have been wasteful and 'consumed extravagantly'; we cannot compete now because we are cherishing the democratic theory that cheap labor is a curse, and laborers who consume, but are of no profit to the community. Here we stand, with little capital, with high prices, with costly productions, few railroads, deer transportation, with valley lands locked up by speculators, and foothills kept out of market by lack of surveys."

Sometimes, in New England, we see it suggested in a newspaper, that if we had a specie currency, and if also the democratic party ruled the State, it would be a great step toward prosperity. But California has been under democratic rule these five years (with the single exception of the vote for President)—and she has a golden currency—but alas! as we read above, prosperity does not come, and her papers complain of adversity.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

SANDOWN, Sept. 1.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the stockholders and friends of the Nashua & Rochester Railroad was held yesterday at Derry Lower Village. Hon. Thomas J. Melvin of Chester called the meeting to order, and a permanent organization was effected by the choice of Silas F. Leonard of Chester for Chairman, and Maj. George Marston of Sandown, Secretary.

Judge Geo. Y. Sawyer of Nashua being called upon to speak, expressed himself as being highly gratified to witness the interest manifested in the proposed road. He thought the State needed more railroads, there have been none built for 20 years, while business has increased very much in that time. The proposed road from Nashua to Rochester would join the East with the West, and form the best route from Portland to New York. The Judge went on to show how much the towns on the line would be benefitted. Young people now go away to seek their fortunes elsewhere, who, if the road should be built, would stay at home.

O. C. Moore of the Nashua Telegraph was called for and addressed the meeting. He thought the success of the enterprise depended upon the action of this meeting. He gave some account of what has been done in Nashua and other places in the way of raising funds to build the road. In choosing Directors, we should select the best men, without regard to locality. The Road if built, would command a good deal of travel, and would be a good investment for the stockholders.

Gen. Alfred Hoitt of Durham next spoke. He thought the building of this road would check the extortions of other roads. The poor man would be benefitted, and people who have farms can sell them to better advantage. The Gen. stated that he had signed for 100 shares of stock, and rather than not see the Road built, he would double his subscription, — which remark called forth much applause.

After remarks by Judge Sawyer and others, in regard to the manner of choosing Directors, the meeting adjourned to 2.30 P. M. Before assembling, the friends of each of the two proposed routes held separate meetings and selected two names to represent them on the board of Directors. The Nashua and Rochester Delegations also consulted together, and the result of the several conferences was the presentation of the following ticket for a Board of Directors:—Alfred Hoitt of Durham, Nicholas V. Whitehouse of Rochester, Jothan D. Otterson and Gilman Scriptures, of Nashua, Charles Waters of Groton, Mass., Nelson Ordway of Hampstead, George Marston of Sandown, Hazen R. Underhill of Derry, and Thomas J. Melvin of Chester, who were subsequently elected by a unanimous vote. Nelson Ordway declined to serve, and Josiah C. Eastman of the same town was chosen in his stead. A vote was passed requesting the Directors to fill up the stock books, after which the meeting adjourned, with high hopes that this great enterprise will now be speedily pushed forward to its completion. DEATH OF JUDGE BARTLETT.—Judge Bradbury died at his residence on Nottingham Square, Wednesday, Sept. 1. "Judge Bartlett has been in usual health until the time of his death having retired the night before about 10 o'clock," we learn from the News Letter, "without complaining of illness. As it has been his custom for a few years not to rise until about the middle of the forenoon, no one entered his room until about 11 o'clock next morning, when they found him dead and cold." He had been affected for several years with a chronic complaint, so that his "usual health" was feeble, and the silent close of life not surprising.

Judge Bartlett was a native of Nottingham, and has been a leading man there, having kept a public house and store on the Square when that was a centre of trade. He commanded a company of militia which came to Portsmouth in 1813, and he and his company volunteered to garrison Fort Sullivan, on the Maine side of the river. He was for some years, one of the side judges in Rockingham County, (associated with Judges Pickering and Butler,) and is well remembered by the community generally. He never missed attending town meeting since he became of age. He leaves four sons and three daughters. His age was 87.

—In view of the new combinations and new schemes in the political world, the Detroit Free Press, the leading Democratic paper in Michigan, reminds its friends that success cannot be secured by them, or even rendered probable, without the display of more wisdom than was exhibited in the National Convention at Chicago in 1864, or at New York in 1868.

NOT WANTED NOR ASKED FOR.—A critic, who finds fault with the new county almshouse, says:—"It is not what the county wanted or would have asked for."—If by the County, he means the People of the County—then they did not want it nor ask for it,—they gave a great majority against it.—But if he means the County Representatives who voted for it, — then they have such a House as their appropriation would build, and as their committee did build.—Now that we have it, however, let the towns which are benefitted, make the most of it.

☞ In Newburyport, on the 30th ult., a horse ran away through the streets, which were crowded at the time. A young man named George Parshley, of Stafford, seeing the danger to the two ladies who were in the buggy, as well as those in the street, seized the horse by the bit. The horse reared so that Parshley was in danger of being trampled to death, but he got upon the back of the animal and controlled him. The deed was a brave one.

—Winterport, Me., at a recent meeting, voted to loan the credit of the town for $30,000, and also subscribe five per cent. of its valuation, or $30,000 more, to the stock of the Winterport Railroad.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, not only for family sewing, but for all the stitching I could get to do, from the heaviest beaver to the finest muslin. In six months I made alone on the machine twenty-five coats, seven vests, ten pair of pants, twenty-four shirts, and a number of cloaks, etc.

North East, Pa. MISS L. HARRIS.

The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

New York, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's "Sambuci Wine," and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to important wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgative pills and vile nauseous stuff called family medicines. SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants,—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possess such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is at the less as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.—Indolent sores for which the regular pharmacopœia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable qualities have a most wonderful effect upon the diseased flesh and complete it without the vitiated blood which feeds the sore. As a morbid condition of the whole system is generally a concomitant of discharging ulcers, an occasional dose of HOLLOWAY'S Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my early voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—lost weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1868.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:—* * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same name, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous and dangerous drugs which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have long been the most advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, or when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove any obstructions, relieve the sick headache, put the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heeling, and to stop fevers; they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient dies and they say, "Consumption."

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. The cough is a symptom of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation, ulcerating and decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, to rally all the energies of the system, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, the Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the early last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally consult Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. dlyja4

BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, Sept. 2nd. — Full board present. Amos S. Foster was granted leave to encumber Middle Street to build.

The Committee appointed for that purpose, reported an Ordinance to regulate the action of the Board of Health in regard to boarding vessels at Quarantine.

Ald. Miller reported the need of a Police Officer at the South Burying Ground and South Mill Bridge, at least on Sunday afternoons and evenings—and the matter will be attended to.

Ald. Nowell inquired respecting the lotof land belonging to the City, on Middle and Madison Streets—and as it is has not been sold, Ald. Nowell and Slater were authorized to sell it. Ald. Miller was opposed to the City selling it at all, and thought it was worth double the lot farther out and opposite that Mr. Foster recently paid $650 for.

The resignation of Ezekiel Burns as Police Officer was accepted.

Among the bills passed, was one of $55 for Mrs. O'Donnell, for 330 hours' work in cleaning High School House, at 1 shilling per hour.

Thos. Wardwell and M. J. Vaughan were accepted as bonds for Policeman Stearns.

Wm. Ward, by his counsel, A. R. Hatch, Esq., again complained of the grade of McDonough St., and after considerable discussion the much controverted matter was again referred to the Com. on Streets.

Messrs. John Christie and others petitioned that the section of Middle St. between Cass Street and Lafayette Road be placed in charge of the Street Commissioner, instead of the out-of-town Surveyors, so that the privileges of sidewalks, &c., may be enjoyed. Referred to Com. on Streets.

The School Com. of Ward Two petitioned that the Primary School may be removed from the basement of the Court House to the chamber over the new Ward Room in State St. Referred to Com. on School House to report expense of same.

Petition to allow removal of tree in front of store late of J. H. Bailey on Market Square, was referred to Com. on Streets.

Voted to request the Street Commissioner to repair McDonough Street at his earliest convenience. The Commissioner was also authorized to remove the stand for Band concerts to and from Haymarket Square.

The Creek Cess-Pool nuisance was cussed and discussed, and finally the Com. on Streets were requested to confer with the owners and neighbors, and report how much can be raised toward filling up the horrid hole.

The Mayor and Ald. Nowell and Cotton were appointed a Com. to confer with the City Physician relative to small pox patients.

Adjourned for one week.

☞ We were glad to greet in our office on Saturday, Mr. John J. Mason, formerly of the Messenger and Ballot newspapers in this city; and since, for many years, employed in Boston—in the Traveller office, then publisher of the Daily Voice, and latterly and now as proof-reader, &c., in the editorial department of the Daily Advertiser. Mr. Mason is a good printer, and an efficient newspaper man, and the way he sticks to business is shown by the fact that he has not taken a day for himself before for eight years—which is too snug for anybody, especially in that most wearing of all occupations, editorial life. He is spending a few days in the city, with his family—and all such as he are richly entitled to the freedom of the city.

THE SALEM KNIGHTS TEMPLAR had a jolly time at the Sagamore during their two days' stay. On Thursday evening they invited the guests at the Hotel to supper, and the Germania Band gave a promenade concert which closed with a lively hop. Everybody and their neighbors went in for a good time. The K. T's returned home by special train at 4 o'clock, Friday afternoon, and made a fine appearance as they marched through our streets. The Germanians made the occasion a time for playing some of their best music.

Conductor Philbrick's train took the visitors to Newburyport 20 miles, in 24 1-2 minutes. There were two cars; and the engineer of the "Excelsior" was Mr. Wm. M. Calder, who drove his iron-horse back in 23 minutes. Pretty lively work for him and his fireman.

☞ Rev. Mr. Bickwell, of Bath, Me., is to preach at the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

KITTERY.—We learn that a strong feeling is prevalent among the business men of Kittery and Portsmouth, in favor of making the bridge between the two towns a free one, and that steps will soon be taken to effect it. The abolishment of the bridge would be a public benefit and add largely to the business of Kittery and greatly increase the taxable property. The time has come when there should be no toll bridges. Massachusetts has recently made all the toll bridges in that State free and we may well emulate her in this particular and put an end to them in this State.—Biddeford Dem.

☞ The Boston Herald says that Mr. Bessom, the champion backward walking pedestrian, is to undertake the task of walking from Portsmouth to Boston, backwards, a distance of sixty-seven miles, in five days, finding his own way, for a wager of $1000. He is to begin on Monday next, starting from Portsmouth at 11 o'clock. Besson lately walked forty miles in 10:05:42.

ACCIDENT.—A son of Albion Wilson, at Christian Shore, while firing an old gun, had his face cut by the bursting of the piece, which shattered the lock and blew out the tube. The youngster was fortunate to escape without more serious injury. He was attended by Dr. N. L. Folsom.

☞ Wm. Abbott, Samuel Roach and Frank Evans appeared before the Police Court, on Friday, on the charge of stealing old junk from a vessel lying at one of our wharves. Abbott was held in the sum of $300.

☞ The body of a marine was picked up near Whale's Back Light House, Friday afternoon, by a Boston yacht. It is said that his name is Johnson and that he fell from the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard last July.

THE CORNET BAND gave their ninth Serenade Concert from the Temple of Music on Market Square, to a numerous auditory, on Friday evening,

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

STEAMER APPLEDORE will make a trip down the harbor on Sunday at 2 o'clock, P. M. Tickets for the trip 75 cents.

IMPERIALISM.—The Concord Patriot, which professes to be a very democratic paper, has an article speaking favorably of the present Emperor of France, and closing with these words:

"We wish we had as good a Government as his."

We never knew, before, that democracy and despotism meant the same thing:—and we have always been taught, in this land, to consider our Republican Institutions preferable to the rule of Kings and Emperors in Europe and Asia,—but the new Patriot-ic democracy calls for an Emperor!—If Jeff Davis and the rebels had prevailed, an Empire might have been set up, to which the Patriot might have bowed down!—but now, calling for the Empire, is as vain as the call for Rocks and Mountains to fall on the Copperheads, and hide them from deserved wrath.

THE FAIRS.—To all intereted we would say, that there is no quarrel this year between Exeter and our big brother, Portsmouth, about the Fair. We intend to fraternize, go down and see them and have them come up and see us. "Let us have peace."—Exeter News Letter.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 257 miles of which 51 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION; the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 s5. 10. "
" Frankfort. 87 fir. 50 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

Editors of Chronicle — A friend of mine, I. P. Rollins of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, sends us an account of the late Solar Eclipse of 7th August—This Eclipse was total in part of Iowa.—The description is very interesting to astronomers, and may be to your numerous readers.

—— Yours, Tyro.

The Eclipse.

The interest manifested by the people generally who were so fortunate as to live within the line of observation of the total eclipse of the 7th inst., was perhaps as great in this vicinity as elsewhere, and every one was in readiness to witness the great astronomical display. The day was a most beautiful one, with cloudless sky, bright sun and clear atmosphere—everything in earth, air and sky seeming to have by common consent determined to give the denizens of this lower world every facility for observing this grand and impressive display of astronomical science. To describe intelligently this grand and fascinating scene is impossible, as words are inadequate to fully portray the terrible yet enchanting grandeur of the occasion, the frightful yet beautiful scene; and perhaps among the thousands who witnessed it, no two saw or felt alike, and no one is able to give expression to the feelings aroused and the impressions made during the enactment of this grand celestial drama. This being true, it follows as a consequence that all descriptions, save those of accurate and purely scientific character must be imperfect and discordant. We shall, therefore, content ourself with attempting only a plain description of the grand event as presented to us through the most ordinary mediums of observation.

At 7 min. of 4 o'clock, we saw the first faint line of darkness impinge upon the sun, to the north west. Gradually this darkness crept forward, reducing the disc of the sun to a crescent which became less and less. By slow degrees the light was devoured and a deep shadow—deep yet soft and mellow—darkened the sky, and enveloped the earth to the north-west, while the east and south was lit up with a peculiar yellow glow, strangely soft and beautiful. Gradually the shadow to the north grew deeper and deeper, the yellow to the east and south grew fainter and fainter still; doves flew to their cotes, chickens went toward and looked wistfully up to their roosting places, cocks crowed as when the shades of evening gather about the earth, and geese marched in haste to their night quarters, and at 11 min. of 5 o'clock the entire earth and sky were wrapped in an enchanting gloom — a darkness which, though not darkness, yet a shadow that could be felt.— the eclipse was total! Venus and Mercury shone forth brightly and beautifully, near the now darkened sun, the one on east, the other on the west: a halo, bright and beautiful, surrounded the dark disc in the heavens, rays of struggling light seemed to dart athwart the sky from beneath this disc, and the scene presented above, beneath and around—everywhere,— was one of such majestic grandeur and awful sublimity that all nature seemed to stand in silence and in humble adoration of the greatness, majesty and power of Him who spake and it was done, commanded and it stood fast!

Suddenly, at about 9 minutes of 5 o'clock, a blaze of dazzling light leaped from the northern edge of the black disc, the shadow upon the earth grew lighter, the skies became less dark. Venus and Mercury disappeared, and slowly, as the dark body rolled onward, the golden sunlight crept with gentle pace across the earth and sky, and at 12 minutes to 6 o'clock all nature smiled as is her wont when robed in the brightness of an unclouded sun,—the eclipse was gone, and there was not a single mark on earth or in sky to indicate that the greatest event in the history of astronomical science had just occurred.

Thus came and passed the total eclipse of the sun of August 7th, 1869,—a scene which when it occurs again, will be viewed and described by those of another generation, while we of the present lie bid behind the great eclipse of life—the King of Terrors.

New Hampshire Items.

A. M. Foristall had his hand caught in a belt of the Troy Blanket Company's Mill, Wednesday morning, Sept. 1, and he was carried over the shaft, tearing his arm off below the elbow and breaking it above. It was amputated just below the shoulder.

A staging of the "new mill" at Troy, Wednesday, gave way, dropping two men 30 feet with a thousand of brick upon them, seriously injuring both men.

At Milford, on Monday, Moses Ordway met with a singular accident while passing from the inside to the outside of a building upon which he was at work. He passed out by one of the windows, ten feet from the ground, and as he leaped out, the hook of a suspending chain caught his throat, penetrating to the root of his tongue. He clutched the chain with his hands and held himself in suspension until his brother workmen came to his assistance. His wound did not prove serious.

On the 31st ult. a heavy storm took place on Mount Washington. Ice formed on the telegraph wire two inches thick and broke it down in several places. Under such treatment, the trains are laden with persons returning from the mountains and Lake. The last train to Boston from Concord on the 30th ult., had twenty-one cars.

Snow, enough to be seen, is reported on the line of the Northern and Passumpsic Railroads, in spots. Patriot.

At a trial of steam fire engines at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on Wednesday, the Amoskeag machine built at Manchester, was decided the best.

Justice Henry A. Bellows has been appointed, by the Governor and Council, Chief Justice, vice Judge Perley who has reached the constitutional limit of 70 years. Wm. L. Foster, Esq., of Concord, is appointed Associate Justice vice Bellows.

Oliver Pillsbury of Henniker, has been appointed State Insurance Commissioner, and Thomas E. Hatch of Keene, W. A. Sanborn of Guilford and Dr. W. W. Fletcher of Concord, Fish Commissioners.

THE FARMER'S SHOP.—Every farmer should have a shop fitted up with such tools as are used by the carpenter, joiner, machinist and blacksmith, or with those that would be valuable in making repairs. Above all, a foot-lathe is very desirable. A good foot-lathe costs from sixty to one hundred dollars, and the money is well expended in the purchase. Articles of use and ornament, made of wood and ivory and metal, may be turned out by the foot-lathe convenient for use in the house or on the farm. The practice on the lathe is one of the most fascinating pastimes for a stormy day or an unemployed evening.

Apart from its use in making and repairing, it is a pleasant companion for the business-haunted and brain-weary. One who adopts it as a companion of his leisure hours will soon become an adept; and the more he uses and becomes acquainted with it, the better he will like it. He will be surprised at the number and elegance of the little articles of use and ornament he can produce from the rough material, and at the pleasure that the practice of a mechanical art can afford.—Exchange.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in his INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, and discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 20 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the probability of success.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN SUCCESSFUL APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."
